BEVERLY HILLS, March 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] At Frisco, one of only three distinctive cities left in the United States which was built, not just assembled, (San Antonio and New Orleans are the others) yesterday when thousands of police from the White House to Claremore were fighting the Reds to keep them from marching, Mayor Rolph helped 'em form in line, had his men show them where the City Hall is, fixed a stand for 'em to speak on, thanked 'em for coming to see him and a good time was had by all except the women who were unable to get arrested. But ain't it funny only one man in public office in America had sense of humor enough to kid 'em along. But that's why it's Frisco and why Rolph has been Mayor since Balboa stumbled over the Pacific.

MacDonald Shows Strain of Multiple Worries But Keeps Cheerful

LONDON, March 7. (AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, buoyant in spirit but with his face showing the strain of bearing the double burden of disarmament negotiations and Parliamentary duties, today relaunched the London Naval Conference.

Under his chairmanship today the five chief delegates—with Aristide Briand representing the French for Premier Tardieu—gathered around the conference table in St. James' Palace. They surveyed the work done and problems remaining, then plunged into the tasks of their individual delegations. The work continued with a rush all day, meetings following in quick succession at St. James' Palace and at the various headquarters.

RUM BUYING CONDONED

Court Declares It No Crime

Ruling Holds Purchase Does Not Abet Violation of Prohibition Law

BOSTON, March 7. (AP)—Federal Judge Morton today handed down a decision ruling that purchase of liquor is not a crime under the national prohibition act. The decision was given in the case of James Farrar of Watertown, recently indicted for purchasing two pints of liquor. Judge Morton's decision approximately covered ten typewritten pages.

Farrar's counsel had moved the indictment be quashed on the grounds that Congress did not intend to make the purchase of liquor a crime. After lengthy argument Judge Morton quashed the indictment.

Asst. U. S. Dist.-Atty. Elihu D. Stone immediately took steps to appeal the case to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

QUOTES HIGH COURT

In his decision Judge Morton quoted a Supreme Court decision which set forth that "no person shall manufacture, purchase for sale, sell" liquor, and referred to Section 6 of the prohibition law.

"The language of Section 6 is similar," he said. "Both sections relate to the same subject, control of permitted liquor. This decision comes close to being a decisive authority against the government's contention.

"The same view seems to have been uniformly held by prosecuting officers and by the public at large for more than ten years.

CRIME NOT AIDED

"As I construe the indictment, it does not charge the defendant with aiding and abetting the sale of liquor. Even if it does, no crime will be charged. It has been repeatedly held that the buyer is not ipso facto an aider and abettor of the seller and the government counsel concede that no other relation between the defendant and Rotondo existed in this case."

The Rotondo referred to was charged with sale of two pints of liquor to Farrar as two undercover men looked on.

PROHIBITION OFFICIALS SILENT ON DECISION

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—Prohibition officials declined to discuss the action of Federal Judge Morton in Boston in holding that James W. Farrar had not violated the national prohibition law in purchasing liquor, but they said it was the first test case in which a purchaser had faced a Federal court on the single charge that the purchase alone was a violation of the law.

Officials said that whether any further action toward an appeal from the decision is taken will be decided by the United States Attorney at Boston, but Commissioner Doran pointed out that the Prohibition Bureau had prosecuted purchasers of liquor only where some other element of prohibition law violation was involved.

Prohibition officials have not proceeded against the purchasers, he said, because Section 6 of the national prohibition law which prohibits the purchase, sale or possession of liquor is regarded as applying only to nonbeverage liquor.

The section was written into the law at the insistence of druggists and patent medicine manufacturers, who maintained that the original prohibition act did not provide them with sufficient protection, officials said.

"EYE" READS STEEL'S HEAT

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—Discovery of a substitute for the thermometer, a photo-electric eye that literally sees temperature, was announced here tonight.

It is not a universal substitute but another industrial specialist, a robot said to do one important thing in steel-manufacture never before possible. It looks on white-hot steel and reads instantly to a fraction of a unit a searing heat of thousands of degrees. But it is not good for the back porch on a hot day, for it doesn't work below 1000 deg.

The eye was explained to the American Electric Railway Association at the Westinghouse Lighting Institute by J. V. Brelsky, research engineer of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. He said it is expected to save the American steel industry millions of dollars annually.

Because of uncertainty in present methods of determining the temperatures of molten steel, he explained, a certain percentage turns out inferior and is scrapped, the loss being sufficient to erect a score of skyscraper buildings annually. The practiced human eye has furnished the only generally workable method of estimating the steel temperature from its glow.

Even the thermocouple, a pair of wires that can be thrust into the hottest steel and that will record the temperature to within hundredths of 1 deg., is not efficient because it requires seven to eight minutes for a reading.

That is too slow. The photo-electric eye operates as fast as sight, its measuring stick being the light emitted from the glowing metal. It runs a meter calibrated in degrees of temperature and registers changes when the human eye can scarcely see a difference in the color of the glow.

TAFT HAS ANOTHER GOOD DAY

Physicians Announce His Condition as Unchanged Since Earlier Bulletin

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—The condition of William Howard Taft was reported by his physicians tonight as unchanged since their bulletin of this morning, which said he "seems a little better."

No formal bulletin was issued tonight, but Dr. Francis R. Hagner said that when he visited the former Chief Justice this evening he found no change in his condition. The patient, he reported, had spent a good day, however.

The morning bulletin had pointed out that "the change in his condition from day to day is almost negligible."

Mrs. Helen Taft Manning, Taft's daughter, arrived from Philadelphia tonight. Her coming here is said not to have been prompted by any change in her father's condition.

After spending from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. inspecting sites for a possible take-off he announced he will attempt a flight tomorrow.

GANDHI MAY LAUNCH HIS DRIVE TODAY

AHMADABAD (India) March 7. (AP)—A crisis in Mahatma Gandhi's civil disobedience campaign for independence of India may be provoked over the week-end by the arrest at Borsad, Bombay presidency, today of Vallabhai Patel, one of Gandhi's chief lieutenants.

Gandhi, who had planned to start his campaign with a pioneer band of fifty next Wednesday, announced tonight the arrest of Patel might cause him to revise his plans and start the march opening the civil disobedience demonstrations tomorrow or Sunday.

The strained relation between the Hindu leader and the Indian government became plain today with the publication of a terse and formally noncommittal reply from Lord Irwin, Viceroy of India, to Gandhi's ultimatum of Tuesday informing the government that if independence were not granted he would begin his campaign immediately.

The Viceroy's answer was signed by his private secretary. It read:

"Dear Mr. Gandhi:—His Excellency the Viceroy desires me to acknowledge your letter of Monday, March 3. He regrets to learn that you contemplate a course of action which is clearly bound to involve violation of the law and danger to the public peace.

HOOVER SIGHTS SPEEDY GAIN IN EMPLOYMENT

Normalcy Forecast in Sixty Days; Only Twelve States Now Seriously Affected

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 7. (Exclusive)—Unemployment of a distressing character is confined mainly to twelve of the forty-eight States and conditions everywhere are improving with indications that the labor situation will be restored to near normalcy within the next sixty days, according to an analysis made today by President Hoover, Secretary of Commerce Lamont and Secretary of Labor Davis.

The two Cabinet officials, now engaged in their monthly survey of business and unemployment, furnished the President with a memorandum in which they estimated that the number of persons out of work was from 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 greater than a year ago.

As Secretary Davis had previously placed the total number of unemployed at 3,000,000 this would indicate that only from three-eighths to one-half is due to abnormal conditions arising from the stock market crash.

In addition, Secretaries Lamont and Davis said there was rather widespread reasonable unemployment which was rapidly righting itself. They made no new estimate of the total of unemployed but both officials agreed that the volume is one-third to one-half that which the nation suffered following the last two financial disturbances, ten years ago, and twenty years ago.

HOOVER'S WORK EFFECTIVE

The President and his Cabinet advisers agreed in the opinion based on the latest reports of labor authorities throughout the country that the volume of abnormal unemployment is relatively unimportant in thirty-six of the States and that generally the forces of recovery are steadily gaining strength. The enthusiastic response of the nation to the President's plea for intensive construction and improvement programs has had the effect, it was declared, of offsetting to a great extent the results that might naturally have been expected to follow such a collapse as that felt in the securities markets last fall.

Mr. Hoover discussed the unemployment problem for several hours today with Secretaries Lamont and Davis, Francis I. Jones, of the United States Employment Service, and Dr. Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce. Afterward the President was represented as being altogether optimistic that the measures taken to relieve unemployment would be effective within the thirty-to-sixty-day period specified by the two Cabinet heads.

The States seriously affected by abnormal unemployment were not listed by the Cabinet officers, in their memorandum, and consequently were not named by the President. Mr. Hoover discussed the situation at some length at his bi-weekly press conference this afternoon. After the conference Secretaries Lamont and Davis made public their memorandum to the executive.

SURVEY'S CONCLUSIONS

"The departments of Commerce and Labor," the President said, "are engaged in the usual monthly survey of business and unemployment and especially of the results obtained from the measures which have been in progress since the last of November to reduce unemployment and the hardships following the dislocation from the stock exchange crash. The survey is not as yet complete. There are, however, certain conclusions that are evident.

"(1.) Unemployment amounting to distress is in the main concentrated in twelve States. The authorities in the remaining thirty-six States indicate only normal seasonal unemployment or that the minor abnormal unemployment is being rapidly absorbed.

"(2.) The low point of business and unemployment was the latter part of December and early January. Since that time employment has been slowly increasing and the situation is much better today than at that time.

"(3.) Nation-wide response to the request for increased construction and improvement work by public authorities, railroads, utilities, and industries is having a most material effect. Construction contracts in these categories in January and February were from 40 per cent to 45 per cent higher than ever known in those months. The total construction work for 1930 seems assured to be larger than even 1926.

WORSE IN OTHER CRASHES

"(4.) The undertaking to maintain wages has been held.

"(5.) The amount of unemployment is, in proportion to the number of workers, considerably less

Loss of Life May Exceed 500, High Estimate in Stricken Sections

PARIS, March 7. (AP)—While President Doumergue and Premier Tardieu left Paris tonight to visit the regions of Central and Southern France devastated by floods, the sympathies of all France and all the world flowed toward the victims.

Offers of money as well as sympathy are beginning to multiply. Parliament today voted 100,000,000 francs ($4,000,000) for relief of the stricken districts. President Doumergue has made a personal contribution of 20,000 francs, while Ministers and undersecretaries of State followed with 80,000 francs. Pope Pius contributed 50,000, and business houses have given 100,000 francs.

The Protestant Federation of France gave 100,000 francs late today, and the contributions are coming in so fast that a committee, headed by the Bank of France, has been organized to take charge of them.

The swollen waters have done their worst and found their way to sea. Meanwhile, funeral processions are passing alongside the ruins where workmen are digging into crumbled buildings for other bodies.

The loss of life now appears certain to equal if not exceed the highest estimate—500.

CHURCH WANTS HAITI FREED

Catholics Join Group Advocating End of Occupation; Commission Hears of Violence

PORT-AU-PRINCE (Haiti) March 7. (AP)—The Catholic church in Haiti, representing more than half the people, today joined the federated opposition groups in their movement for independent legislative elections and the end of American occupation.

This unprecedented decision was announced to President Hoover's investigating commission by Archbishop Conan and Bishop Legouaze when the commissioners paid a visit to the head of the Haitian church. It was made despite the fact that, according to law, priests are paid by the government and are in a sense its employees.

The Archbishop told the commissioners that the bishops of all the Haitian dioceses after polling the priests in their jurisdiction had decided they could not help but participate in the effort of the people to obtain their freedom from dictatorship and to re-establish popular government.

FOREIGN-BORN CLERGY

Making clear that he had no personal feeling against President Louis Borno, he declared that "the clergy will rejoice with all its heart when the present situation is ended and will joyfully chant a te deum of solemn thanksgiving."

He said the church had "learned with joy of the appointment of the commission and since then has been discussing the matter."

Pointing out that the Haitian clergy were almost entirely foreign-than one-half (previously only one-third) of that which resulted from the crashes of 1907-08, and 1920-22 at this period of the situation.

"(6.) Measures taken to ameliorate interest rates have resulted in continuous decrease since December, and money is available at lower rates for business and commercial purposes. One result is an increasing volume of bond issues have been placed for public improvements.

"Available money for mortgage purposes of home building and agriculture have lagged behind other forms of credit. But a decrease in the mass of policy holders asking for loans from the insurance companies and the action recently taken by the Federal Reserve System should result in increased supplies of credit, especially for residential building, which in turn has lagged behind other construction.

"(7.) All the evidences indicated that the worst effects of the crash upon employment will have been passed during the next sixty days with the amelioration of seasonal unemployment, the gaining strength of other forces and the continued co-operation of the many agencies actively co-operating with the government to restore business and to relieve distress."

WORKERS ESTIMATED

"The number of persons engaged in gainful occupations in the country is probably 45,000,000 or 46,000,000, of whom about 25,000,000 to 26,000,000 are employees. There are no detailed statistics as to the unemployed and that can only be approximated. The forthcoming census will show the first real determination of unemployment.

"Upon a basis of a canvass of trades employing some 17,000,000 people, and applying the same ratio to the whole, we arrive at an estimated decrease of perhaps 1,000,000 and certainly not more than 1,250,000 in the number of persons employed at this date, as compared with one year ago. To estimate the total unemployed an addition to such number must be made for the winter seasonal unemployment and the number always idle in the shifts from one employment to another. What the total number is cannot be estimated, but every evidence indicates that the volume is one-third to one-half that we suffered in the last two previous great disturbances.

"The normal seasonal unemployment in the building trades at this time of year is about 30 per cent, while returns show actual unemployment in this field to be about 40 per cent at this time, or an abnormal number of about 10 per cent. In addition to the building trades, workers in agriculture and in certain branches of many manufactures and transportation which are of a seasonal character naturally flock to the cities in winter and increase their burden of unemployment. For example, a good deal of present unemployment in ports on the Great Lakes is due to winter closing of lake transportation and will soon be relieved.

JOBS INCREASING

"Various surveys show that based upon all trades there has been an increase in employment in the country of somewhere from 600,000 to 1,000,000 since the low point at the beginning of this year. In factory industries as a whole employment has increased about 8 per cent in this period. The following are among the industries which show improvement: Automobiles, car building and railway supplies, iron and steel, agricultural implements and electrical trades, millinery, shipbuilding. The situation in some other trades has been either stationary or showing slight declines, the latter being particularly those industries affected by changes in the tariff.

"The distribution of abnormal unemployment shows that for thirty-six States the amount is unimportant and any pressure is being cared for by local authorities. The unemployment is, therefore, concentrated in twelve States and is concentrated in the large industrial centers.

"The forces of recovery are steadily gaining strength; the winter seasonal unemployment will soon relax and, therefore, the next thirty to sixty days should show much further improvement.

"It would assist greatly during this period if every business concern and every householder able to do so would survey their situation as to repairs, clean-ups, and betterments that must be undertaken sooner or later, and have them put in hand now with view to relieving the immediate distress in their localities. It is, of course, of paramount importance that the governmental bodies, the railroads, public utilities and industries should continue their able co-operation toward recovery by every prudent expansion of their construction and betterment programs."

MONTHLY TREND SHOWN

In addition to the memorandum, the Cabinet officials furnished the President with an index showing in specific figures the trend of employment by months from last October up to February 17. The index figure in October, 1929, was 98.3. It dropped to 86.0 on December 30 but had climbed back up to 92.8 on February 17, last. Between October and December 30 there was a decrease of 12.5 per cent and between the latter date and February 17 there was an increase of 7.9 per cent, or a recovery of all but 4.6 per cent in a little more than six weeks.

In Congress, Representative Johnson, Republican, Nebraska, raised today the proposal for starting extensive relief work in connection with constructing flood reservoirs for the Mississippi River and tributaries. He urged it as a relief to unemployment.

Although Congress already has before it administration-sponsored legislation calling for the expenditure of millions of dollars in public buildings, Representative Leech, Republican, Pennsylvania, introduced a measure asking appropriation of $50,000,000 for this purpose as a means of relieving unemployment.

ALL NAMED IN BANK CASE SURRENDER

Two Angelenos and One New York ex-Employee of Keyston Make Bail

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7. (Exclusive)—Ray S. Rossitter, resident partner in the Los Angeles office of Leib, Keyston & Co., and Charles S. Clay, an employee of the Los Angeles office, surrendered here today on Federal grand jury indictments charging conspiracy to embezzle $550,000 from the Bank of Italy through three former employees of that bank, who assertedly used the funds to speculate on the stock market.

Rossitter's bond of $15,000 was supplied by Robert Ghea, secretary of Paraffine Companies, Inc., and William H. Ulfelder, local capitalist. A bonding company supplied $5000 for Clay.

While Rossitter and Clay were posting bond before Commissioner Fisk here, Elmer J. Griffin, former employee of the San Francisco office of Leib, Keyston, surrendered in New York City and posted $5000 bond there, thus accounting for all nine of the men indicted by the Federal body.

Others of the Leib, Keyston organization indicted are George N. Keyston, the senior partner and president of the San Francisco Stock Exchange; Douglas Alexander, partner, and Claud Galmarino, employee.

Marc Seide, former secretary to the American customs collector, David P. Johnson, severely criticised the collector before the Hoover commission today, charging that white officials used physical violence on negro employees at the customhouse.

He accused Johnson of having slapped Antione Hyacinthe on December 4, after Hyacinthe had made a minor clerical error. He said the police had arrested several employees who interceded for Hyacinthe, and added that he himself had saved Johnson's life during trouble growing out of the incident.

EFFORT OF JAPANESE TO SAVE SHIP FAILS

TOKIO, March 7. (AP)—A fortnight's efforts to save the steamship Alabama Maru, which went aground near the mouth of Tokio Bay February 22, last, have proved fruitless. The freighter, bound from Seattle to Yokohama when she ran aground, was breaking up today under the pounding of rough seas. The ship's passengers and crew were removed to safety shortly after she ran aground.

SCHACHT QUITS REICHSBANK JOB

Germany Amazed at Action of Leading Financier

He Takes Step as Protest on New Young Plan

Effect on Reparation Pact Remains to be Seen

BERLIN, March 7. (AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, stormy petrel of Germany's political and economic life for the last few months, today presented his resignation as president of the Reichsbank at a meeting of the directorate.

His action came as a startling surprise to his supporters and opponents alike and the stock market reacted quickly, some shares falling off from 15 to 17 points.

Resignation is expected to have an influence on the progress of the Young plan and its connected legislation—the Polish liquidation agreement—in Parliament.

ISSUE IN DOUBT

While at the moment the alignment of parties to both of these issues cannot be foretold, it is widely believed that Dr. Schacht's dramatic resignation may spur the German people to induce all parties at least to give the Young plan and the Polish agreement a final and fearful scrutiny.

For after all Dr. Schacht, in giving his reasons for resignation, reiterated only the opinion that has been heard many times in Germany since the last Hague conference—that the present version of the Young plan is a mere distortion of the original plan.

In Wilhelmstrasse circles it is believed the resignation will not affect the vote on the Young plan, but political leaders agree it came at an embarrassing moment. They do not blame Dr. Schacht, however, but rather the slowness of parliamentary procedure. Under the schedule the second reading of the Young plan should have taken place yesterday and Dr. Schacht had agreed to withhold the announcement of his resignation until after a vote had been taken. But he decided today to hold off no longer.

AMAZEMENT FELT

Followers and opponents alike tonight paid tribute to the conscientiousness of the man who is ready to renounce personal interests, dropping his position as president of the Reichsbank at a salary of 380,000 marks a year until 1932, for what he believes—right or wrong—the country's benefit.

They predict that Dr. Schacht, despite his assertion that he intends to retire to the country, will play a dominating role in internal politics in the future.

FRENCH DELIGHTED AS SCHACHT STEPS OUT

PARIS, March 7. (Exclusive)—Delight mingled with relief was expressed in Paris at the resignation of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht from the presidency of the Reichsbank and it is plain that the government considers one of the chief obstacles to the success of the Young plan is removed.

The French got their dander up when Dr. Schacht pulled off his sensational act at The Hague, first refusing to let the Reichsbank participate and then maneuvering himself into the position of being forced to accept participation.

It is no secret that Americans prominently connected with the functioning of the Dawes plan warned the French that Dr. Schacht was both in a position and mood to do a lot of sabotage. He made clear at The Hague and at home where his tactics brought a French protest to the Wilhelmstrasse that he was sorry that he ever signed the plan. The French figure that now he has built up his reputation as a most bitter enemy to the plan and a defender of German rights he is stepping down into the political field to reap his benefits. In some circles here it is felt that he can do more to obstruct the plan as a free agent than as head of the Reichsbank.

Pilots Eielson and Borland End Last Plane Trip

FAIRBANKS (Alaska) March 7. (AP)—The last flight of Lieut. Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland ended here today when Russian and American planes, escorting the bodies of the two aviators killed on the Arctic coast of Siberia, circled over Fairbanks and landed in quick succession at the Alaska Airways field at 1:30 p.m. (3:30 p.m. P.C.T.)

The bodies will be taken to Seattle from here by train and boat, accompanied by Ole Eielson and Borland's young widow and two sons, who will make their first trip "outside." A guard of honor from North Dakota will meet them there and accompany the body of Alaska's pioneer aviator to its final resting place at Hatton, N. D. Borland will be buried at Mt. Vernon, Wash.

The City Council yesterday confirmed Mayor Porter's nomination of A. B. Prior of Reseda as a member of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners.

GRUNDY TARIFF AIDE DEFENDED

Pennsylvania Senator Hits Back at Blaine

Use of Office Questioned by Lobby Inquiry

Talk on Data for Speech Draws Goff's Fire

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—Joining in a general debate centering about his employment of Warren F. Doane of Philadelphia to aid him in research work on the tariff, Senator Grundy, Republican, Pennsylvania, told the Senate tonight he had no "apologies whatever to make for the relationship or the manner in which his services are being performed."

The Pennsylvanian, an advocate of high protective duties, whose tariff activities have been investigated by the Senate lobby committee, asserted that if there were more men like Doane he could get he "certainly would want to have those men here."

GRUNDY'S EMPLOYEE

The debate was started by Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, a member of the lobby committee, who discussed testimony before that committee today by Doane.

Blaine said that Doane was using the Pennsylvania Senator's quarters in the Senate Office Building to do for the latter the same work at the same salary that he performed in the American Tariff League News Bureau when Grundy was in charge of the latter before his appointment to the Senate.

In addition he asserted that the records and files used in the Tariff League Bureau had been transferred to Grundy's offices in the Senate Building. In making his reply, Grundy said that these data were his own as well as Doane's and he included the transfer of the records among the things for which he said he had no apologies to make.

In his testimony before the lobby committee today, Doane said he had been employed by Grundy at $500 a month for six or seven years and that he used an office in the Senate office building assigned to Grundy for work that he did at the Capitol.

USED OFFICE DESK

Discussing this testimony, Grundy described Doane as "one of the brightest minds in the economic field connected with the tariff that I know of" and asserted the only reason "he is not in the offices which I occupy in the Senate office building is because there is not room there for him to do the clerical work that he had to do."

Questioned about Doane's testimony that he used a desk and typewriter in an office assigned to Grundy, the Senator replied:

"I take it he has the use of it when he stops in there to do any work. There are a number of desks there and typewriters and I have no doubt he has the use of any of them."

GOFF PROTESTS

Arthur L. Faubel, secretary of the American Tariff League, denied today before the lobby committee that he had used Grundy's office as headquarters but said he had prepared data for a speech which Senator Goff, Republican, West Virginia, delivered in the Senate last Saturday.

After Blaine had mentioned this testimony, Goff gained the floor and asserted that "no one had prepared all the data used in that speech."

Goff explained that the "only preparation" by Faubel was "the looking up of certain statistics and the corroboration of certain facts."

The West Virginian accused the lobby committee of being "unfair" and ungenerous" in not reporting to the Senate testimony it had received from Eugene R. Pickrell of New York that he had furnished data to Senators LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, and King, Democrat, Utah.

LaFollette explained that the data supplied him were a "factual statement of imports and exports and were not used in my speech except as I used the statistical information contained in it."

ber of the House Judiciary Committee considering the measures, designed to carry out a part of the Hoover law enforcement commission's recommendations.

At the request of Representative Christopherson, Republican, South Dakota, author of the bills and chairman of the Judiciary subcommittee in charge of them, the West Virginian conducted a survey of Federal court dockets and advised the House today he had found them congested and that more judges are needed at once.

Bachmann said before the Christopherson bills could be enacted it would be necessary to amend the Jones law to define small offenders. The bills would give commissioners the right to accept pleas of guilty in minor cases and impose fines up to $500 and sentences up to six months in jail or both.

Russians Drop Rabbi Charges

BERLIN, March 7. (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—The Russian Ambassador to Germany, N. N. Krestinsky, has informed the German Minister of State, Weissmann, that he has succeeded in his efforts to have the Russian government drop the cases against the accused Minsk rabbis.

Weissman had been asked by local Jewish circles to intercede with the Russian Ambassador on behalf of the rabbis, charged with counter-revolutionary activity.

FALL FROM HOTEL ROOM ACCIDENTAL

Verdict Given at Inquest Over Stenographer's Body in London Mishap

LONDON, March 7. (AP)—A verdict of accidental death was rendered today at an inquest over the body of Mrs. Pearl Larkin De Maret, stenographer to Secretary of State Stimson. She died Thursday morning after a fall from her room on the sixth floor of the Mayfair Hotel.

Capt. M. E. Higgins, physician attached to the American naval delegation, and several members of the delegation staff attended the inquest at the Westminster Coroner's court.

Mrs. Hurley Fisk, who was with Mrs. De Maret in their rooms when she fell, but was in the bathroom of the suite at the time, testified that the American woman after ten days in London became quite homesick.

Mrs. Fisk said she was unable to play golf and tennis as she did at home, that the food did not agree with her, and that "she wanted to get back home where she had a child of 5 or 6 years of age. It was the first time she had been away from her child and her husband."

LONDON PARLEY RESUMES WORK

Stimson and Reijiro Wakatsuki getting together for a long conversation at American headquarters. This was the first time they had seriously sought a solution of American-Japanese naval differences.

When MacDonald discussed the conference situation after the morning meeting he appeared tired in body but intensely alert and enthusiastic regarding the prospects for success of disarmament negotiations. Those who know him best say there is no danger of his health cracking and he will see the negotiations through but likely will need a vacation immediately thereafter.

PROPHETS CONFOUNDED

The Prime Minister took evident satisfaction because of reports printed here two weeks ago that the conference never would be reassembled and that the disarmament negotiations would be adjourned until 1935. The conference is in full working order again and, as Mr. MacDonald said, "thus the prophets of evil, as so often is the case in human history, have been confounded."

Mr. MacDonald added that it "wouldn't be long now" until the work was completed and explained that this means about the middle of April. He hopes the conference will be finished by April 14, when the British budget is to be introduced in Parliament.

He said, too, that all of the British delegates are tired from the strain of Parliament in the last fortnight, but will get new energy from the renewed disarmament negotiations. He added that the conference work will have to be finished in a reasonably short time and admitted it cannot be denied that the burden of negotiations has made a heavy strain on already frayed nerves.

TREATY PROMISED

In his firmest and most convincing manner the Prime Minister declared that the conference will produce a disarmament treaty—a treaty which must be specific. It will lay down an agreement in words, words which must be of accurate and legal value. Those words must be supplemented with naval programs which have been agreed upon, programs which will not carry a menace to other nations.

He again pleaded for understanding of the complicated nature of the present negotiations, declaring that "it is essential there should be complete understanding among the different delegations and it is this work, as between the Americans and Japanese, which got under full steam again today."

Part of the report dealing with exempt vessels was accepted by the first committee and now is ready for the plenary session. It makes two alterations in the draft drawn up—first, that the speed limit of exempt ships is raised from the eighteen knots mentioned at the Geneva conference, to twenty knots, and, second, that exemption for ships carrying apparatus for launching seaplanes is limited to those that can launch only three or less.

It is the hope of Premier Tardieu and of M. Briand to have included in the London treaty provisions similar to Article XXI of the Washington treaty. They want the five powers to pledge themselves to meet and examine every possible step to settle disputes when war is threatened.

LOUISIANA NEGROES HANGED FOR MURDER

pendent, Idaho, questioned these figures and Vandenberg countered by saying they came from the Tariff Commission.

Senator Kean contended plants in his State are earning but 4 per cent on their investments and at least a 6-cent tariff is needed to meet Belgian competition on the seaboard.

Senator Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, also raised the "trading" cry. He said he had been urged by oil men in his State to vote for an oil tariff and added:

"I will see every oil well in Kentucky closed before I join any unholy alliance in this body. Let those who are voting for the high tariffs in this bill go ahead and vote for the measure, too. Any other vote would be dishonest."

HOW THEY VOTED

Thirty-six Republicans and nine Democrats voted for the cement duty today while twenty-four Democrats and thirteen Republican opposed it. The roll call follows:

Democrats: Ashurst, Brock, Broussard, Copeland, Dill, McKellar, Ransdell, Tydings, Wagner. Total, 9.

SUGAR STATEMENT

Senator Fletcher, Democrat, Florida, who voted for a higher sugar tariff, said in a statement issued off the floor that some misunderstanding apparently exists in the public mind regarding the increase from 1.76 to 2 cents a pound voted this week in the sugar tariff.

Many were under the impression, he said, that should the Senate rate become effective the price of sugar would be increased 2 cents a pound "when as a matter of fact the increased cost would be only 24 cents for each 100 pounds, or less than one-fourth of 1 cent a pound."

ANOTHER UPSET

The coalition suffered another upset on the first vote at the night session, which was 30 to 27 for an increase in duty on plain earthenware and crockeryware from 45 per cent to 10 cents a dozen pieces and 45 per cent.

This was the rate adopted by the House. The Finance Committee, however, struck out the increase in reporting the bill to the Senate and its recommendation was upheld, 33 to 21.

The coalition came back a little later, however, and defeated attempts to raise the present rates to the House level on decorated earthenware and plain and decorate chinaware.

On motion of Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, a further revision of the glass-bottle paragraph was approved to maintain the increase to 75 per cent in the duty on hand-blown perfume bottles and cutting the present rates on machine-made perfume bottles and bottles fitted with ground-glass stoppers to 25 per cent.

Smoot figures the present rates on the machine-made bottles at an equivalent of 33 1-3 per cent. The existing duty on hand-blown is 55 per cent.

FARM BOARD FEELS FIRM'S INSOLVENCY

Grain Company's Failure Causes Temporary Loss of Title to Wheat

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.) March 7. (AP)—The Minneapolis Tribune tomorrow morning will say that the Continental Grain Company of Minneapolis has gone into voluntary bankruptcy, resulting in the temporary loss of title by the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, agency of the Federal Farm Board, of 103,000 bushels of wheat, worth approximately $130,000, recently purchased with government funds under the Federal Farm Aid Act.

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—Reporting a favorable outlook for stabilization of farm prices, Chairman Legge of the Farm Board, was asked today by the Senate Agriculture Committee for his views on the extent of the opposition to the new farm-relief program.

Chairman McNary of the committee, requested him and Secretary Hyde to report tomorrow on charges that a world-wide scheme is in operation to destroy the effectiveness of the newly created farm-relief organization.

Legge and Hyde appeared before the committee in connection with the resolution of Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, for an investigation of the administration of the new farm act. The hearing was in executive session, but it was understood at the Capitol that the government farm leaders looked unfavorably on the investigation at this time.

Senator Nye, who attended the session, will insist on the inquiry. He has charged that there is a drive by the grain trade to discredit the Farm Board and the farmer owned and farmer-controlled Grain Stabilization Corporation.

Discussing the situation on the wheat and cotton markets, Chairman Legge expressed the view that the bottom had been reached in the recent declines of these prices. He told the Senate committee that the board is concentrating on efforts to stabilize the agricultural commodity prices.

Cancer Clinic Has Busy Day

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7. (Exclusive)—Two hundred and seventy-five injections of the Coffey-Humber cancer extract at Southern Pacific General Hospital today set a one-day record there, according to Dr. H. N. March. New applications are being received at the rate of ten per day.

Setting aside of two wards at the San Francisco hospital was begun at the instance of the Board of Health. They will be used for experimentation with the cancer extract, the Supervisors recently having voted $20,000 for the purpose.

"The Quest of the Ages"
RELIGION is not to be confused with belief in God, Man and Christ. Religion has produced many beliefs and practices among different peoples and in different ages, but the underlying motive has been the quest for the good life, the full and satisfying. In our day religion is entering on a new phase. The myths, superstitions and false theologies are passing away. Man recognizes that what he was blindly seeking all along was the good life. He knows that if he is to realize it must be by his own effort. He must establish the kingdom of man on earth.
"The Quest of the Ages" will be presented in his address by E. Burdette Backus, Sunday at 10:50 A.M. at the First Unitarian Church, West 8th Street, just east of Vermont.

CALLAWAY FLAYS FRUIT-FLY WAR

Eradication Should Cost $1,500,000

Additional Appropriation of $1,000,000 Asked

Special Board to Carry on Work

TALLAHASSEE (Fla.) March 7. (AP)—Callaway of Lake Lakeland, member of the Florida Republican National Committee, told the Republican truth-fly committee that if eradication work is carried in the future as it has been in the past "there is going to be war in Florida."

Callaway said the people of Florida had confidence in the State Board and the Federal Department of Agriculture. He severely criticised the eradication method used by Dr. Wilmon Newell, State Plant Commissioner, and Dr. C. L. Mariatt, formerly chief Federal entomologist, and Secretary of Agriculture Hyde.

Callaway recommended what he termed as a solution, the creation of a commission to be headed by an entomologist, a horticulturist, a chemist of national renown and five grower citizens who could give their time to the work.

The Republican State chairman asserted that the eradication work could be carried to completion on an appropriation of about $1,500,000 instead of the $16,000,000 which has been recommended by the Department of Agriculture.

GO-GETTER WINS OVER MAMMA AND GETS GIRL

MEXICO CITY, March 7. (AP)—The swift-moving romance of an Arizona youth and a Milwaukee girl is in the honeymoon stage today.

R. A. Davis of Phoenix, and Mrs. A. U. Gutnecht of Milwaukee, with her daughter, all arrived here about a week ago. Davis stopping at the same hotel at which the two women were registered.

Davis fell in love with Miss Gutnecht, but the mother objected. Finally, in an effort to break up the romance, she is said to have spirited her daughter away to another hotel.

Davis questioned twenty or more cab drivers before discovering where Miss Gutnecht had been taken. He is said to have argued so convincingly that despite its being after midnight, Mrs. Gutnecht consented to the marriage.

MESA (Ariz.) March 7. (AP)—Convinced that R. A. Davis, reported in press dispatches from Mexico City as having married Miss Alice Gutnecht of Milwaukee at the Mexican capital after a whirlwind courtship, is her husband, whom she married at El Paso, Tex., nine years ago, Mrs. R. A. Davis of Mesa has asked American Legion officials to assist her in extricating Davis from probable difficulties as a result of his marriage.

A. L. ERLANGER PASSES AWAY

Known Throughout Nation as Showhouse Figure

Great Chain Includes Two Los Angeles Places

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—A. L. Erlanger, who as organizer and head of a countrywide theater syndicate was the dominant figure of the show business in the United States for many years, died today at his home here, two months before his seventieth birthday.

Starting as an opera-glass boy in a Cleveland playhouse, he came to New York in young manhood and put into operation with his partner, Marc Klaw, the first orderly plan of sending theatrical attractions on tour.

REVOLUTIONIZED BUSINESS

He revolutionized the theretofore haphazard booking methods of the theater, and gained such power that he was assailed as a "czar" by those outside his chain of theaters, but he retained his supremacy for many seasons.

At his death he owned or controlled more than thirty theaters, and was the largest individual theater owner in the world.

Until he fell into a coma ten days ago from the attack of uremic poisoning which caused his death, he had been active in the control of his properties. Only a few days before his last illness he purchased an additional interest in the Broadstreet Theater in Philadelphia and in January he made a three-weeks' swing to the Pacific Coast and homeward through the South to visit some of his far-flung playhouses.

OWNED LOS ANGELES HOUSES

His funeral will be conducted Sunday afternoon at Temple Emanu-El. He leaves a brother Mitchell L. Erlanger, a retired justice of the New York Supreme Court, and two sisters, Miss Kay Erlanger and Mrs. C. Bergman.

The Erlanger partnership with Klaw was abrogated some eight years ago, and after that Mr. Erlanger remained in business alone, giving most of his attention to operation of his theatrical properties rather than to producing. Theaters which he owned or controlled at his death include nine in New York, three each in Philadelphia, Chicago and Boston, two in Los Angeles and others in Seattle, Detroit, San Francisco, Birmingham, New Orleans, Atlanta, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Buffalo and Washington.

Mr. Erlanger was married many years ago but he and his wife parted in 1912. They had no children.

Billy the Bear, Indian Fighter, Dies in Nebraska

CHADRON (Neb.) March 7. (AP)—L. J. T. Jaeger, Indian fighter whose real name had almost been forgotten in favor of his nickname, "Billy the Bear," died here last night.

Cowpuncher, sailor and Indian scout, "Billy the Bear" was at one time secretary for William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill.) In his later years he served for more than a quarter of a century as clerk of the court at Chadron.

In January, 1883, sent to Boston as a buyer for the Yellowstone Cattle Company, "Billy the Bear" set out on his horse to the nearest railroad station. He was caught in the memorable blizzard of that year and for three days he battled for his life, finally losing his hands and feet.

ACTION ON PARK SITE APPROVED

Spreckels Beach Land Condemnation Passed on by Young and King

SACRAMENTO, March 7. (AP)—Approval of condemnation proceedings by the State to acquire eight miles of beach property on the Spreckels estate, south of Coronado, San Diego county, was given today by Gov. Young and Lyman M. King, director of the Department of Finance. The total cost is estimated at approximately $1,000,000, with State and county each paying half.

This action followed the State Park Commission's approval of the property, totaling about 500 acres, as a part of the State park system.

Fred G. Stevenot, director of the Department of Natural Resources, described the land as occupying about four miles along the ocean front and a similar stretch facing San Diego Bay. This, he said, is known as the Silver Strand.

The tragedy occurred Wednesday, between Haiti and Cuba. He broke away from his medical attendants and jumped overboard, it was reported. His body was not recovered.

Barnett was graduated from the Naval Academy in June, 1915. Navy records list his mother, Mrs. Esther C. Barnett of San Diego, as his nearest of kin.

SACRAMENTO, March 7. (AP)—Gov. Young is considering appeals to commute the death sentence passed on Alphonse Reilly, 22 years of age, convicted of slaying Abraham Sandelman, shoe store clerk in Los Angeles on January 9, 1929. He was sentenced to hang at San Quentin on the 14th inst. Various agencies have appealed to the Governor on Reilly's behalf, the pleas for commutation of sentence being based upon his youth and the grounds that he is "not a murderer at heart."

INDIAN WOMAN CLEARS DEATH

Seneca Suspect Confesses in Marchand Tragedy

Authorities Attribute Slaying to Unrequited Love

BUFFALO (N. Y.) March 7. (AP)—An Indian woman of the Seneca tribe was reported by police today to have confessed to them she had induced a 66-year-old woman of her tribe to slay Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, who was beaten with a hammer and chloroformed in her home last night.

Unrequited affection for the slain woman's husband, Henri Marchand, noted artist-sculptor of the Buffalo Museum of Science, and hatred for his wife caused Lillian Jimerson, 39 years of age, to invoke tribal witchcraft to accomplish the slaying through her ally, Mrs. Nancy Bowen, according to the confession.

SON FINDS BODY

A 13-year-old son of the dead woman found his mother's body lying on the floor of their home beneath an overturned radio console and a heavy lamp. There was evidence a terrific struggle had occurred before repeated hammer blows struck her down.

Taken prisoner in her Indian reservation home by police today, Miss Jimerson finally revealed the hiding place of Mrs. Bowen. Both were taken to this city and, after questioning by police, Miss Jimerson is asserted to have admitted she had instigated the slaying by playing on the superstitions of her confederate.

MYSTIC WARNINGS

Mystic warnings from a ouija board, that unless the "white woman" were slain she would slay Miss Jimerson, were found by police in two letters located in the Jimerson home. Included in them were directions for killing the artist's wife and for burning her body.

Miss Jimerson had served as model for Marchand in some of his famous groups perpetuating the Seneca Indian, and had conceived a strong infatuation for the artist, police say.

A pale, gaunt and sickly woman, Miss Jimerson is said to have resented her discharge when the work was completed and began her work of inciting the elderly Mrs. Bowen to carry out her plan.

Mrs. Marchand was 50 years of age.

Both Miss Jimerson and Mrs. Bowen were lodged in County Jail tonight charged with first-degree murder.

Moody for approval. The measure was sponsored by the Texas Independent Petroleum Association.

All the major companies which own pipe line and storage facilities joined in a vigorous fight against the measure when the bill was under consideration by the committees, representatives of the pipe line and major producing companies asserted that if the measure becomes a law, it will stimulate production in the face of the fact that the industry is endeavoring to curtail production.

Angeleno Plans Water Storage

SACRAMENTO, March 7. (AP)—Applications for permission to appropriate and store 100,000 acre feet of water from tributaries of the East Walker and West Walker rivers and Adobe Valley in Mono county were filed with the Division of Water Resources by Ralph B. Lloyd of Los Angeles.

The applications stated the water would be stored in Adobe Valley and used to irrigate 50,000 acres of land lying north, south and east of Bakersfield in Kern and Tulare counties, and for domestic and hydroelectric purposes. The main conduit would terminate in the Kern River. Cost of the project was not given.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

REVOLT LOOMS AGAINST NORTH

Equitable Representation in State Politics Sought

Col. Fowler Urges Group to Assume Party Leadership

Republican County Central and District Bodies Meet

GLENDALE, March 7.—Possibility of a revolt by both Republican and Democratic party leaders of Southern California against northern domination in politics was seen last night when the Republican County Central Committee met with representatives of the Sixty-first Assembly District and the Ninth Congress District committees in the Masonic Temple here.

Col. William Erle Fowler, chairman of the county committee, pointed out that Los Angeles county has 925,000 registered voters and Southern California has 61 per cent of the registered Republican votes in the entire State and he urged the members of the party to assume the leadership in party affairs to which their strength entitles them.

The committee will concentrate on obtaining equitable representation for Southern California under the coming reapportionment of the State, Fowler contending that Los Angeles county should have eight Congressmen and the remaining counties should have four, instead of two from this county and one from the rest of the Southern counties, as at present.

DEMOCRATS TO CO-OPERATE

Assurances that the Democratic County Central Committee will co-operate in this effort with the Republican organization have been received, Fowler declared.

Joseph Scott, Los Angeles attorney, declared that Southern California has the man power and the money power to make itself felt as a dominant factor in State politics and that "forty years is a long enough time for the people of Southern California to act as hewers of wood and drawers of water in political matters."

It was also decided that Congressmen Evans and Crail of the Ninth and Tenth districts, respectively, will be asked to have Federal authorities define a new boundary line between northern and southern Federal judicial districts, placing the ten southern counties in the southern district. The question will be submitted to the central committees in the ten counties for ratification before the request is forwarded to Washington.

CIVIL SERVICE PLEA MADE

Before any candidates for the office of postmaster in Los Angeles are indorsed by the county committee a request will be presented to postal authorities in Washington asking that a civil service examination be held to determine those best fitted for the position. If this can be arranged the committee will select the candidate to be indorsed from among the first three on the list of eligibles.

Indorsement of William Ellison, chairman of the San Diego County Central Committee, for collector of customs at Los Angeles was approved, with the understanding that, if Los Angeles county should place a candidate in the field, the other southern counties would also indorse him in order to provide opportunity for choice on the part of the Federal authorities.

The next meeting of the committee will be held at Pasadena on April 3.

Credit Bureau Will be Formed at Montebello

MONTEBELLO, March 7.—At the recent request of several local merchants the directors of the Chamber of Commerce decided to sponsor a retail credit bureau. With this thought in mind the merchants, professional and business people of the city were called together by N. C. Banks, president of the chamber, last evening to discuss the details of a credit organization.

W. F. Johnson was made temporary chairman and a round-table discussion followed. After the functions of such an organization were made clear, a committee of seven was appointed to work out details. The merchants were represented by Paul G. McIver, Edmund F. Barker, Dr. P. J. Kreus, J. A. Begley, N. C. Banks, Sam Olander and George Stevenson.

The committee laid plans for the founding of a credit bureau, fixing initiation fees and monthly dues. The organization is to be incorporated. Henry Benson, secretary of the Wholesalers' Credit Adjustment Bureau, talked at both the open meeting and the committee session, offering many constructive ideas.

The credit bureau will be sponsored by the chamber until it is financed and incorporated, with Zola V. Cotton, the chamber's secretary, advising and helping with the plans and overseeing the detail work.

ASSERTED ARSONIST ARRESTED

Coronan Held at Brawley; Inflammables and Fuse in His Burning Property

CORONA, March 7.—Jack Robinson, a carpenter, residing on Olive street, this city, was arrested in Brawley today at the request of Sheriff Sweetzers, who charges the man with arson. Robinson owns a four-room house on West Ninth street. Last night fire was discovered in the house, which was vacant, but the prompt arrival of the fire department prevented any serious damage. Investigation of the premises showed a fifty-foot piece of dynamite fuse extending from the lower floor to a pail of inflammable liquid in the attic. The fuse had burned out before reaching the attic.

Fire Chief Bowen was convinced that efforts were made to destroy the house and when Robinson was sought it was revealed that he had gone to Brawley a few hours before. Further investigation brought to light a fire insurance policy for $1900. There is a loan of $375 against the property.

This makes the fifth fire in this city within ten days and in each instance it has been a vacant building. Officers do not credit the same person with causing each blaze but they do believe that the burning of the other buildings might have suggested something to the owner of the Robinson house.

New Civic Body Elects Officers

HUNTINGTON PARK, March 7. Another new organization has been formed by property owners on the west side of the city to be known as the Santa Fe Avenue Assessment District Association. The officers chosen are James Barr, president; Frank Fitch, vice-president; Mrs. Eliza Chesley, secretary, and E. F. Hutchcroft treasurer.

The purpose of the organization is to request that the City Council refuse to give to Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors jurisdiction in the proposed widening and paving of that section of Santa Fe avenue within the local city limits extending from Slauson avenue to Florence avenue.

VARSITY ATHLETES SHINE AS STUDENTS

REDLANDS, March 7.—"Are athletes good scholars?" The age-long question would seem to be answered decidedly in the affirmative if the records of the championship basketball squads of the University of Redlands are taken as authority. In a compilation of their grade reports of last semester, Dr. Loren D. Osborn, head of the faculty scholarship committee, has discovered that the members of the phenomenal athletic team have an 8 average in their studies. This is considerably higher than the average for the majority of students who were not concerned with intensive training, as were the basketball men.

HIGH SCHOOL DEDICATED

Adolph Leuzinger Institution at Lawndale Scene of Ceremonies; Vierling Kersey, Judge Wilson Speak

LAWNDALE, March 7.—Dedication ceremonies at the Adolph Leuzinger High School in Lawndale, a unit of the Inglewood Union High School district, were attended by 1200 persons last night, who, under the leadership of J. R. Wimmer, trustee, joined in the following dedication declaration: "We, the mothers and fathers, students and friends of the Adolph Leuzinger High School, in the presence of the Supreme Architect of the universe, hereby dedicate this Adolph Leuzinger High School to the present generation, and to posterity."

The school, which was constructed during the past summer, opened January 27 with an enrollment of 268. Fifteen teachers are employed, under the general superintendence of George M. Green, pioneer educator of Southern California, who has been superintendent of the Inglewood Union High School for seventeen years. The Adolph Leuzinger School is the first unit of the district to be established outside the limits of Inglewood and was made necessary by the rapid increase in enrollment from the south end of the district. It is named in honor of Adolph Leuzinger, who has been a member of the board of trustees for twenty-five consecutive years.

Leuzinger's long enduring, unselfish and sincere devotion to the cause of public education was honored by many feeling tributes. "It is too often," said Judge Leonard Wilson of the Superior Court in his address to the immense gathering, "that men must die before their rewards and their merits are inscribed so all may see. It is for this reason that I am particularly pleased to participate in a program which honors a man now living, Adolph Leuzinger."

Trustees of the district now in office are Ray M. Stevens, president; Adolph Leuzinger, vice-president; Clinton H. Spaulding, Clerk J. L. Gilliland, J. R. Wimmer.

An interesting feature of the dedication was that City Attorney Clyde Woodworth, a graduate in the first class of the high school district, now a leading citizen of Inglewood and an attorney standing high in his profession, presided as master of ceremonies. Speakers included Vierling Kersey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction; H. S. Upjohn, county superintendent of schools; George M. Green, superintendent of Inglewood Union High School District, and Superior Court Judge Leonard Wilson. On behalf of Hawthorne Post, American Legion, Judge Wilson presented the school with a beautiful American flag.

Former trustees of the district were introduced, including Joseph F. Nelson, Frank D. Parent, Harvey D. Moseley, H. D. Foster and A. O. Clement.

Superintendent Green introdnced Mrs. Maude Knudsen, vice-principal; Mrs. Darsie L. Darsie, dean of girls; Harold O. Simar, dean of boys, and Herbert Thompson, business manager. Music was furnished by the high school orchestra under the direction of A. F. Monroe, and community singing was led by Mrs. Ivey B. Forbes.

Van Nuys Wants Its Name Put on Mountain Road

VAN NUYS, March 7.—The proposal to change the name of Beverly Glen Boulevard south of Mulholland High Way to Van Nuys Boulevard was presented to the City Council which today announced the proposal would be held in abeyance until a majority of the property owners submit a formal petition stating their desire in the matter.

From Ventura Boulevard Van Nuys Boulevard is now a paved highway running through a long canyon of the Santa Monica Range, becoming Beverly Glen Boulevard on the south side of the range. It has long been a plan to change the name of the highway to Van Nuys Boulevard because then the south end of the highway will be less confusing in name to motorists seeking to come from Hollywood through the mountains into the Van Nuys and San Fernando Valley districts.

VALLEY RESIDENTS TO HEAR INFANTRY BAND

SAN FERNANDO, March 7.—Under the direction of Paul Roberts, the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry Band is scheduled on Sunday to give a concert in Brand Park, opposite San Fernando Mission. The concert will consist of classic and popular melodies. Several thousand San Fernando Valley residents are expected to attend, as band concerts by outstanding music organizations always have attracted large crowds. The concert will begin at 2 p.m.

OFFICIAL IN CONFESSION OF THEFTS

Padding of Pay Rolls Said to Have Secured $1400 for Manhattan Beach Man

MANHATTAN BEACH, March 7. Resignation of Paul L. Black, 35 years of age, street and water superintendent for this city for five years, coupled with the announcement by Mayor George E. Delevan, Jr., that Black had made a confession to theft of $1400 in city funds by padding pay rolls, created an unexpected sensation at the City Council's regular session last night. The full amount has been returned to the city, the Mayor stated.

A complaint is being prepared in the office of City Attorney Frank L. Perry, the Mayor announced, in which Black will be formally charged with theft of city funds.

Black's administration of his two departments has been efficient, city officials said, and he has been prominent in civic and social organizations since coming here. He is married and has one child, a boy, 2 years of age. His confession, which is said to have resulted from an investigation by other city officials, gave no reason for his act. Black could not be reached today.

Daughter Fails in Attempt to Aid Her Father

ALHAMBRA, March 7.—Despite the efforts of his daughter Ada to show that J. E. Smith, former real estate broker, attempted to locate the owner of a twenty-eight-passenger transcontinental bus with the theft of which Smith is charged, Judge W. M. Northrup at Smith's resumed preliminary hearing today held him for trial in the Superior Court.

Smith was arrested at his home at 1143 South Sierra Vista street several weeks ago on complaint of Verne Larson of Chicago, who claimed ownership of the bus. The first preliminary hearing brought out an interesting story of the plight of a busload of Chicago-to-Los Angeles passengers stranded in an Arizona desert after the driver had deserted them in El Paso and they were trying to reach their destination under their own auspices. Smith, it was disclosed, found them, and brought them to Los Angeles in his truck, later returning to Arizona and towing the bus to this city.

At Smith's hearing today a letter was produced which Smith had written to a Chicago ticket agency asking for the name of the owner of the bus in question. The letter was returned unclaimed. Unfortunately for the defendant, however, there was a complication in the date of the postmark. Smith said he mailed the letter on February 3, four days prior to his arrest. A. Dugan, local superintendent of mails, called attention to the fact that the postmark showed the letter was mailed here on February 10, several days after Smith's arrest, and declared that, in his opinion, an attempt had been made to erase the date stamp.

Smith's daughter today told the court that her father had given her the letter to mail but that she had neglected to mail it until February 10.

Wine Tonic Ban Again Studied by City Council

UPLAND, March 7.—Battles on wine tonic which have caused considerable agitation in San Bernardino county during the year were under way again today when the City Council announced it is now studying the advisability of adopting an ordinance here to outlaw wine tonics, patent medicines and lemon and vanilla extracts. Anything that causes drinking because of the alcoholic content is included in the program against wine tonics. An ordinance was presented to the Council last night by Councilman F. C. Buffington. The Council voted to give the ordinance intensive study before taking action.

LYNWOOD TO STUDY PLAYGROUND PLANS

LYNWOOD, March 7.—The Lynwood Exchange Club was addressed by Clyde Doyle, chairman of the Long Beach Park and Playground Commission, at its weekly session at the Woman's Clubhouse, when he gave a graphic account of the good done in that city and that as a result, the club unanimously passed a resolution that President Cecil Snyder appoint an organization committee, whose purpose it will be to invite a similar committee from every organization in this city, to consider formation of a Citizens' Committee to study municipal park and playfields for this city. L. A. Acord, personal representative of John Steven McGroarty, spoke of the Mission Play, many Lynwood residents planning to visit the play on the night of the 12th inst.

HEALTH CENTER STONE LAID

Prominent City and County Officials Attend Ceremony on Site of New Structure in Alhambra

ALHAMBRA, March 7.—With prominent county and city officials in attendance, the corner-stone of the new $135,000 Alhambra Health Center was laid today by Henry W. Wright, Fifth District Supervisor. Dr. S. J. Stewart, Alhambra district health officer, presided at the ceremonies.

The brief exercises at the building site at the corner of Sixth and Shorb streets were witnessed by several hundred citizens. Wright described the progress of the Alhambra Health Center and expressed the appreciation of the Supervisors for the efforts expended by local officials in securing the new structure, making special mention of the co-operation of Alhambra City Commissioners in obtaining the site for the county building.

Other speakers included Chris Campbell, Mayor of Alhambra; W. H. Murphy, president of Alhambra Center Health Board; R. C. Rice, assistant superintendent of county charities; City Manager A. E. Stockburger of Alhambra, and Dr. George Roth, acting county health officer, who represented Dr. J. L. Pomeroy. The latter was unable to be present on account of illness.

In the sealed copper box placed in the cornerstone were copies of various legal documents relating to the health center plant and copies of newspapers telling the stories of the project at its different stages.

Dr. Roth declared that the Alhambra unit in the county's health center construction program will be the sixth such plant built in the county during the past four years. He said it will rank among the finest in the State.

GLENDALE MAY ALTER CHARTER

Special Committee Reports Its Recommendations

Creation of Public Utilities Board Among Suggestions

Increase in Advertising Levy, Cut in Other Taxes, Urged

GLENDALE, March 7. — The special committee appointed by the City Council to recommend needed changes in the city charter has presented its report, embodying several suggested amendments while retaining the present general form of the charter.

Creation of a public utilities board or commission, appointed by the Council, to be clothed with authority to manage, control and operate all public utilities owned by the city, is recommended, and the committee holds that the public service department should pay its fair share of the general expense of the city government but not more than it would be asked to pay if it were privately owned and operated.

The committee also urges that the charter should be changed to provide against the appropriation of any of the public service surplus funds for any other than public service purposes. Replacement of water mains from the funds of the public service department, instead of by assessments on property owners, is advocated.

TAX REDUCTIONS LISTED

Reduction in the taxes for library, parks, playgrounds and recreation funds is urged, but the committee favors an increase in the levy for municipal advertising, urging that the present rate of 2 cents per $100 of assessed valuation be doubled.

Councilmanic and Board of Education candidates should be made to run for separate and distinct offices, the report holds, with a primary election earlier in the year, along the same lines now used in electing Superior Court judges, and the City Clerk and City Treasurer should be appointed by the Council, instead of being elected, as at present.

Provision for the establishment of a Municipal Court is also urged, and local residents should be favored in appointments to municipal posts.

CITY MANAGER "SECRETARY"

While the committee indorses the city manager form of government as the most ideal, it holds that the appointed to the position inevitably comes under the domination and control of the officials who select him for the office and develops into a high-class secretary, thus leaving the city government with no real responsible head, or rather with a number of individuals of equal power to manage and control the city's affairs.

The personnel of the committee is Frank L. Fox, chairman; R. E. Corrigan, Jacob D. Funk, H. M. Butts and Bert P. Woodard.

Passports for War Mothers to be Made Easy

SANTA ANA, March 7.—New passport regulations issued by the United States government providing free "pilgrimage" passports to widows and mothers of soldiers interred in foreign cemeteries, who may be invited by the Secretary of War to make pilgrimages to the burial grounds abroad, have been received by County Clerk J. M. Backs.

The new regulations, authorized by Congressional act of March 2, 1929, waives the usual $10 fee for passports and provides that in absence of documentary proof of American citizenship, sworn statements shall be accepted. The regulations also include persons accompanying the widow or mother making the pilgrimage.

In cases of alien mothers or widows, whose sons or husbands died in American service abroad, the government will issue "pilgrimage travel documents."

Passport officials are directed to see that the pilgrimage passports are handled with as little inconvenience as possible to the widows and mothers who apply for them.

Conviction May Mean Long Term

ONTARIO, March 7.—An effort to pass a small check on a local merchant may mean a term in Folsom Prison for Leslie Eppstein, who, with his wife, Mrs. Alberta Eppstein, was arrested here a few weeks ago. In a hearing before Superior Judge Charles L. Allison it was brought out that Eppstein has a prior conviction of burglary in a San Francisco Superior Court which he is said to have admitted.

If he is convicted in the present felony case the former charge added to it will make him liable to imprisonment in the State prison at Folsom without hope of probation of sentence.

Mrs. Eppstein pleaded guilty in Superior Court to the charge of writing fictitious checks and asked probation.

SPEECH-CORRECTION SURVEY TO BE MADE

SANTA PAULA, March 7.—Members of the Rural Teachers' Association and Ventura County Teachers' Association, some 500 in number, have been bidden by Mrs. Blanche T. Reynolds, county superintendent of schools, to attend a meeting in the auditorium of the local Union High School on Wednesday evening and hear Elsie Parker Field, representative for the bureau of speech correction. Miss Parker will visit county schools in an effort to learn how many children in this county need speech correction work.

LOVE LETTER LONG DELAYED

Burning Missive Smolders Without Going Out for Twenty-three Years, Wedged in Mail Chute, Before Delivery to Pomona Writer

POMONA, March 7.—A burning love letter, written twenty-three years ago and lost in the mail ever since, appeared in the mail this morning to remind Dr. Walter C. Johnson of his courtship days when he was courting the present Mrs. Johnson. The letter, mailed in Sioux City, Iowa, was caught in a mail chute and did not show up until the old postoffice building was torn down recently.

Addressed to Miss Mae Holloway, 877 North Figueroa street, Los Angeles, who happened then to be in Los Angeles with her mother and sisters, it was from a lonesome sweetheart.

The letter, brown with age, but the contents entirely legible, arrived through the mail today and served to bring back pleasant reminders. Dr. and Mrs. Johnson reside at 990 North Park avenue in this city.

SANTA ANANS BECOME GOURMANDS FOR NIGHT

SANTA ANA, March 7.—More than 400 members and guests of the local Chamber of Commerce tonight sat down to the fourth annual home products dinner. Seven varieties of meat were served, just as an instance of the scale of the banquet.

The gastronomic festivities got away to a strong start when the assemblage started in on the food which was piled high upon the tables. In addition to the supply of food there was a generous collection of samples of Santa Ana and Orange county-made goods with which the banqueteers stuffed their pockets for souvenirs.

There was no limitation on the number of helpings one might have. As quickly as the hot bread or meat disappeared waitresses brought in more. The scope of Orange county agriculture and industry was amply illustrated.

Augmenting the banquet was a display of home products which was amazing in a city commonly believed to be a strictly agricultural community.

The addresses of the evening were delivered by Edward T. Thomas of the Pacific Electric System, Los Angeles, and Prof. Herbert E. Harris. The speakers expressed their surprise at the content of the menu as represented by the products of the smallest county in the State, and urged the chamber folk to even greater efforts along co-operative lines.

Secretary George Raymer, in a brief talk, told of some of the accomplishments of the chamber during the last year, chief of which was the location of the $5,000,000 Pittsburgh Plate Glass factory here. President William Jerome lauded Raymer for his efforts in behalf of Santa Ana and Orange county. Later the new directors of the organization were introduced.

STATE PARK MOVE MADE IN SAN DIEGO

Condemnation Proceeding Started There to Acquire Silver Strand Beach

SAN DIEGO, March 7.—A definite step by the State to acquire possession of Silver Strand peninsula and add it to the State park system, was taken in San Diego Superior Court today, when Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb started condemnation proceedings.

The State's action is directed against J. D. and A. B. Spreckels Securities and Investment companies; the San Diego and Arizona Railway, the Hakes Investment Company, Darwin R. Aldridge, as trustee and individual; Ernie Bredehoft; E. B. Martin; George A. Johnson of the estates of Luther Johnson and Sarah Jane Johnson; Clarence R. Johnson; C. Rhea Johnson; Lee L. Johnson; Florence C. Piatt; Frank T. Johnson, Anna A. Church, H. M. Delaney, "John Doe" Daly; "Richard Roe" Young; Nettie Y. Rice of the estate of John T. Young, Hyal Colton, B. Elizabeth Loring of the estate of A. N. Loring; Grace Wadleigh Matson; Ed A. Sears; A. "Blue" Company; A. "White" Company and others. It is termed a complaint in eminent domain.

The court is asked to determine ownership of all parts of the desired park lands and to set a price for the strip. The land desired is south of the south line of Coronado and north of the north line of Third street, Coronado Heights. Exceptions are made in the proceedings, for a portion conveyed to the United States February 9, 1897, and for rights of way held by the Coronado Water Company, the San Diego and Arizona Railway and public roads.

The action was taken in behalf of the State Parks Commission, comprised of William E. Colby, Arthur E. Connick, Henry W. O'Melveny, Frederick R. Burnham and W. F. Chandler, who with the State director of natural resources, selected Silver Strand as one of the contemplated State parks in San Diego county.

THREE YOUTHS HELD BY ONTARIO POLICE

ONTARIO, March 7.—Suspecting grand theft, two boys were held here today for Pasadena authorities and another is being detained for investigation. Nicholas King, 18 years of age, and Clyde McBride, 17, both of Los Angeles, were arrested at 2:45 a.m. today by Officer Fred A. Tebo. They were driving an expensive roadster, Joe King, 21, also of Los Angeles, was arrested in a touring car by Officer A. E. Tucker. Authorities here are of the opinion that Joe King is the driver of an automobile that raced through here last night at great speed. Officer Tebo pursued him past Pomona, but the youth eluded capture. Later he returned here and was nabbed.

BREEDERS OF RABBITS IN GATHERING

Expert from Experiment Station at Fontana Tells of Studies Made There

REDLANDS, March 7.—Rabbit breeders of the Southland gathered today at the Chamber of Commerce Building, coming from Mentone, Yucaipa, San Bernardino, Colton, Fontana as well as from the immediate Redlands district.

John W. Meyer of the United States Rabbit Experiment Station at Fontana was present to explain the work being done at the station. The research so far has been mostly given to study of feeds and housing. More recently, co-operation with the University of Southern California has been arranged for the study of disease. A full-time bacteriologist has set to work at the university on the subject.

A. L. Campbell, assistant county farm adviser and one of the principals who got the local rabbit farm center started, explained the cost survey work which has just been started in this district. It is hoped to have several rabbit men join the fact-finding group. They will keep charts on feed, income and other results to determine the exact cost of raising the animals, either for meat or fur. The charts, faithfully kept, said Campbell, will not only be valuable record for the rabbit farm, but figures which would stand in law or in the courts.

Much-Married Prisoner Given Long Sentence

SANTA ANA, March 7.—Clarence P. Rand, 25 years of age, much-married son of a wealthy El Paso building contractor, who was sent to San Quentin from Orange county for bigamy on January 8, 1929, must serve a term of seven and one-half years, according to a decision of the State Prison Board, received here today.

Rand had been married five times, twice to the same girl, and was about to make that girl wife No. 6 when his fifth wife, Hazel Mayes of Los Angeles, caused his arrest. He had married her without being divorced from his fourth wife, it was shown. Rand professed complete ignorance of his fourth marriage, asserting that it occurred while he was on a drunken spree.

Three other Orange county prisoners were given determination of sentences by the prison board with Rand. Victor Oliver, bigamist convicted in June, 1928, was sentenced to five years; Gordon Pusley, sent to prison on the same day as Rand for petty theft and prior conviction received a term of eighteen months; Joaquin De Anda, found guilty of child stealing in January, 1929, got a sentence of ten years.

Trustees of High School and Junior College Announce They Will Call New Bond Elections Soon

ONTARIO, March 7.—A direct-tax method of raising funds for Chaffey Union High School and Junior College expansion programs will not be followed in the future, it was decided at a meeting of the school trustees of Chaffey district in special meeting late today. The board canvassed the recent bond election and announced that 65 per cent of the voters showed themselves in favor of the bond method of financing the building program, even though the $450,000 issue was defeated.

The following resolution was issued for the trustees at the close of the meeting by Dr. Merton E. Hill, principal of the Chaffey school:

"Whereas, the board of trustees of Chaffey Union High School and Junior College district has canvassed the election returns of the bond elections held within the Chaffey district on February 28, 1930, and

"Whereas, about 65 per cent of all votes cast expressed preference for the bond method of raising money to finance the needed building programs, and

"Whereas, it has been the desire of the board to learn the voters' wishes and to follow the wishes as expressed by the will of the majority; therefore, be it

"Resolved, that we, the board of school trustees of Chaffey Union High School and Junior College attempt no major building program at present by means of direct tax, but that we call new bond elections within the near future for the purpose of financing the building program of the district."

ROADS ATTACK RIVAL PROJECT

Western Pacific Link South Assailed in Brief

Indian Valley Line Also Enters Fight

Pioneering Right Set Up by Local Railway

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—Formal summary of its opposition to the proposed Great Northern-Western Pacific Railroad link in Oregon and California was filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Southern Pacific Company.

The brief of 1042 pages was the company's answer to the joint brief filed a month ago by the two petitioning roads. Five hundred and fifty-five pages of argument tell why the Southern Pacific finds "neither present nor future public convenience and necessity has been shown" for the 200-mile construction. The other 487 pages are testimony.

INDIAN VALLEY JOINS

Opposition to the proposed construction by the Western Pacific and the Great Northern railroads of a Pacific Coast connection between their lines was expressed today also by the Indian Valley Railroad in a brief filed with the commission.

The Indian Valley contends such construction lowers its freight volume; that it was a pioneer in the territory involved; that it is ready to extend its system wherever the needs of the region may require; and that there is no existing need for additional service in that territory.

The road pointed out that it holds a unique position among railroads of the United States in that it has no debts, either bonded or otherwise, that it discounts its monthly bills, has a surplus of $216,000 and more than $50,000 in the savings bank earning interest.

NORTH-SOUTH ROAD

The Great Northern-Western Pacific project involves building a railroad southward from Klamath Falls, Or., to Bieber and Keddie, Cal.

Contentions of the Southern Pacific, as summed up in the brief are:

That the territory already is adequately served with rail and highway transportation.

That the Southern Pacific's investments in lines affected is $156,000,000, upon which but a slight return has been earned and that a competing line would "seriously impair" the earning capacity of these lines.

That the proposed road would create no new rail traffic that cannot be created by existing lines.

WASTE ASSERTED

That the waste would include some 5,500,000 car miles a year and would place "an unnecessary burden on commerce."

The Southern Pacific also contended that the project will add nothing to net railway revenues but will, on the contrary, decrease them, and that the applicant railroads have shown no proof of needing a connection between their systems.

It is argued that existing lines can handle all the potential traffic which the new construction might create and that present roads can adequately bridge the gap between the Great Northern and the Santa Fe systems. Lack of through rates, it was set forth, "does not warrant the costly duplication proposed."

COMPETITION ALREADY

Necessary competition, the Southern Pacific said, can be brought about without "the wasteful duplication here proposed," by acceptance by the applicant roads of offers of open gateways to be furnished by the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific.

The Southern Pacific also contends there is no equity in the Great Northern's plea for an extension south of Klamath Falls to support its existing extension north of that city as the remedy is not to perpetuate the error at the expense of existing lines. The Southern Pacific here made the point that the Great Northern obtained permission to extend from Bend to Klamath Falls without mentioning the further southward extension as essential to its success.

FEARS FOR RIVAL

It is also argued that the Great Northern might find itself with a "stub end" at Bieber, connecting, as at Klamath Falls, with a competitor and, to make a success of this extension, may seek authority to parallel existing lines from time to time and from point to point, ad infinitum, contending each extension necessary to make a success of the previous one.

The argument also asserts that the Western Pacific does not need the proposed line as a feeder, having already fifty-two miles of feeder lines for every 100 miles of main line.

The Southern Pacific also argued that "the Western Pacific itself was an economic mistake and to divert revenues from established carriers. . . . simply to improve the already very substantial earnings of the line so conceived would be to perpetuate an error, pyramiding upon it" at great cost to both carriers and public.

TOO MUCH NOW

That competition already exists by rail and water in the territory involved was set forth also. The Southern Pacific asserted that water transportation has taken away 91 per cent of its tonnage from the railroads.

It also argued that benefit to either applicant would be improbable, asserting that the possible traffic had been overestimated and cost underestimated. The Southern Pacific contended that the cost of the link would be about $20,000,000, as against an estimate of $12,500,000 by the petitioning lines.

The opposing railroad also asserted that the petitioners were counting upon greater revenues than were derived from existing lines and that the proposed construction would serve no local needs of importance.

ESSEX CHALLENGER WEEK

A strictly stock Essex Challenger Sedan broke all records to Furnace Creek Inn at an average speed of 49.9 miles per hour, with hood locked, preventing any attention to motor. Gas consumption was in excess of 19.8 miles per gallon.

The Death Valley Challenger, after making this new record, was driven up and down the rough desert in new demonstrations of speed, endurance and reliability, which included a run of sixty-five miles down a rocky creek bed on a new route to Death Valley Scotty's mysterious Castle buried in the mountains.

In every part of the United States and Canada more than five thousand Essex cars participated in Challenger Week. Average speed established above seventy miles an hour. Economy shown in every sort of performance in excess of twenty miles to the gallon. Reliability—over thirteen hundred miles in twenty-four hours. Brake tests exceed police safety requirments by forty per cent. Fast getaway from standing start to fifty miles an hour in 11 seconds; to sixty in 15½ seconds; to seventy in 24 seconds. These are but a few high spots attained in the wonderful results and records of Challenger Week.

Come take a ride yourself. Know by personal experience what this brilliant New Essex Challenger can do. Its exploits of Challenger Week have swept the country. They were so widely followed and aided by public participation that we are continuing the invitation to Ride—Ride—Ride!

Every locality now knows Essex for the accomplishment of some great feat. Hills seldom attempted in any car were climbed by Essex in high gear. Remarkable economy proofs were established. New acceleration marks were made. Intercity records for automobiles and for crack trains were lowered. Even many of the famous records set by the previous Essex Challenger were shattered.

Thousands of car owners took part. Thousands of Essex cars engaged. Hundreds of towns and cities watched. Hundreds of thousands took personal interest in what Essex did.

Most important of all—Challenger Week convinced tens of thousands that Essex represents the greatest dollar for dollar value in car satisfaction that the industry offers. They are talking about it everywhere—about its beauty—its comfort—its brilliant performance and economy. They are convincing others. They are sending others to ride. They are making YOU want to ride before you buy any car. We will gladly give you a personal demonstration of any of these proofs which Essex has established.

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As the last horseman disappeared, a swift change came over "Big Buana." Leaping upward, he caught a lower branch and drew himself into the tree. His movements were cat-like and agile. High into the upper branches he made his way and there commenced to divest himself of his clothing. From the game bag slung across one shoulder he drew a strip of doe-skin, a neatly coiled rope, and a wicked looking knife. When he stood erect a grim smile touched his lips.

He threw back his head, his great chest expanded and his nostrils dilated as he sniffed the jungle air. His grey eyes narrowed. Crouching, he leaped to a lower limb and swung rapidly away into the jungle. Moving swiftly, he stopped only occasionally to raise his voice in a weird and piercing scream—and to listen for a reply. Several hours later, he heard, far off, a faint response. His nerves tingled. It was a bull-ape answering his cry.

Korak, finally becoming convinced that he must die if he remained where he was, spoke to Tantor in the strange tongue the elephant understood. He commanded the great beast to lift him and carry him toward the northeast. As Tantor bore him along Korak called aloud now and then in the hope of attracting Akut's band of apes, whose wanderings often brought them into this neighborhood. "Akut," he thought, "may possibly be able to unloose the knots."

It was worth trying at least—better than lying there in the jungle until he perished. The great ape had freed him from similar bonds upon that other occasion when the Russian had imprisoned Korak, years before in far off London. Traveling thus, alternately listening and calling, his heart beat faster as, far off in the jungle, he heard a welcome, hideous cry. Akut to the south of him had heard and was coming! There was another who heard them, too.

SKY SPEEDER WINS RIGHT TO CARRY ON

NAVY ACE ESCAPES SEA DUTY

Williams Resigns Only to Have Ship Order Revoked; Speed Plans to Go On

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—The Navy today revoked orders sending its air-speed ace, Lieut. Alford J. Williams, to sea for three years.

The speed aviator has submitted his resignation rather than accept duties which would prevent his carrying on speed experimentations.

No action has been taken on the resignation. It is in the hands of Admiral Richard Lee, acting chief of operations of the navy.

Williams gave as his reasons for resigning "to organize a program for building a plane which will recover the world's aviation speed record for the United States and thereby stimulate American interest in the development of high speed; and in order that I shall be free to devote my full time and energy, without constraint, to the accomplishment of this determination."

Three Dead in Fire at Duluth; One Man Missing

DULUTH (Minn.) March 7. (AP) Three persons, an aged woman and two small children, were burned to death, while a man was unaccounted for in a spectacular fire that tonight destroyed a six-story office building and rooming-house in the downtown district of Duluth.

The bodies of the three, one a child in a crib, were found by firemen in a room on the third floor of the building three hours after the fire had started.

The dead are Mrs. Thomas, about 70 years of age; Helen Todd, 7, and her 5-year-old sister, Barbara.

Firemen continued to search the building, which was still burning after 11 o'clock tonight, for Nels Swanson, believed to have perished.

South Dakota Flood Caused by River Ice

VERMILLION (S. D.) March 7. (AP)—Lowlands for about seven miles along the Missouri River south of here were flooded today by an ice gorge which formed about the mouth of the Vermillion River near Burbank. Several families were taken from their homes by boats and others moved to higher locations shortly before the water backed up. Damage to property will run into thousands of dollars, farmers said.

In some places the Missouri River was three miles wide. Land on the Nebraska side apparently was not seriously affected.

Three Missing in Tanker Fire

KEARNEY (N. J.) March 7. (AP)—Three men were reported missing after an explosion and fire tonight on a Puroil Oil Company ocean-going tanker. One member of the crew escaped by jumping into the Passaic River.

The blazing tanker after setting fire to the oil company's wharves drifted back and forth with the tide and finally sank on the west shore in front of the Public Service Company's wharves in Newark.

Police rescued the man who leaped into the river, but declined to reveal his name. He said he and the three missing men were all who were aboard the tanker at the time of the explosion.

New Gas Price Cut in Portland

PORTLAND (Or.) March 7. (AP)—Signs advertising gasoline for 18½ cents a gallon appeared on many local service stations today as the retail price of motor fuel dropped another cent. However, the general price was 16½ cents and in other parts of the city ranged as high as normal, 21 cents.

It was revealed today that all distributors, with two exceptions, have reduced the wholesale price of gasoline from 17½ to 15½ cents a gallon.

That the present "war" is having serious effects was indicated by the closing of several established stations today.

FORTY VICTIMS OF PARALYSIS

Poisoned Liquor Blamed for Strange Malady

Sufferers Tell of Drinking Jamaica Ginger

Oklahoma City Physicians Studying Cases

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 7. (AP) A strange malady with paralytic characteristics, apparently caused originally by the drinking of poisoned liquor, tonight had placed about forty victims in Oklahoma City hospitals, with probably as many more receiving treatment in their homes.

Dr. W. H. Miles, city physician, who was called upon to cope with the outbreak, is seeking to determine the cause of the illness and whether it is communicable.

The greater part of the victims lost the use of their feet and legs and most of them told Dr. Miles and Dr. E. Goldfain, a nerve specialist assisting him, that their illness had followed drinking of alcoholic liquor. Several victims, however, including a chiropodist and a minister, denied they had partaken of liquor.

The health officer's belief that the illness was caused by drinking is strengthened by the fact that the greater part said they had drunk Jamaica ginger. Several victims gave a newspaperman the names of drug stores from which they said they had bought the beverage. Five druggists or drug-store employees are among the victims.

FORD GIVES GEORGIANS INSTRUCTION IN DANCES

MOUNT BERRY (Ga.) March 7. (AP)—Henry Ford's own dancing instructors are teaching the mountain boys and girls of Georgia the old-fashioned dances of their mothers and fathers.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford, Sir Wilfred Grenfell, noted scientist, and Lady Grenfell, have been here inspecting the Berry schools as the guests of Miss Martha Berry, director and founder of the institution exclusively for the sons and daughters of the hill country.

Several days before the arrival of the manufacturer and his party, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Levett, Ford's dancing instructors, came to the schools to teach the students the quaint old quadrille, mazurka and waltzes, famous among the older generation.

Wednesday night and again last night Mr. and Mrs. Ford personally demonstrated the steps of the dances of yesteryear and were applauded several minutes by the admiring students. The ease and grace of the Fords brought forth praise from the youthful students.

ZEPPELIN MADE FOR FAMILY USE

Shenandoah Pilot Building Flivver Airship

NEW YORK, March 7. (Exclusive)—The "flivver" of the air, an airship within the price range of the four-cylinder car, became a possibility today when Capt. Anton Heinen, former pilot of the Shenandoah, started on the first park-your-own Zeppelin in his shop at Ventnor, N. J.

Capt. Heinen was reticent with respect to most of the details of the novel craft but he said it will be absolutely foolproof and will cost only about $1000.

Just how far this family dirigible of Capt. Heinen's will go toward alleviating the traffic tangle on land was not clear from his statement today, but it is surmised that it may be parked on the lawn and stowed in an ordinary one-car garage when the bag has been deflated.

MYSTERY DEBT PAID TO CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7. (Exclusive)—City Treasurer Matheson opened an anonymous letter today, from which dropped a $1 bill and a note reading: "I owe $1 to the city. Please accept same and give me a clear conscience."

HIGHWAY ENGINEER NAMED

SACRAMENTO, March 7. (AP)—Appointment of Roy Franck of Redding as district highway engineer with headquarters in Red Bluff was announced today by Bert B. Meek, director of the State Department of Public Works.

ACTION URGED ON BONUS BILL

Bratton Makes Senate Plea for Veterans' Measure

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—The Senate tonight heard a plea for early action on the bill by Senator Barkley, Democrat, Kentucky, authorizing the government to pay the World War veterans the face value of their bonus or adjusted service certificates.

Senator Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico, made the appeal and Senator Barkley announced he hopes for favorable action by the Finance Committee on the measure, as soon as the tariff bill is out of the way.

Chairman Smoot of the committee, indicating disapproval, observed that the bill would cost the government more than $1,000,000,000.

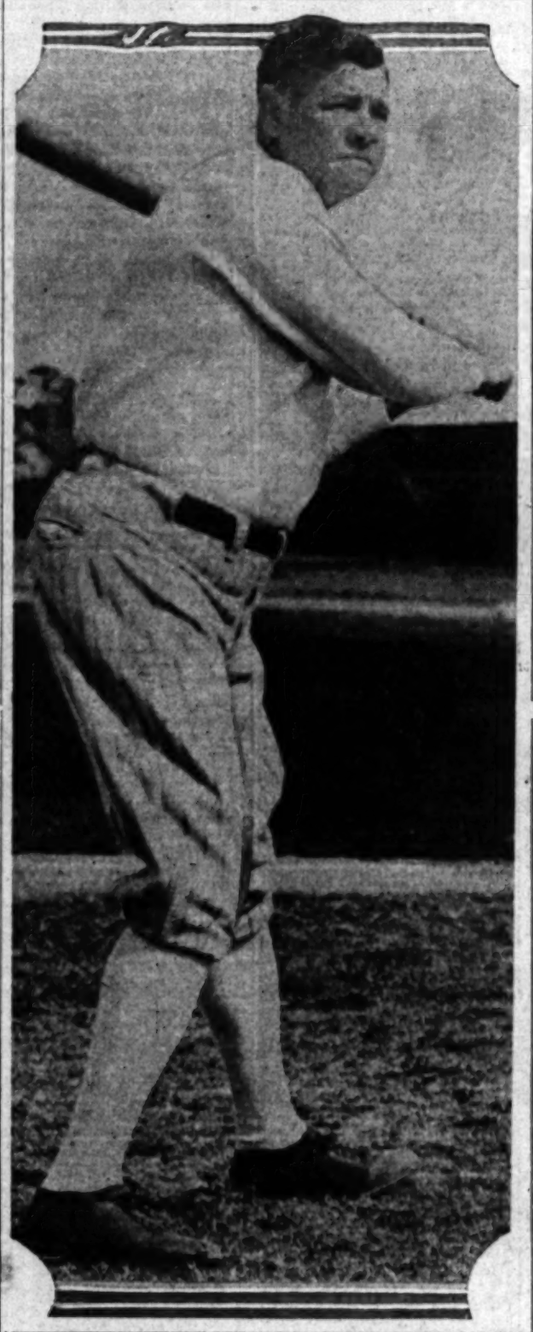
Ruth and Ruppert Still at Odds

STILL A HOLDOUT

Here's Babe Ruth with his mighty bludgeon, a combination for which Col. John Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, refuses to pay $85,000 per year for a period of two years. Ruth and the colonel had a conference at St. Petersburg, Fla., the Yanks' training camp, yesterday, and were reported $5000 closer—but still apart. [P. & A. photo]



FOUR MEETS ON TRACK PROGRAM

A.A.U. Relays Continued at Long Beach Field

Oxy and Caltech; San Diego, Redlands to Clash

Pomona and Bruins in Tilt at Westwood Oval

Track-and-field athletes of this region are in for a big day this afternoon with no less than four meets scheduled. The most important event on the program is the revival of the A.A.U. relays at Long Beach, featuring the Trojans of Southern California and the Mercuries of the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

Occidental faces Caltech at Patterson Field while Redlands entertains the San Diego State College squad. These are Southern California Conference meets.

Pomona and U.C.L.A., rivals for many years, are slated to tangle at Westwood in a meet which should be closer than any of the others.

TROJANS PERFORM

The A.A.U. meet will give local dopesters their first definite line on the strength of Dean Cromwell's Trojans. It will also mark the debut of Frank Wykoff, national sprint champion two years ago, in the Cardinal and Gold of Southern California.

Wykoff will run on two Trojan relay teams and will also compete in an open 100-yard dash, which it is said will be held, although no definite announcement of such a race has been made.

Cromwell has four fine sprinters in Wykoff, Weldon Draper, Milton Maurer and Red Guyer. These athletes are out to break the world's record of 41 flat for the 440-yard baton-passing event.

Boyd Comstock's Mercuries will provide the Trojans with their main opposition in all relay races, but Cromwell's teams should win practically every baton-passing affair on the program. In the field events

CAGEY RIVALS NEARING DEAL

Principals Part Friends as Reunion Anticipated

Both Make Concessions, But Fail to Agree

Colonel Raises Ante Again; Bambino Shakes Head

ST. PETERSBURG (Fla.) March 7. (AP)—The first salary conference today between Babe Ruth and Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, failed when the home-run king rejected a compromise offer of $85,000 for 1930 or $80,000 for each of the next two seasons.

Ruth and Ruppert each made concessions, coming closer to an agreement than they have been at any time since the big debate arose, but the conference held in the clubhouse at Crescent Park broke up without a fountain pen being produced or any indication when the famous hitter will come to terms.

Ruth countered Col. Ruppert's offer with a proposition to sign for $85,000 for the next two years, but the owner declined.

Previously, Ruth's demand was a three-year contract at $85,000, while the best Yank offer had been $75,000 for a two-year term.

The Colonel's concession today came as a surprise as he had been emphatic before-hand in saying the club had gone the limit at $75,000.

"What will be the next move?" Col. Ruppert was asked, as he called newspaper men into the clubhouse.

"I don't know," he replied. "This is absolutely as far as I can go with the Babe. In fact, I think my offer today was more than fair."

Neither Ruth nor Ruppert gave the impression they regarded the remaining breach as too great to be closed.

"What's $5000 between us?" asked the Babe. "That's no dough."

The big hitter said he would play right along in practice and exhibition games, "if they want me to." Col. Ruppert said he would remain in St. Petersburg until at least March 25, assuming an attitude of "watchful waiting."

MRS. LIFUR IN LINKS VICTORY

Defeats Mrs. Hutchings at Pebble Beach, 3 and 1

Faces Miss Hollins Today for Championship

Helen Lawson Defeated on Nineteenth Hole

DEL MONTE (Cal.) March 7. (AP) Miss Marion Hollins of Carmel and New York, former national champion, and Mrs. Gregg Lifur of Los Angeles, stroked their way to the finals of the Pebble Beach women's golf championship by victories today in the semifinal matches.

Miss Hollins won a place in the final round by disposing of Miss Helen Lawson of Hollywood on the nineteenth hole while Mrs. Lifur had an easier time by eliminating Mrs. Vera Hutchings, Vancouver, B. C., 3 and 1.

The Hollins-Lawson match was a thriller. Miss Lawson had the advantage all the way to the eighteenth, where Miss Hollins layed her a perfect stymie to win the hole, thereby squaring the match. On the extra hole, the Hollywood girl was weak on her approach while Miss Hollins played a great niblick shot from the rough below the green, to get on in 3. Miss Lawson was on in 4 but was still away, and she missed her putt. Her opponent putted within inches for a sure 5 and a win.

Many in the large gallery expected a close match in the Lifur-Hutchings meeting but the Los Angeles entrant gained the lead at the start and was never down. Her Canadian rival squared the match on the sixth and again on the tenth but Mrs. Lifur won the eleventh. The next four holes were halved and Mrs. Lifur's pars won the next two and the match.

Smiling skies brought out a large gallery but a much bigger turnout is expected tomorrow for the 18-hole finals. Both Miss Hollins and Mrs. Lifur have many adherents and a hard-fought match is expected. Miss Hollins is given a slight edge by the visiting experts.

HUSKIES DROP OPENER OF COAST CAGE TITLE SERIES

Southern California Five Proves Too Classy for Northerners; Frank Smith High Scorer

BY BRAVEN DYER

Sam Barry's Trojans got off on the right foot in their quest for the basketball championship of the Pacific Coast Conference by defeating Washington, 46 to 31, before 6000 fans at the Olympic last night. The rival teams play again this evening on the same floor.

Except for a brief period soon after the start of the game the Southern California quintet dominated the situation. Score at half-time was 24 to 16 in favor of the Trojans and, with the game won after fifteen minutes of play in the second period Coach Barry inserted an entire team of substitutes.

Aside from the first five minutes of the first half the issue was never in doubt, so superior was the passing and basket shooting of the battling Trojans. However, this should not be taken to mean the Washington hasn't a chance in tonight's game. The Huskies missed a lot of easy shots last night and in addition lost a number of attempts which rimmed the basket and refused to go down. Things may break differently this evening.

SMITH HIGH SCORER

Jess Mortensen, Johnny Lehners and Web Caldwell carried the brunt of Southern California's attack, although it was Frank Smith who won high-point honors with 13 digits. Mortensen's great work featured practically every effort

OWENS HELD TO DRAW BY BITTO

Scrappers Put Up Fast Go at Hollywood Stadium

Joe Bitto, the rejuvenated clown boxer, surprised the Hollywood Legion fight fans last night by holding Ernie Owens to a ten-round draw in the main event at the Movie City club.

Owens, who enjoyed an eleven-pound edge, had been figured to give Bitto a trouncing, but Joe's crouch bothered Owens considerably. Ernie was unable to hit Bitto squarely.

Bitto gave a very good exhibition, opening a cut over Owens's eye as well as bruising his mouth. Owens weighed 174, while Bitto tipped the scales at 163.

The verdict was well received by the fans.

Hector McDonald took a six-round decision over Battling Bulahan in the semi-wind-up. Leo Rammage stopped Jimmy McDermott in the second round of the special event. McDermott's handlers threw in the towel, their battler being unable to meet the bell for the third round.

CARDS FACE OLYMPIC CLUB

Templeton's Trackmen to Entertain Aggregation from Bay City in Tough Meet Today

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (Palo Alto) March 7.—Having met and defeated a collection of stars competing for the Los Angeles Athletic Club, "Dink" Templeton's Stanford track-and-field team will be called upon to face an even more formidable array of talent when Charlie Hunter's Olympic Club aggregation invades the campus tomorrow afternoon.

The Olympic Club - Stanford meet promises to develop more thrills than did the L.A.A.C. battle, particularly in the track events. Heo Dyer, star Cardinal sprinter, has his work cut out for him if he is to defeat Russell Sweet, former Montana flyer, in the 100 and 220. Sweet was credited with 9 2-5s. in the century last season and is said to be in good condition.

Morrison should break the tape for the redshirts in the quarter-mile, but the tussle for the second and third places will be a great one. Shove of the collegians and Hubbard of the club look to be about even and there will probably be little space between them at the finish. Tatum, Davis and Rust of the club and Hables of the Cards are other possibilities.

The half-mile looks like an Olympic Club event and it is hard to see how Stanford can do better than third place. Fuller should be an easy winner and Baker, if in shape, ought to be pretty close behind him. That should leave Atkinson and Cooper of Stanford to decide the third place with Dole.

Harry Carter, star miler of the University of California last year, should be the winner in the mile if he is in shape, but Parker, who

GLENNA COLLETT LOSES MATCH

Maureen Orcutt Upsets National Women's Golf Champion by Score of 2 and 1 in Florida East Coast Tourney; Virginia Van Wie Enters Final Round

ST. AUGUSTINE (Fla.) March 7. (AP)—Miss Maureen Orcutt, metropolitan and eastern champion, sprang the greatest surprise of winter golf in Florida today by defeating Miss Glenna Collett, national women's champion, 2 and 1, in the Florida east coast championship.

The national champion lost the match on the seventeenth when she was half-stymied by Miss Orcutt, who took a 4, forcing her opponent to a 5.

In the other bracket, Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, triumphed, 3 and 2, over Helen Hicks, New York, to win the right to meet Miss Orcutt in the final match tomorrow. Miss Van Wie was 3 up at the turn, never losing the lead.

MONROVIA WINS MEET

Monrovia defeated Fullerton, 76½ to 30½, in a track meet held at Fullerton yesterday. The meet marked the opening of the track season in the Foothill League. The Monrovia Class C team also trounced the Fullerton midgets, the score being 68 to 9.

SHEA WHIPS SMITH

HELEN WILLS MOODY THRICE VICTOR AT NET

STANFORD UNIVERSITY March 7.—With 3000 tennis fans packed into the bleachers around the Stanford varsity courts and with hundreds more clamoring at the gates, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody was three times a victor in a trio of exhibition matches here today, playing before the public for the first time since her marriage.

Capt. Larry Hall of the Stanford varsity fell before Helen's deadly serve and was defeated in the feature singles set of the afternoon. The score was 6-2.

Teamed with Hall, Mrs. Moody was again a winner when two Stanford players, Ted Easton and Larry Driscoll, were defeated in a doubles set, by an 8-6 score. In this encounter Helen and her collegiate partner were hard put to cope with the two Cardinal stars.

With Miss Evelyn Parsons of Palo Alto, national girls' title-holder, and Chuck Weesner of Stanford as opponents, Mrs. Moody and Harry Plymire, also of Stanford, won a mixed doubles set, 6-4.

OXY TO FACE TROJANS AND MERCURIES IN TRACKFEST

Arrangements were completed yesterday for a triangular track meet to be staged next Saturday between the S.C. Trojans, the L. A. A. C. and Occidental College. It is planned to stage the event on Paterson Field.

In order to give Joe Pipal's Tigers an even chance with both the Trojans and Mercuries, the two latter teams will be limited to sending two men to the post in each event, with no man entering more than one event. Four places will be counted for points.

Cromwell probably will send Frank Wykoff and Weldon Draper into the 100, with Milt Maurer and Red Guyer running the 220. Occidental promises to score heavily in the field, as the Trojan stars will not be able to compete in more than one event. For instance, Bob Hall will probably compete in the discus, but not the shot; while Jim Stewart is likely to perform in the shot, but not the discus or high jump. With Herman Brix scheduled to go East, the clubites lose five sure points, and give the Tigers an extra chance.

In all, the meet gives every indication of being one of the best of the local season, as both the Trojans and Mercuries possess strong teams.

DUNHAM TAKES BOTH SPRINTS

Toiler Dashman Wins 10s. Century Run

Lott Noses Out Satterfield in Fast Quarter

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Proving that they have one of the strongest dual track teams in the City League, the Manual Arts Toilers trampled on the Poly Mechanics, 59-36, yesterday afternoon on the Toilers' field in the feature battle of the opening of the local prep dual meet season.

That Coach Eddie Leahy's runners put up a stiff fight can be seen from the fact the Mechanics took seven second places, and practically every one of the second-spot men missed out on first place by inches.

DUNHAM SURPRISES

Coaches Charley Toney and Sid Foster pulled a surprise right at the start when Bob Dunham won the century in the fast time of 10s. Both Lawry Osburn of Manual and Cooper, Poly sprinter, who placed second and third, respectively, were within inches of Dunham.

To prove that his victory in the 100 was not a fluke, Dunham came back later to win the 220 in the fast time of 22 4-5s.

Gil Martin, the Toilers' star high jumper, set a new school record in the high jump with a prodigious leap of 6ft. 2 3-8in. Martin's mark is the best made in Southern California this year.

One of the best races of the day was between Satterfield of Manual and Lott of Poly in the quarter-mile. Lott trailed the Toiler black boy all the way around and barely nosed him out at the finish in the remarkable time of 51 4-5s.

HURDLE MIX-UP

There was a mix-up in the high hurdles, the Toiler boys in charge of putting up the high sticks not placing them the correct distances apart. Glenn Mack, Poly captain, won the race but had to run around one hurdle besides knocking over a couple of others. When the officials checked up, they ruled that the race should be run over, but as the event had no bearing on the actual outcome of the meet, the boys didn't run again and the points were thrown out.

The summary:

INGLEWOOD SENTINELS NOSE OUT MEET WIN

Charley (Virginia) Hull was again the star performer for Inglewood High School's stellar track team, and the Sentinels nosed out a win in a triangular meet with Woodrow Wilson High of Long Beach and San Pedro High held on the Presidents' field. Hull scored ten of his team's 63 points with firsts in both the shot put and the discus throw.

The Woodrow Wilson tracksters annexed 61 digits, with the Pirates trailing with 17 points. Du Puy, star hurdler, did not compete for Inglewood since he is to run today in the A.A.U. relays at Long Beach Poly High, and several other Sentinel stars were in poor condition. Diebold of Inglewood turned in a respectable mile race, winning the event in 4m. 47s. flat, and Ramsey took first in the pole vault for the Sentinels with a vault of 12ft. The summary:

The clash, which took place on the Democrats' oval, saw the Jefferson team coached by Jimmy Purcell, collect 55 points, with Franklin collecting 39¼ digits and the Tigers finishing a close third with 36½ points.

The meet was featured by the toppling over of the City League shot-put record by Carter of Franklin. In his second attempt at tossing the pellet, Carter hit the 49ft. 10in. mark, which bettered the former mark by 6 inches. Lesley of Los Angeles High was the holder of the old shot-put record.

VENICE HIGH TAKES MEET

Venice High won the varsity and Class B meet, but the Compton Lions annexed the C division in track meets held yesterday on the Compton High School track. The Gondoliers had a comparatively easy time winning the varsity encounter, scoring 66⅔ points to 46⅓ for the Lions. The Venice Bees had a harder time than their brothers, however, winning a 53-to-42 decision.

The Class C meet was the most thrilling of the day, and was won by the Lions in the relay. Swartz, Venice star, scored 15 points to lead the C division.

Albert McNeely, San Diego boy, who is trying to make a spot for himself in the star outfield, will get his chance tomorrow as well. He will handle center field with Frank Wetzel, obtained from the Texas League, in left, and Gene Smith, a newcomer, in right.

The infield will have Mickey Heath, veteran first baseman, to steady it down with Mike Maloney at second base, Lou Catina at third base and Edwin Leishman, a sweet fielding recruit, at short stop. Pete Schwegel will do the catching. No line-up was available on the Seattle club last night but a mixed band of regulars and rookies is expected to start the game. The entire squad will make the trip south as a second nine will be used for the fracas Sunday.

Mr. Paulino Pacifies Trio of Managers

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish heavyweight, peacefully settled his differences today with a trio of former managers, Al Mayer, Bertys Perry and Arthur Soules. A division of the profits of Uzcudun's bout here with Otto Von Porat had threatened to result in law suits. The controversy was settled, Paulino said, by awarding the three former pilots 10 per cent of his share in the receipts of that match. Billy Gibson, former manager of Gene Tunney, now is Paulino's mentor.

In the feature match of the day Jack De Lara, Trojan star, slashed his way to a 6-4, 6-4 triumph over the ranking California player, Dolph Muehleisen. The Bears scored their lone singles victory when Capt. Martin McKee, left-handed chop-stroke artist, nosed out Barr, 6-3, 8-6.

Other results:

Singles—Oates (U.S.C.) defeated Muench (C.) 6-3, 6-6, 8-6; Klum (U.S.C.) defeated Budge (C.) 6-3, 9-7.

Doubles—Muench and Muehleisen (C.) defeated De Lara and Klum (U.S.C.) 6-3, 6-3; McKee and Lindlow (C.) defeated Oates and Barr (U.S.C.) 6-4, 6-4.

Boycroft Cops Turf Feature

AGUA CALIENTE (Mex.) March 7.—Boycroft, four-year-old gelding, accounted for the principal race today, a mile dash for selling platers. The Palcines gelding headed Northampton after going half the distance and, racing well, drew away to win by four lengths. Northampton stumbled on the far turn and never thereatened the winner thereafter. Baby Blue raced to the show. Time for the mile was 1:41 1-5. The track was good today and drying out fast, promising a fast strip tomorrow.

Chief's Mountaineer scored a neck victory over Sun Coat in the secondary attraction of the afternoon, a race at a mile and one-sixteenth for three-year-olds. Nation Wide got the show. Results:

First race, seven furlongs—Amelia May (Depsee,) won; Miss Dona (O'Brien,) second; Muriel (Level,) third. Time, 1:28 4-5.

Second race, seven furlongs—Anna Dan (Pertchy,) won; Nama (May,) second; Patricia (Shutte,) third. Time, 1:28 3-5.

TUFFY GRIFFITHS ON VERGE OF KNOCKOUT

BOSTON, March 7. (AP)—Gerald Ambrose (Tuffy) Griffiths, of Chicago, barely escaped being knocked out here tonight while he was outpointing Gritty Al Friedman, Boston heavyweight, in the Boston Garden's ten-round feature bout, a sizzling, slugging set-to. In the seventh Friedman's hard lefts to the body had Tuffy in great distress, but the bell sounded before the Boston boy could put over a finishing blow. Griffiths weighed 184½ and Friedman 182.

GARFIELD MIDGETS WIN

Winning all but one first place the Garfield High School Class C team wallopped the University lightweights, 75 to 11, in a meet held at Garfield yesterday. Hertwig, with a first place in the low hurdles and a second in the pole vault, proved to be the high-point man of the day for the Bulldogs.

Trojans Win Over Huskies

made by the Trojans. His passing, done with consummate ease and skill, was beautiful to watch.

Lehners and Caldwell guarded their territory splendidly and in addition took part in many plays which carried the ball under the basket, from which point Smith or Jack Gardner dropped it through the net.

For the Huskies Hal (Stork) McClary, 6ft. 6in. center; "Jiggs" Jaloff, midget 125-pound forward, and "Cat" Cairney, brilliant sophomore guard, were the outstanding players. McClary was guarded closely by Caldwell, who stands 6ft. 4in. tall himself and Web did an exceptionally good job of it.

Jaloff was given a tremendous hand when he left the game in the second half, giving way to Perry. The little rabbit dashed up and down the court in a succession of brilliant dribbles and proved himself a splendid shot. Cairney's guarding was all that could be asked. He went out of the game midway in the second half on personal fouls.

Field goals by Caldwell and Mortensen against one for McClary put the Trojans off to a 4-to-2 lead at the start of the game. Mortensen followed with a free throw, but then Jaloff, McClary and West broke through with field goals to give Washington an 8-to-5 edge. Smith bobbed up with two baskets, one after a particularly brilliant piece of work by Mortensen, and the Trojans had the lead again, 9 to 8. Gardner was fouled while trying for a field goal under the basket and when he caged his two free throws the count was 11 to 8. From this point the Trojans were never in danger, the half ending, 24 to 16.

Starting the second period the home-town boys ran the count to 32 to 18 before Washington got under way. Smith accounted for six of these points on field goals, Caldwell getting the other. Swanson finally caged a field goal for the Huskies and then Cairney went out of the game on personal fouls, Mortensen getting another basket to make the score 34 to 20 at the time of "Cat's" farewell.

Capt. Lehners had a streak of long-shot baskets soon after this, caging two brilliant shots from the side court. West's dribbling enabled him to work his way under the basket and add to Washington's total.

As had been expected "Stork" McClary, with his tremendous reach, got the majority of the tip-offs over Caldwell and Mortensen, but not until the former had taken the play away from the Husky string-bean on the first eight or nine attempts. Caldwell's feat was quite startling, but once the Stork got himself unlimbered there was nothing to it, despite the heroic efforts of the two Trojans, who alternated at center in an effort to wear Mr. McClary down to their size.

The superior bulk of the Trojans belied their speed. Barry's offense is a deliberate one in the backcourt, but once in shooting distance the Trojan attack gains terrific speed and it was this feature which apparently baffled the Huskies, who were unable to keep tab on the fast-moving locals once Sam's plays got rolling along.

The Trojans looked like champions last night and if they maintain their form this evening they should be title-holders along about 9:30. If they don't there will be a third game Monday.

TROY ICE TEAM PLAYS GILMORES

Taking on some unusually tough competition, the University of Southern California ice hockey team will meet the Gilmore Oil Lions today at 2 p.m. in the Winter Garden. The Trojan hockey men are stepping into a speedy class in order to get warmed up for their game next Saturday here with the University of California squad. For the Gilmore contest, Coach Charles Hartley and Advisory Coach Bill Eddy have revamped the Trojan line-up, putting Paul Brassard at center and starting Apsit and Rosen at defense. The Trojans have been playing a fast offensive game recently but have been weak defensively and this shift may prove effective against the Oilers.

Included in the personnel are Tyrrell and Hoffman, catchers; Lugo, Payne and Novak, pitchers; Ray Bates, captain; and first base; Gunther, second; Handley, third; Ritter, shortstop; DeMaggio, Smith, Bunny, Tansola and Cooper, outfield. All have had professional experience, having been members of the Pacific Coast and Western leagues.

GARFIELD TRIMS LINCOLN

Garfield High's baseballers yesterday took the measure of Coach Frank Malette's Lincoln High second team, 6-4, in a game held at Hazard Field. The Bull Dogs' win over the Tiger sub pill tossers was marked by the heavy clouting of St. Mary and Gonsales, Garfield's willow wielders. The game, which went seven innings, saw the Tiger varsity making a vain attempt to overcome the Bull Dogs' lead in the last canto.

HESS SHOWS STRENGTH

Goldie Hess boxed six rounds yesterday at the Main-street gymnasium. He is stronger now than he has been at any time since he had an operation for removing his tonsils.

Feeling runs high in Goldie's camp that he will beat Eddie Mack when they box Tuesday night at the Olympic. Art Craig, trainer, is coaching Hess to crouch and bob like Maurice Holtzer did against the Denver boy.

Holtzer's style gave Mack the most trouble he has had here in six fights. The Hess crowd believes that Mack is stalling them on the weight and that the real reason he advanced the poundage to 136 was to try to get out of the fight.

the Mercuries should turn the tables.

Occidental is a heavy favorite to win over Caltech. The Engineers have not the man power to compete on even terms with Joe Pipal's powerful team. Shuler should make some points in the weights for the Pasadena team, while Skoog in the distances ought to place.

Redlands, with one of her best teams in years, will undoubtedly go down to defeat before the better-balanced Aztec team, a squad which may make things hot for Pomona and Occidental in the battle for conference honors this year.

Coach Peterson has a fine weight man in Johnny Brose. He should win the shot, discus and hammer without much trouble. Linwood Brown and Norman Taylor, the latter of Redlands, are billed for a great battle in the opening event of the day, the mile. Taylor did 4m. 32s. against Occidental last week, which is fast enough to make Brown extend himself to win.

U.C.L.A.'s superior all-around strength is figured to give the Bruins a close victory over Pomona. The Sagehens are strong in the broad jump and hurdles and ought to score heavily in these events with King, Shannon and Inman leaping, and Hunt, Kupfer and Dickinson clearing the barriers.

All races from the 440 through the two-mile should be closely contested.

CARDS TO FACE OLYMPIC CLUB

turned in a surprise win against L.A.A.C. last Saturday, will give him a great fight.

Coach Hunter has a fine pair of two-milers in Geericke and Fraser and each looks capable of beating out Brown who was third in a 10:02 9-5 race last Saturday.

The hurdles should be the most thrilling races of the day with several high-class timber toppers entered. Kaster, sensational Fresno State hurdler, and Ward Edmonds, Stanford's iron man of last year, are the club's best bets, while Podge Smith is Templeton's ace.

Santiago Leaves for California

Armand Santiago, the disappearing Cuban who was finally located in his native country with a brand-new wife, leaves today for California, his manager, Frank Churchill, announced last night.

Booked to fight Billy Townsend at the Olympic on April 1, Santiago is due here in about ten days to train for the battle.

Originally the rematch of these boys, who fought the most sensational fight ever seen in the Olympic ring, was booked for the 25th inst.

But Santiago disappeared, and remained on the missing list until slightly over a week ago. He was located in Cuba, having gone home to get married without a mention of his intentions to anyone.

HOFFMAN IN TOP MAIN-STREET GO

Sailor Pete Hoffman, knockout victor over George Trenkle and Bud Gorman, will face Sandy Garrison Casanova, 165-pound Scotch-Mexican star, in the chief battle on tonight's 30-round program at the Main-street Athletic Club. Hoffman also holds decisions over Bobby Near and Ed Shepherd. Casanova has beaten all comers during the last eighteen months. Mateo Magdaleno, 118-pounder who holds a pair of wins over Jack (Red) Stephens, meets Pastor Calope in the semi-wind-up, with Louie Fernandez and Harry Goodland, 165-pounders, in the six-round special event. Three other bouts complete the card.

CUBS TAKE ON ANGELS TODAY

tomary time of 2:15 o'clock and ladies will have the privilege of being admitted free or paying. Inasmuch as it's a benefit affair for Mrs. Sandberg and her two young sons, it is presumed that everyone will pay. The Los Angeles Fire Department will have a record delegation on hand, their band being present to furnish music for the occasion. The firemen have taken more than 1200 tickets for the game to help swell the fund for Sandberg's family.

Joe McCarthy announced last night that he would use Lou Warneke, Bud Teachout and Al Shealy on the mound for the Cubs, with the one and only Gabby Hartnett doing the bulk of the receiving. It will be the first regulation game that Hartnett has caught since last spring, when his arm went bad on him and forced him out of service for the whole 1929 season. Gabby's wing is again functioning as of yore and he's twice as peppery now because the return to form of his throwing arm means that his baseball days aren't over.

Skipper Lelivelt plans to send three of his most promising youngsters — Glenn Gabler, Bob Green and Charley Moncrief — to the mound against the heavy-hitting Chicagoans. All three have shown plenty of stuff during spring training and Lelivelt believes that they'll give the Cubs plenty of worry up at the plate.

REARDON TO UMPIRE

A little more big-league color will be lent to today's game with Beans Reardon, known in these parts as the Boy Bandit, doing the umpiring behind the plate. Reardon went up to the majors from the Coast League, is a local boy that has made good and has plenty of friends in Los Angeles.

ANGEL ROOKIES WALLOP TROJAN NINE, 14-2

Much has been said about the value of a college education but something was done to disprove it out at Wrigley Field yesterday when Jack Lelivelt's prize crop of Angel rookies handed the University of Southern California nine a 14-to-2 walloping.

Some 2000 fans, hungry for baseball, turned out for the practice affair and saw the Seraph Rooks bunch their bingles with Trojan miscues to pile up fourteen runs in the first five innings and then sit back and wait for the game to end.

Both sides used three pitchers, Osborn, Hurst and Lefty Greer doing the twirling for the Angels, and Williamson, Dryden and Griffin dividing the mound duty for S.C. Osborn and Hurst each yielded one run to the collegians, while Greer southpawed the Trojans scoreless during his three-inning stretch.

FITKIN ANNEXES TRANSPORT LINE

Pacific Freight Taken Over by Utility Unit

Utility Holding Head Gives Out Announcement

Los Angeles to be Central Operating Point

Acquisition of Pacific Freight Lines, Inc., by United American Utilities, Inc., was announced yesterday by D. A. Pepp, president of A. E. Fitkin & Company, Ltd., which controls the utility holding company.

Pacific Freight Lines, Inc., comprises the following companies: Motor Freight Terminal Co.; San Joaquin Valley Transportation Co.; Imperial Valley-Los Angeles Express, Inc.; Los Angeles and San Pedro Transportation Co., and Pacific Tank Lines, Inc.

A. E. Fitkin, who recently sold the Pacific Public Service Company to the Standard Oil Company of California and who is again building up a utility property in Southern California, pointed out the possibilities and potentialities for this motor freight company and declared such transportation service is of extreme necessity to the growth of the Southland.

The central terminal and warehouse of the freight company will be erected in Los Angeles from which a flow of freight will reach as far north as Fresno and as far south as Calexico and will cover all intermediate points. The lines operate under the supervision of the State Railroad Commission.

The freight company has an almost perfectly balanced movement of freight, outbound shipments from Los Angeles consisting of manufactured products, fresh meats, canned and package goods, while return loads consist principally of the products of agriculture and the dairy industry, it was stated.

New financing by United American Utilities, Inc., will probably be announced shortly. The utility in addition to Pacific Freight Lines, Inc., has acquired a substantial interest in Eastern States Public Service Corporation, which supplies electricity, water or miscellaneous services to more than 300 communities in sixteen eastern States.

Marchant Net Earnings Gain

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7. (Exclusive)—Marchant Calculating Machine Company in its 1929 report issued today showed net earnings of $399,374 after Federal taxes, equal after preferred dividends to $2.05 a share on $186,566 outstanding common shares as compared with $327,396 or $1.84 a share on 163,112 shares then outstanding.

The net earnings were the largest in the history of the company despite the general recession of business in the fall, the costs resulting from plant expansion and the heavy burden of patent litigation, the report stated. The litigation has been settled out of court by an arrangement that will bring added benefit to the stockholders of both companies, the report added.

WOOL MART TONE QUIET AND EASIER

Prices Reported Barely Firm; Increase in Mill Demand Noted

BOSTON, March 7. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston will say tomorrow:

While business in wool is not brisk and prices are barely firm, especially on medium qualities, there is a more general demand for wool, notably from woolen mills.

Foreign primary markets are fairly steady. Secondary markets are quiet and easier, evidently anticipating some further decline at London.

Further openings of semistaple, overcoatings and fancy goods this week by the American Woolen Company reveal prices usually 10 to 15 cents a yard under a year ago and sometimes more. Demand for goods is reported rather broader.

Buying of the new clip proceeds more or less steadily, with dealers and the co-operative scheme reporting varying success in different localities.

Mohair is moderately active in the range of 45-50 cents for good to choice original bag hair.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1930, to March 6, 1930, inclusive, were 27,865,000 pounds, against 3,908,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to March 6, 1930, inclusive, were 35,736,600 pounds, against 41,404,500 pounds for the same period last year.

FOX PLAN GOING FORWARD

Notice to New York Exchange of Debenture Rights Issue Viewed as Significant

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange has been notified by the Fox Film Corporation that holders of Class A common stock of record the 10th inst. will receive rights to subscribe to additional shares and to debenture bonds. This indicates that the corporation is going forward at once on the refinancing plan approved at the stockholders' meeting yesterday, although counsel for H. L. Stuart and John E. Otterson, cotrustees with William Fox, had expressed the intention of halting the move through legal action.

The Fox Film annual report for 1929 shows a net profit of $11,848,276, equal to $12.87 a share on the combined Class "A" and "B" shares outstanding. This compares with $5,967,218, or $6.47 a share in 1928. In addition, the report shows a profit of $5,812,609 from the sale of securities, which was credited to surplus against charge-offs for depreciation in value of the silent films.

Net profit for the Fox Theaters Corporation and subsidiaries for the year ended October 27 was $2,768,006, against $1,536,930 in the previous year. This does not include earnings from partly-owned companies, estimated at $1,500,000 in 1929.

The balance sheets attached to the refinancing plan as prepared by the Bancamerica-Blair Corporation group shows that the liabilities of the Fox Theaters Corporation has caused the organizations' financial difficulties.

Current liabilities of the theaters Fox Corporation total $65,426,029, and, eliminating intercompany liabilities, the current obligations of the two companies total $90,739,825. Combined quick assets of both are $29,164,296. The refinancing plan will provide approximately $60,000,000 in new money.

NEW YORK, March 7. (Exclusive) Edward A. Pierce, member of E. A. Pierce & Co., national brokerage and investment banking house, has been appointed acting chairman of the stockholders' committee of the Fox Film Corporation in the absence of M. F. Stern, member of J. S. Bache & Co. Mr. Stern sails for Italy today.

Little Change Noted in Trade Drift for Week

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

There are more cross currents in trade and industry although on balance there is little evidence of change from earlier weeks. On the favorable side might be mentioned rather better, that is warm weather, which tends to favor expansion of outdoor work. The reports from the winter wheat crop are of the plant showing green and in good condition in the Southwest with a higher average of condition than a year ago. More life is seen in wholesale and jobbing trade in west central areas, but, as a whole, the changes are not very important. Trade, as a whole, in both wholesale and retail lines ranges from fair to quiet and industry still leads in distribution of activity.

On the less favorable side might be mentioned a slight easing off in steel buying and in operations, with the exception of Chicago reports from the automobile trade are of slightly lessened buying of material but the agricultural implement industry remains active, with reports of heavy orders for tractors, road machinery and other lines affected by agricultural preparations. In general trade, the continued weakness of prices of leading agricultural products has a tendency to retard distant buying.

Weekly bank clearings, $11,951,840,000, a decrease of 21.5 per cent from a year ago.

TEAGLE GIVES VIEWS ON OIL

Standard of New Jersey Head Forecasts Gain in Sales and Gradual Improvement in Industry

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

WASHINGTON, March 7.—A few days ago I asked Walter Teagle, president of the Standard Oil of New Jersey, for his views on the present oil outlook.

"As for the oil business, there is going forward a steady gain in sales," he said. "We look for an increase of about 8 per cent in gasoline consumption over the entire country for the year 1930.

"Unfortunately, overproduction, both in crude and gasoline, has resulted in competitive price making to a point where earnings are not at all in keeping with the volume of business. I am sure that the industry appreciates the unsatisfactory relation between costs and selling prices and that this will result in gradual improvement as curtailment makes progress."

When the Federal conservation board suggested to the oil industry that it reduce to a six-day-a-week basis all refinery runs of crude oil in order to clear up the present glut of gasoline, differences of opinion immediately came to the surface among the larger oil leaders.

The Rockefeller group, led by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey agreed quickly to the suggestion, although making it plain that a reduction on account of its own operations was not needed, but that it was interested in uniting on a program which would bring about a more orderly balance between production and refining.

So, its acceptance.

R. C. Holmes, president of the Texas Corporation, dissented, on the ground that regulation of refinery runs would appear to lead into "almost insurmountable technical and legal difficulties."

Mr. Holmes, in his statement, made reference to the economic program outlined at Houston a year ago, in which it was decided that the 1929 production should be kept within the limits of the production of 1928. Had this been realized (the government prevented such action,) "there probably would have been no cut in the price of crude oil," Mr. Holmes says.

The fact is that the increase in the oil production of the entire United States in 1929 over 1928 amounted to 104,000,000 barrels.

Still, overproduction has always been a problem in the oil industry.

When the Bank of England cut its discount rate from 4 1-2 per cent to 4 per cent, many expected the New York Federal Reserve Bank to follow suit, but it didn't.

The New York governor, George Harrison, one of the most efficient students of finance in the United States, is in London and has been for some days. It is not believed that the Bank of England would take the action of reducing its rate without some assurance that the New York bank would cut its rate from 4 to 3 1-2 per cent.

So the world of international business is entering a test week. It's the first time that the bank rates of these two nations have been the same in many months.

Can England, with the pound already at a heavy discount in New York, maintain the same discount rate, without being forced to ship gold to square her accounts?

For a week—or even two weeks—yes. But for a period of weeks, most well-informed observers shake their heads dubiously. Either the New York rate will drop to 3 1-2 per cent or Great Britain will see a new export movement in gold.

And that would not be so good—for England.

YOUR INCOME TAX

No. 28

Bad debts constitute a considerable item in the returns of many taxpayers and may be treated in one of two ways—either by deduction from gross income in respect to debts ascertained to be worthless in whole or in part or by deduction from a reasonable reserve for bad debts.

Permission to adopt the reserve method is limited to taxpayers having a large number of accounts where credit has been extended to cover a considerable portion of time. It is not granted for the purpose of handling one specific debt.

What constitutes a "reasonable addition" to a reserve for bad debts must be determined in light of the facts, and will vary as between classes of business and with conditions of business prosperity. A taxpayer using the reserve method should show in his return the volume of charge sales (or other business transactions) for the year, and the percentage of the reserve to such amount, the total amount of notes and accounts receivable at the beginning and end of the taxable year, and the total amount of debts ascertained to be worthless and charged against the reserve during the taxable year.

Ascertained profits from contracts for the sale of real estate consummated in 1929, but upon which title will not be transferred until 1930, approximating $2,425,000, have not been included in the 1929 profits. As of December 31, depreciation in market value below cost of security investments amounted to $1,314,269, but such depreciation had been reduced to $292,454 as of the 1st inst.

Reported profits for 1929 do not include undistributed earnings represented by the corporation's holdings in Thompson-Starrett Company, Inc., and Tishman Realty & Construction Co., Inc., which are carried at $3,100,000, the value set upon them at the time of their acquisition upon organization of the corporation. Further, they exclude deferred income of $1,322,135 resulting from mortgage loans, etc., the major advances of which take place in 1930 and which will be included in the report of the current year.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—An opening advance was checked by a general of liquidation in the cotton market today and prices weakened later with new crop months making new lows for the season and with the general list showing net losses of about 20 to 24 points during the middle of the afternoon. The failure of demand to broaden more importantly on the early advance was evidently a disappointment to holders of contracts as recent buyers and probably accounted for some of the selling.

Edison Leads Local Stock Trading 'Activity and Advances to Higher Level

Southern California Edison overshadowed all other trading operations on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday as speculative interest in the issue was suddenly revived. The stock, in demand from the opening, kept the activity of the market and ran up 1¾ points to close at that figure after a turnover of 4000 shares. The high price was reached on the last sale, which was transferred actively at a premium of 20 cents to 3.65.

Pacific Gas and Electric also showed a feature with a spurt of 1-4 to 61. Pacific Lighting was traded in actively, having a closing bid at 1-4 to 26. While price movements for the balance of the market were confined within a narrow range, a generally firm undertone was discernible. This was also apparent in the dealings of a gasoline war which began with price-cutting tactics yesterday on the part of a few Los Angeles service stations. Un-

Wheat Futures Decline After Early Upturn

CHICAGO, March 7. (AP)—Invoking of the 7-cent rule which permit railroad embargo of grain on March contracts, a decidedly unsettling influence in the news of all cereals. Largely on this and 779 values tumbled to bottom quotations for the season and forced wheat to lose 2 cents and wheat and other grains will be officially notice that Farm Board will buy sufficient wheat to prevent considerable decline in the Wheat closed nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 cent a bushel lower, with May 1.06¾@1.06¾ and July 1.04¾@1.04¾. Corn finished ¼ to ¾ cent down, oats varying from ¼ cent decline to ¼ cent gain, provisions, 7@12c advance, and quotations of stop-loss selling on part of holders of future delivery contracts. Sharp setbacks formed the key to the day's results, not only in corn, but in other grain. The rush to sell was not dependent in form upon the cash corn trade, for receipts and apparent offerings of commercial stocks regarding storage were not deemed in carlots out-of-line with the usual run. There was a source of anxiety, however, in the fact that there were indications that Farm Board was to be stinted out of here and there, and that cash deliveries were not keeping pace with the Chicago market premium over arrivals of corn here.

Under the circumstances, the prices of cash holdings came in for much relief delivery positions showed relative steadiness. The chief feature of the day's movement of oats was the way they closed themselves responsive to the value of hogs.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

New York, March 7. (AP)—Railroad obligations took undisputed command of the bond market today, moving upward in broad trading that carried many issues, both first-grade and secondary, to new highs for the year.

The advance lifted the average for the rail group to 105.9, or just above the previous 1930 top. This figure compares with a composite of 103.3 a year ago, when bonds were making their hopeless struggle against rising interest rates. Today, short term time loans were quoted at 4 to 4½ per cent, against 7¾ per cent at this time in 1929, a striking demonstration of the change in credit conditions.

United States governments acted a trifle tired after their exertions of the last few days and eased off to the extent of minor fractions on reduced turnovers.

New York Central 4s rallied 1⅛, while St. Louis and San Francisco prior liens 4s, Southern Railway general 4s, Nickel Plate "A" 5½s, Great Northern 4½s improved ¼ to ½, all to new 1930 tops.

The new American Telephone debenture 5s led the utilities, rising to 102⅜, a new high. The net gain was ½. International Telegraph 5s, Columbia Gas and Electric 5s, North American Edison 5½s and 5s, Public Service Electric and Gas 4½s and a few of the others showed marked firmness.

Some of the industrials moved widely. Cuban sugars met with further liquidation, but cement company bonds responded to the Senate's action on the tariff on that product. North American Cement 6½s rallied from 50 to 61, the best price of the year, and International Cement 5s were marked up ¾. Western Electric 5s, Lizzett & Myers 5s, and Gulf States Steel 5½s rose about ½ each. Standard Oil of New Jersey 5s went close to their high for the year.

A liberal sprinkling of 1930 record prices appeared in the foreign section, especially among the Latin-American. Argentina "A" 6s rose more than a point to 99, while Brazil 6½s, 1926-57, climbed to 79, both new highs.

The quotations represent sales of bonds in the thousands of dollars and the bank and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is itemized when the sale was at the bid and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 7. (AP)—Prices on the curb market pointed upward again today, although many of the early gains were cut down by the usual week-end profit taking. Failure of the New York Federal Reserve directors to cut the rediscount rate and the increase of nearly $100,000,000 in brokers' loans led many traders to take their profit, but a number of pools, having succeeded in attracting a public following for their specialties, continued the marking up of prices.

Revival of activity and strength in several leading investment trust, trading and holding corporation shares was one of the features. Lehman Corporation was marked up 9¾ to a new high for the year at 69¾ and then eased to 68. Blue Ridge and Shenandoah common stocks, Goldman Sachs, and Tri-continental preferred also reached new high ground for the year.

Selling pressure was particularly severe against some of the recent favorites in the public utility group. American Light and Traction dropped 4½ points, American Gas and Electric 2¾, American and Foreign Power warrants 1¾, and Electric Bond and Share ½. Sierra Pacific common jumped 8 points to 76 and the preferred 3 to 97, both new tops for the year.

Amusement shares were in fairly good demand on reports of expanding earnings. Technicolor and Loew's, Inc., warrants and debenture rights moved into new high ground, the last named showing a net gain of 2½ points. Fox issues were mixed. Shubert moving to a new 1930 peak on a net gain of more than a point, while Gulf Oil fell back 1¼, and the Standard Oil issues showed only narrow fractional changes.

Ferroman Electric moved up more than 3 points to the year's best price in response to reports of improving conditions in the radio tube industry. Homa Electric and Elder were heavy. General Baking common sank to a new low for the year on a heavy turnover, but the preferred was marked up more than 2 points.

The closing price is omitted when same as the last bid, both bid and asked when same as the high.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"The Sky Hawk." The effects men of the Fox Studios have produced spectacular and thrilling film about an air raid on London.

Figueroa, Fig at Santa Barbara—"They Had to See Paris."

Grauman's Chinese, 6925 Hollywood Blvd.—"Rogue Song." Lawrence Tibbett makes a powerful impression on screen than in a vagabond romance of nearly great quality.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6708 Hollywood Blvd.—"New York Nights." Tin Pan Alley is again the scene of drama. Norma Talmadge speaks for the first time and rather unconvincingly.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"The Girl Said No." William Haines indulges in more hair-raising adventures to win his lady love. Leila Hyams is the lady.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Embarrassing Moments." Reginald Denny succeeds to slapstick, and it is a great pity.

Palace, Broadway between Sixth and Seventh—"Hollywood Revue." One of the biggest ventures in film revues, featuring M-G-M stars and their talents.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"The Vagabond King." Excellent in many ways, this Paramount film deserves to be seen at least once. Dennis King and Jeanette MacDonald essay leading roles.

Rita, 5200 Wilshire—Taming of the Shrew." Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks bring Mr. William Shakespeare down to the moment, and a good laugh is had by all.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Murder on the Roof." Living up to its title, this melodrama of a night club and adventures therein provides the patron with plenty of thrills.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"The Case of Sergt. Grischa." An interesting angle on the war and well acted technically and artistically. Chester Morris and Betty Compson.

United Artists, 8dwy. nr. 9th.—"Condemned." Ronald Colman somehow finds romance on Devil's Island; but when you see Ann Harding you know why.

Warner's Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox.—"The Other Tomorrow." Reviewed in today's Times.

Westlake, 633 Alvarado.—"Seven Days' Leave." Both Barrie's whimsy and Gary Cooper's performance tend to make the way and its effects enjoyable.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th.—"Journey's End." R. C. Sherriff's fine war play is produced splendidly by Lee Shubert.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1722 Vine.—"Salt Water." well staged and nicely enacted comedy of the sea, starring Frank Craven.

Majestic, 8dwy. at 9th.—"New Moon." The popular operetta is well put on, featuring the song hit, "Lover Come Back to Me." Perry Askam and Josephine Houston.

Mission Play, San Gabriel—The beautiful annual pageant of the settling of California, up to its usual standard. With S. D. MacLean.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"Bill of Divorcement." Rita Climenson Dane's dramatization of one of England's problems. Ian Maclaren is featured.

President, 8dwy., at 8th.—"Give and Take." Big business in a comedy factory, with Kolb and Dill arguing a lot and the audience laughing just as much.

VARIETIES

Garbank, 8th and Main—Burlesque.

Follies, 4th and Main—Burlesque.

Doheny Appears to Stand Trial on Fall Charge

WASHINGTON, March 7. (AP)—Edward L. Doheny, oil operator, came to Washington today to go on trial Monday on a charge of giving former Secretary of the Interior Fall a bribe of $100,000 for awarding his company a lease to the Elk Hills naval oil reserve.

Doheny expressed belief that he will be acquitted, and Frank J. Hogan, chief counsel for Doheny, announced that the oil man will take the stand and tell his story of lending the money to Fall, an old-time friend, who was in need.

Doheny and Fall have maintained that the money was a loan, but a jury in the District of Columbia Supreme Court found Fall guilty of accepting it as a bribe. He is now free on bond pending appeal.

Ship Wrecked on East Coast

NORFOLK (Va.) March 7. (AP)—An unidentified three-masted schooner was blown ashore tonight near the Creeds Island Coast Guard Station, seven miles south of Cape Hatteras, division Coast Guard headquarters was advised shortly before 10 o'clock.

The message said the vessel was in the breakers and the only hope of rescue for the crew was by breeches buoy, as heavy seas driven by a southeast gale were breaking over the craft.

BYRD PARTY OUT OF STEP WITH WORLD

Returning Explorers Find Difficulty in Realizing Isolation About to End

BY JOE DE GANAHL

ON BOARD BARK CITY OF NEW YORK, March 8, (Saturday) (Exclusive)—Slowly we are awakening to the realization that the strange things of civilization are just around the corner. For days we have been calculating the average run of the ship and distance still to be covered, but till now the cold figures have failed to impress themselves upon minds firmly adjusted to a life so different from that which awaits us.

Readjustment is not easy, but one by one, little facts keep hammering at us and we are beginning to see that our homecoming, so long treated as a dream, is evolving into an actuality.

Yesterday we began scrubbing paint work in preparation for our arrival. When it was over we went below with fuller realization. Today the noon position meant more to us. Only 280 miles from Dunedin. That is a two days' run. The figures jar into our senses and the bustle of preparation for what now seems one of the biggest days in our lives begins.

Fight Begins to Block Sale of Napoleon Gems

NEW YORK, March 7. (Exclusive)—Archduchess Maria Theresa of Austria, through her legal representatives here, began civil action today to recover her $400,000 "Napoleon necklace," which was sold by Col. C. L. Townsend to David M. Michel, a Fifth-avenue jeweler.

The action was begun when Supreme Court Justice Townley signed an order this afternoon temporarily restraining Michel from breaking up the necklace or otherwise disposing of it. The order cites Michel to show cause on Tuesday why the temporary injunction should not be made permanent.

PLAYWRIGHT WINS DIVORCE

OAKLAND, March 7. (Exclusive) Sidney Coe Howard, author of many plays produced by the New York Theater Guild, was granted a divorce today from Clare Eames Howard, actress, niece of Mme. Emma Eames, on evidence of desertion.

John D. Maxfield, one of the few surviving members of the famous "Hot Time Band" of Spanish War days, is dead following a sudden heart attack while attempting to start his car. He was rushed to a hospital but died on the way.

Maxfield was manager of the Chamber of Commerce Building, having been with the chamber for the last nine years. He also had served the government for thirteen years in the Forestry Service. With his wife and daughter he lived at 410 West Avenue 53, Highland Park.

Funeral services will be under the auspices of Masons at the Cresse parlors, Avenue 50 and Pasadena avenue, Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. Interment will be in the Roosevelt Camp Spanish-American War Veterans' plot in Rosedale Cemetery at 2:45 o'clock, where military honors will be paid the former soldier.

Maxfield participated in the advance leading to the fall of Manila, August 13, 1898. He was in the front rank of the First Colorado Volunteer Infantry band when it waded a broad shallow river on the outskirts of the city, playing "Hot Time" in midstream while under fire of the Spanish infantry and batteries. Admiral Dewey noted the incident in his reports to Washington, and from that day on the outfit was designated as "The Hot Time Band."

Owens Valley Indian Problem Put Up to City

What to do with 900 Piute Indians in the Owens Valley, whose welfare is becoming a serious problem as a result of the City of Los Angeles buying up the lands for water rights was put up to the Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday by Miss A. C. Bowler, representing the California Committee on Indian Relief.

Chairman Haynes expressed the belief that something should be done, probably by way of giving the Indians employment on city work. Commissioner Palmer supported such view.

Many of the Indians are reported to be living under deplorable conditions, some being on the verge of starvation. The government gives them little or nothing, it was said.

General Manager Van Norman of the Water Bureau was asked to report on the matter.

MISS HAMMERLI RITES TODAY

Funeral services for Miss Ruth C. Hammerli, employee of the Western Union Company, will be conducted today at 2 p.m., at the J. H. Riedeman chapel, 1616 South Main street, after which interment will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery. Miss Hammerli died last Thursday at 30 years of age. She leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Hammerli, 4417 Wall street.

LAND SHOW OPENING SET FOR TONIGHT

[Illustration on Picture Page.]

With officials of the city and county of Los Angeles welcoming the world and his wife to the first all-State exhibit of agricultural wealth, 10,000 people are expected to attend tonight the opening of the California Land Show at Hill and Washington streets.

Mayor Porter, Council President Sanborn and Supervisor Wright are to make short talks. Two orchestras will play.

Exhibits from forty counties, in artistic settings, have been installed in a two-acre pavilion transformed into a redwood forest, brilliantly illuminated and presenting a remarkable spectacle.

Gov. Young will be the honor guest of the land show Monday evening. He will be escorted to the grounds by the Los Angeles Playgrounds Band at 7 o'clock and will speak briefly at 8:30 o'clock.

Laveta Terrace Contract Award Made by Board

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded to the George R. Curtis Company a contract for paving and sewer construction in the streets included in the Bellevue avenue and Laveta Terrace Improvement District on a bid of $229,468.91. The district involved centers about Glendale and Sunset boulevards. The work calls for grading, paving, and installation of sewers, storm drains and water services.

The board also awarded contracts for grading and paving the second alley west of Broadway between Seventy-first street and Florence avenue, $760.24, and for grading, paving and improving Monteel Road from Selma avenue to Marmont Lane, $6065.37.

DORAN TO WEIGH PREJUDICE

Judge Named for Hearing on McComb's Status in Berman-Getzoff Tangle

With Presiding Judge Doran, or another judge of the Superior Court appointed by him, on the bench, the matter of affidavits of prejudice brought against Superior Judge McComb in connection with felony cases against Ben Getzoff and Jacob Berman will be decided some time next week.

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Waste made this possible yesterday, when he notified Judge Doran that he has been selected to act in the matter and later declared that Judge Doran, if he wishes, can appoint another judge to preside.

"I have received a letter from Justice Waste in which as the chairman of the State Judicial Council he gave me notice of appointment to dispose of the prejudice matter filed against Judge McComb," said Judge Doran. At present I have nothing to say regarding my selection."

Judge McComb likewise declined to make any comment.

PROCEDURE MAPPED

However, according to well-informed lawyers, the next official step will be when Judge Doran serves notice on all persons concerned that a date has been fixed and commands them to appear and present their sides of the controversy.

The affair had its beginning more than a week ago, when Judge McComb called for trial the bribery case against Jacob Berman and Ben Getzoff, leading figures in the Keyes bribery case and a number of ensuing prosecutions.

Judge McComb refused a plea made by Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart to continue the case and also declined to dismiss the action when Fitts declared that in his judgment both of the defendants had already been once in jeopardy.

It was after all pleas made by the District Attorney and counsel for Getzoff and Bennett had been denied that Judge McComb ordered both defendants to jail pending trial. Then affidavits charging prejudice were filed by counsel for the defendants and a writ of habeas corpus applied for in the Appellate Court.

POSSIBILITIES LISTED

Last Saturday the higher court in a sweeping opinion declared that both defendants had been once in jeopardy and should be dismissed.

However, with both men at liberty their cases remained on the calendar of Judge McComb's court, and the affidavits of prejudice required some kind of hearing.

If Judge McComb, following the hearing, is held to be prejudiced,

TRANSPORT DUE FROM NEW YORK

Will Take Third Regiment Contingent to Bay City, Then Sail to Honolulu

The army transport Cambral is due at Berth 59 from New York this morning to disembark several officers and families and to embark eighty men of the Third Coast Artillery, Fort MacArthur, for assignment among units at San Francisco. Lieut. Allen F. Cameron commands the detail, and is accompanied by Col. Edmund P. Easterbrook, U.S.A., retired, former chief of chaplains. The transport will sail tonight for the Bay City, en route to Honolulu.

Departure of the eighty starts reduction of the historic Third Regiment to a skeleton force retained to care for Fort MacArthur defenses, but in its place will come a larger antiaircraft outfit, the Sixty-third Coast Artillery. The latter, all motorized, now is en route here overland from San Francisco and is due the 15th inst.

Among the passengers from New York to leave ship here are Capt. Walter J. Reed, Air Corps, wife and child, and Lieut. and Mrs. Musal G. Ent. Lieut. Ent's military career is outstanding to date. In 1919 he was a private in the army. Since then he passed through the Academy at West Point, won the Distinguished Flying Cross, completed a course in the Chemical Warfare Service School, and qualified as a pilot both in the heavier-than-air and lighter-than-air services.

KANSANS TO PLAN PICNIC

The monthly indoor meeting of Kansans will be held next Thursday evening, the 13th inst., in Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street. Following a program, plans will be discussed for the annual picnic to be held April 5, next.

WILSHIRE OPENING UP TO COURTS

Council Puts Through Plans for Boulevard in Record Time for Body

Establishing a record for speed, the City Council yesterday adopted the final ordinance for the opening of Wilshire Boulevard as an eighty-foot street from Figueroa street to Grand avenue, a $3,000,000 project. The matter now will go into the courts for condemnation of the necessary property, with the prophecy that the actual work will begin within a year.

The petitions for this improvement were filed with the City Council shortly before the first of the year. The Street Opening and Widening Committee promptly recommended it and the Council approved the project immediately after voting in favor of Alphonzo Bell's cement ordinance.

The ordinance of intention was brought up shortly thereafter, adopted and the protest date set ahead the required thirty days. The nine protestants were overruled by the Council Thursday and yesterday the final ordinance was prepared and ready for submission and was adopted with dispatch.

Iowa University Alumni to Dine

Judge M. J. Wade, spending the winter here; Prof. Melville B. Anderson, and other well-known teachers and former residents of Iowa are expected to be present. Judge Carl Stutsman is in charge of reservations.

PLANE DEBRIS YIELDS BODIES

Wreckage Finally Located in Mountain Wilds

Wing Believed Torn Off as it Hit Tree Tops

Mangled beyond recognition the bodies of James E. Doles, Western Air Express pilot; A. W. Bieber, co-pilot, and John Slaton, steward, were found yesterday in the wreckage of their tri-motored transport plane at the bottom of an almost inaccessible canyon about eight miles northeast of Lake Arrowhead.

The grewsome discovery brought to an end a search which official parties have been conducting since February 23, when the three men and their plane were reported overdue on a flight from Kingman, Ariz.

Carrying their dead on litters the successful searching party of about twenty men and one woman returned to Victorville at sundown and delayed to Los Angeles the story of its tragic expedition. The searchers had set out from Cozey's ranch about 2 a.m. as a result of the report made Thursday by the woman, Mrs. Juanita Eloise Burns, that she had sighted the long-sought wreckage from the air while being flown over the area by Dudley Steele of the Richfield Oil Company's aviation department.

WING FOUND FIRST

Led by Mrs. Burns, Steele, Fred Goodsell of Western Air Express, and Deputy Sheriffs Ernest Shay and Ed Mitchell, the party wended its way slowly up the trail to the approximate vicinity in which the ill-fated ship had been seen the day before, a veritable maze of small canyons, the ridges of which are studded with spruce and pine, 5000 feet above sea level.

High on the cloud-kissed ridges the hopeful searchers pitched camp until dawn; then they deployed in a radius, each beating the brush for the tiniest fragment of wreckage by which to complete the search, while Monte Shelton, W.A.E. pilot circled overhead and directed them to the exact spot.

Within a short time they came upon one silver-painted wing-section of the monoplane. Save for a few small holes near the edge and the absence of several strips of fabric from the surface, it was intact. To all appearances it had fluttered to earth like a falling leaf, disproving the generally-accepted theory that it had snagged the canyon side and thus sent the huge ship crashing down. The wing tip was found to be unscathed.

TIRESOME SEARCH

Despite this discovery, the search developed to be far from ended. The immediate locality of the wing section gave up no sign of the rest of the ship and its unfortunate occupants. For two hours the weary searchers tore their way through the brush for a distance of a quarter-mile in every direction. The hunt was becoming increasingly discouraging when Lester Bugg, a Lake Arrowhead stone mason, and John Dexter, proprietor of the Squirrel Inn, shouted their discovery of the fuselage and other wing-section.

The force with which the ship's total weight of 13,100 pounds plunged into the earth had telescoped the fuselage, split and torn the three motors into a mass of junk and reduced the other wing section to splinters and thread. None of the three bodies was visible to the searchers, and an hour's work was required in extricating the remains from the shambles. The individual identity of Doles, Bieber and Slaton was established only by the hair of each man and papers in his pocket.

DUMP VALVES OPEN

Inspection of the wreck revealed that the dump valves of the plane's gas tanks were open and that the fuel long since had flowed out and evaporated. Whether the valves were broken open in the crash or were deliberately opened by Doles in an effort to prevent ensuing fire when he realized he and his companions were plunging to their

SELF-TORTURE

When any sealot starts in on self-torture it is ghastly the lengths to which he will go.

But after all, the penitentes of N.w Mexico go only to the length of whipping themselves with ropes made of sharp cactus thorns; and the whirling dervishes only stick themselves full of knives and pins.

In the face of the vow of self-torture announced by the delectable Rosika Schwimmer these things seem tame. Rosika swears that she will appear before a committee of Congress and not say a single word. To anyone who has ever known Rosika and her powers of conversation, this promises an ordeal almost too dreadful for calm contemplation.

UNDER THE DEODARS

The county forestry department is to plant Indian deodars in our mountains. It is an interesting and sensible selection.

I planted deodars, in the first instance, because ever since reading Kipling's "Under the Deodars" the name has held fascination for me. I have found them to be an ideal California tree. They stand wind and cold and drought and tower bravely up. They grow in rich soil and in rocks. And, children, that name is a wow. Any tree named deodar would be worth planting if it died the next day.

HIGH CRIME

The decision of a San Francisco judge to the effect that money due a broker on a stock margin is an illegal gambling debt ought to stop stock gambling; but it will not.

To a foreigner arriving here it must provide a comic kick to see the police raiding nickel-in-the-slot machines where flappers get (maybe) two discs entitling them to one round of gum: then to see Wall street going full blast with the protection of the government.

CHEAP MURDER

According to the police, gangsters who have set up business in Los Angeles are prepared to undertake murder for the moderate sum of $200—or simple maiming at $50.

You can search the history of the old border in vain for killers as ruthless as these little boys of 20 with slick hair. Even "Billie the Kid" never killed any but armed men who were trying to kill him.

There was at least a murder code in the border days. The gangsters kill as the hyenas kill—only the defenseless and the unprepared.

It seems significant that Erlanger dies and Gest goes bankrupt as the talking films come into vogue.

There is much talk of the new art ruining the speaking stage. That will not happen; but the stage will react with great and sweeping changes of technique. GAS WAR REPORTS DENIED

Major Companies Assert Price Cutting Will Not Spread to Los Angeles from North

Persistent reports of an impending spread to this city of the gasoline price-cutting war now raging in Seattle and Portland, which were lent color on Thursday by reductions in several stations selling Standard Oil Company gasoline, were emphatically denied by executives of all the major gasoline companies yesterday.

The stations selling Standard gas which on Thursday reduced their retail price from 19½ cents a gallon to 16½ cents are all operated by the Southern Gasoline Stations, Inc., which operates about 200 stations in Southern California, all selling Standard gas. The price in all these stations yesterday was brought back to 19½ cents, it was stated by J. G. McNiven, general superintendent of the company, who added that there had been no general significance in Thursday's cuts.

They were made, he said, in only four stations in this city, one in Glendale and another in San Bernardino, and in each instance the purpose was to compete with a neighboring station which had been cutting prices. In every case, he said, the cut accomplished its purpose of forcing the neighboring stations to cease their price cutting. He denied that the Standard Oil Company has reduced the wholesale price to his company and this denial was echoed by an executive of the Standard, who also denied that the corporation controls the Southern Gasoline Stations, Inc.

Executives not only of Standard but also of Richfield, Shell, Union, Texas, Associated, and General were unanimous in declaring that no reduction has been made in their wholesale gasoline price and that none is contemplated in the near future.

The present ruling wholesale price is 15½ cents a gallon. An executive of the Van Fleet-Durkee Company, which operates a large number of Shell stations, asserted that his company has no plans for any reduction in its retail price.

An executive of one of the companies, however, who did not wish to be quoted, said that while no immediate reduction is contemplated he feared a further spread of price cutting among the independent dealers, which is already under way in this city, may eventually force the larger companies to follow suit to hold their business. He said that the only guarantee of stability in the gasoline-price field is that success will meet the present endeavor to curtail the enormous overproduction in the oil fields.

ASA KEYES REFUSED TIME TO ARRANGE HIS AFFAIRS

Efforts to obtain the temporary release of Asa Keyes, former District Attorney convicted of bribery and awaiting removal to San Quentin prison, failed yesterday, when Walton J. Wood, presiding Criminal Court judge, declined to sign a court order to permit the prisoner to leave the jail under guard to attend to business affairs today.

Keyes is scheduled to be taken to San Quentin prison Tuesday night.

The request for the court order stated that it was necessary for Keyes to return to his home for the day and also to visit certain banks and attorney's offices to close up the business affairs of an estate in which he is interested.

In refusing to sign the court order Judge Wood declined to set forth his reasons. He expressed regret, however, that he could not conscientiously sign the document.

Keyes has been permitted to leave the jail on numerous occasions in the past to receive dental treatment, under court orders signed by Judge Wood.

Keyes stated that his attorneys had sought the court order that he might visit his home to obtain certain papers necessary for the settling of matters in connection with two estates for which he is executor. He expressed disappointment that the order had been denied and added that his reason for seeking it had been purely a business one.

The convicted ex-official today is scheduled to be taken from the County Jail for a few hours to visit a dentist. A court order allowing him to have necessary dental work performed outside of the jail was issued some time ago.

Throughout the day Keyes was visited by a number of friends, including Forrest Murray, who at one time served as Keyes's chief deputy while he was District Attorney.

No change has been made in the original plans to transport the convicted man to San Quentin next Tuesday evening, according to Deputy Sheriff Frank Cochran of the transportation detail, with whom he will make the trip.

WATER COMMITTEE NAMED

Metropolitan District Organization Prepares to Get Down to Work on Aqueduct Plans

Appointment of a committee to perfect a working organization for the Metropolitan Water District was announced by W. P. Whitsett, chairman of the board of directors of the district, at the directors' meeting yesterday.

WILL DRAW UP PLANS

The committee will draw up a plan for organization for the district, setting up the various branches and defining their duties. It is expected that they also will suggest policies to be followed in the matter of handling the work to be done in the construction of the great Colorado River aqueduct.

The financial affairs of the district were brought up in the form of a report from Director Harris of San Bernardino. The report showed that the district received an income from the district tax levy of $486,231. Of this sum, the city of Los Angeles paid in $383,601, and Los Angeles county cities, including the city of Los Angeles, paid $475,430. San Bernardino county cities in the district paid $4116, and Orange county cities $6695. There are eleven cities in the district at present, with more prospective members.

TOTAL EXPENDITURES

The total expenditures from district money have been $30,062. In addition to these expenditures the district will have to pay its share of the money spent by the Los Angeles Water Bureau in preliminary surveys for the Colorado aqueduct and preliminary expenses. By next fall these expenditures will probably have consumed the proceeds of the $2,000,000 bond issue voted for that purpose. The cities outside Los Angeles will pay about 14 per cent of this sum.

Among the items listed for expenditures by the district were the following for members of the consulting board of engineers, who have made a preliminary report on the proposed aqueduct routes, and who will be called back shortly to make additional studies: Thaddeus Merriman of New York City, $8922; Richard L. Lyman, Salt Lake City, $8257; A. J. Wiley, Boise City, $8212. Other items paid to other individuals brought the total on this phase

TRUNK FEEDERS OFFER DEFENSE

Western Pacific Testifies at Rail Board Hearing

Says Through-Rate Increase Reduces Its Revenue

Denies Subsidiaries Receive Too Liberal Portion

The effect of increasing the western trunk lines' share of transcontinental freight payments was reported yesterday by John Bon, general freight agent of the Western Pacific Railroad, at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing before Examiner Disque in the Alexandria.

Bon related that a compromise agreement entered into by the various lines in 1925, under which the western trunk lines operating between the Missouri River and Chicago received increases of between 10 and 15 per cent, had reduced the revenues of the Western Pacific, $266,000 annually.

SUBSIDIARIES LOSE

At the same time, the witness pointed out that transcontinental traffic produces 46 per cent of the railroad's revenues each year and that two of its important subsidiaries, the Sacramento Northern and the Tidewater Southern, are operating at a loss. Testimony as to the financial conditions of the subsidiaries was offered in rebuttal to assertions of western trunk-line representatives that the transcontinental systems were apportioning too much money to branches and subsidiaries.

Bon testified that branches, subsidiaries and independent short lines feeding the Western Pacific produced 215,472 tons of transcontinental freight that moved via western trunk lines in 1929.

An interesting interchange developed when the witness was questioned relative to the transcontinental revenues.

THROUGH FREIGHT REVENUE

"Transcontinental shipments make up about one-third of the Western Pacific's traffic?" the witness was asked. "Yes," was the answer. "And yet," the questioner continued, "it is responsible for almost half of the line's revenue. Is that right?"

"Yes," replied the witness; "but we earn it."

V. S. Andrus, assistant to Vice-President W. A. Worthington, of the Southern Pacific, testified as to what he asserted were more difficult operating conditions encountered on the Southern Pacific system than on the western trunk lines.

Andrus related that the Southern Pacific operates 500,000 miles of special gathering train service, particularly in connection with California perishable products, making the point that the cost of the line's originating and terminating service on branch lines is greatly in excess of such service cost on the western trunk lines.

"The cost of branch line freight service," he testified, "is more than 200 per cent in excess of the main line cost."

TAX COMPARISON

It was further testified by the witness that the taxes paid on the Southern Pacific's operations, in accordance with the unit considered, whether it were a work unit, ton mile unit or other unit, were 33 to 90 per cent higher than the taxes of the western trunk lines as a group average, computed on the same unit basis.

Andrus said, in this connection, that the Southern Pacific pays a 7 per cent gross income tax in California, whereas, he added, the western trunk lines pay, largely, an ad valorem tax, based on the value of the properties. It was asserted that the western trunk lines have a greater traffic density than a the transcontinental lines to absorb the tax.

SERVICE COSTS

Andrus also emphasized the point, made by earlier witnesses, that whereas the Southern Pacific is obliged to meet originating and terminating service costs, the western trunk lines have no such expenses and the traffic accepted from the transcontinental lines is largely "overhead," on which the lines perform merely an intermediate service, with, he asserted, only nominal interchange service costs at Chicago.

Expense of providing water facilities, such as pipe lines, reservoirs and taxes on property acquired to protect water resources, was also cited by the witness in his account of expenses facing the Southern Pacific. Such expenses, he said, do not confront the western trunk lines.

Fortune Teller at Paris Inn Sues Bay City Financier, Seeking Divorce

Mrs. Bernice E. Spitzer, who tells fortunes at the Paris Inn, appeared in Superior Judge McComb's court yesterday, and asked for a divorce from Emil Spitzer, San Francisco financier.

"Why didn't you take a peep at the cards before you got married?" Judge McComb asked.

"I didn't learn to read the future until after the wedding," Mrs. Spitzer admitted. "Then he got mixed up with some women, and wouldn't support me, so I had to learn fortune-telling in order to make a living."

The couple were married in September, 1924, and separated February, 1929. Judge McComb granted the decree.

NEW AUTO SERVICE CONCERN LAUNCHED

With a capitalization of 100,000 shares of no-par, nonassessable common stock, with full voting power, Master Service Corporation, Ltd., has just been organized under California charter to take over the assets and business of the Master Service Company, it was announced yesterday by C. B. Kerr, president, who also heads the Hollywood Paper Box Corporation. An issue of 35,000 shares now is being offered for the purpose of providing funds for expansion through decentralization of plant facilities of the company, which is reported to be the largest automotive service concern on the Pacific Coast.

THIS COUPE KNOWS ITS GROCERIES

It Raises More Cain in Store Than Bull in China Shop

Everything Ready for Nice Hash

Interior of H. D. Royce grocery and the car that paid an unexpected and broadside visit.

WILL the well-known bull in the china shop cause more damage than a coupe in a grocery store?

H. D. Royce, who has a grocery store at 535 North Coronado street, is willing to place a wager on the coupe. And Royce knows his coupes. One socked his grocery store on the lee side yesterday morning, breaking down a portion of the outside wall and spilling groceries all over the inside.

The groceryman dashed out and found that the coupe, driven by Claude Humphrey of 1319 Douglas street, had had an argument with a truck which so rattled the coupe, so to speak, that it lost its bearings.

AIR OFFICE OPENED ON SPRING STREET

To provide better service for its increasing number of passengers, Continental Air Express yesterday opened a downtown ticket office at 513 South Spring street. The removal of the office from 738 South Grand avenue, where it had been for six months, was announced by Secretary E. K. Fleming. The airline operates a daily deluxe passenger service to San Francisco in addition to a regular schedule to Taft, Ketteleman Hills and Coalinga.

doom is not determined. It was definitely established, however, that there had been no fire after the crash.

The theory of officials is that Doles made an attempt to buck his way through the snowstorm that swept the San Bernardino Mountains on the day of the plane's disappearance, and that realizing the futility of further fight toward Los Angeles he turned back. Then, it is believed, a downdraft blew the huge ship suddenly earthward, causing one wing section to graze the tops of the spruces and pines. Weakened by this contact with the tree tops the wing section dropped off and sent the ship—or what remained of it—careening into the fatal spin. The 100-mile speed at which the plane was flying, it is pointed out, accounts for quarter-mile span between the free wing section and the fuselage. Momentum alone would have carried it that distance, Goodcell and his aides say.

TIME DETERMINED

Returning to the area in which the free wing fell, some of the searchers discovered that from the point to the fuselage tree tops and branches had been sliced off at an angle of 45 deg., attesting mutely to the plane's last plunge.

The time of the accident was fixed as about 2:30 p.m., February 23, last. The clock in the plane was found to have stopped at 2:45, while the watches of two of the victims had ceased ticking at 3:25 and 2:27.

On the arrival of the bodies at Victorville Coroner U'Ren assembled a jury which heard testimony and returned a verdict that "the three men met death in an accidental crash of an airplane from unknown cause."

Steele testified that "too many things may have happened" for him to form an opinion. He declared Doles to be an able pilot.

STORM DESCRIBED

Pilot Shelton, who succeeded in flying through Cajon Pass not long before Doles and his companions were dashed to death in the canyon, described for the jury the storm he saw obscure the pass immediately after he passed through. He said black thunderheads swept in behind his craft. He said their height was alarming and he gave it as his opinion that Doles saw a light spot over the Lake Arrowhead district, tried to come through and failed. Deputy Sheriff N. O. Farley testified Doles's plane apparently was headed east when it crashed.

On the adjournment of the inquest officials announced that Shelton will return to Los Angeles with the bodies in a trimotored ship at the earliest opportunity.

Officials expressed astonishment that none of the many pilots of transcontinental air lines had sighted the wreckage, the scene of the crash being almost directly beneath a number of the aerial routes to the East. It is believed possible, however, that other flyers may have mistaken the glistening wing-section for a patch of snow. Considering the demolished condition of the fuselage and other wing-section, it is not surprising they were indistinguishable from the air. Location of the wreck is fixed as a point half way between Hokum Creek and Luna Mountain, five miles from Coxey's Ranch and one mile from Mill Creek.

WOMAN PRAISED

The searchers to a man last night were lavish in their praise of Mrs. Burns, whose discovery from the air Thursday led to yesterday's recovery of the bodies and solution of the plane's fate. For six days she had been flying over the mountains in her ninety-horsepower open Travelair plane, looking for a trace of the lost ship. Wednesday she narrowed down her search to a confined bit of territory, drew a map and reasoned where the transport most likely would be found. She then told Steele she felt confident of success providing he would take her up and handle the controls, allowing her to concentrate on observation. After two hours of cruising, she sighted the wreckage. And yesterday she returned to the spot afoot, as guide to the searching party.

POOR VISIBILITY BLAMED IN ONE CRASH

Poor visibility due to low clouds caused the airplane crash late last Tuesday afternoon in the Santa Monica Mountains, costing the lives of Morey Johnson, pilot; W. G. Hogge and Eugene W. La Voie, passengers, in Johnson's private plane, according to the verdict of a Coroner's jury yesterday at the Price-Daniel undertaking establishment. Deputy Coroner Kane conducted the inquest.

No evidence showing that Johnson or his two fellow-victims of the tragedy had been drinking prior to taking off was produced, although Officer Sketchley of the Los Angeles police testified he had found broken bits of glass and part of a gin label in Hogge's pocket.

Funeral services for Johnson are being arranged. The body of La Voie was sent to Hawthorne under direction of his aunt, who resides there. Efforts still are being made to locate Hogge's relatives in West Virginia.

Suit Over Loss of Beauty Ends Outside Court

After numerous continuances the suit brought by Mrs. Gertrude W. Hood against Dr. H. O. Bames, plastic surgeon, for $105,980 for asserted loss of beauty, yesterday was settled out of court, according to her counsel, Attorney Benjamin Lewis. The amount was not revealed.

Mrs. Pink Asks $2000 Alimony in Divorce Suit

Demanding $2000 a month alimony, Mrs. Fannie T. Pink, wife of Attorney Louis P. Pink, yesterday sued her husband for divorce, asserting cruelty, abuse, and association with other women.

Mrs. Pink contends that community property is worth $200,000, and she names as codefendant, Ethel Wolf, the attorney's secretary, asserting that the secretary is in control of some of the defendant's property.

The Pinks have been married twenty years, and have three children. Besides the $2000 a month alimony, Mrs. Pink wants custody of the children. She asserts her husband makes $50,000 a year.

RUM PLANT EXPLOSION KILLS MAN

Aging System Disclosed as Heater Blast Causes Fire in Irolo-Street House

Death followed an explosion of a gas water heater at 1343 Irolo street early yesterday when, police report, an elaborate aging plant was disclosed by the blast. A man who gave the name of James Dye, 27 years of age, died a few hours after he was carried from the wrecked building, which burst into flames.

After half an hour's battle firemen got the blaze under control. Damage was confined to the upper story and roof. It is estimated at $1000.

Search of the debris revealed, police stated, an elaborate system of pipes and barrels and wires for the aging of bootleg liquor by electricity, 200 gallons of alcohol and a large quantity of cases of empty bottles.

Anther effort later will be made to force Jacob Berman to answer a number of questions put to him at the beginning of the hearing.

BLUNDER CHARGE TO SPEED GENERAL HOSPITAL QUIZ

Sensational charges of inefficiency at the General Hospital made by R. E. Ishmael of 3206 Sunset Boulevard, are to be investigated by the county grand jury when it begins its inquiry into hospital conditions, Percy Hammon, deputy District Attorney in charge of grand jury matters, asserted yesterday.

The complaint was revealed yesterday for the first time in a letter to Deputy Hammon from Ishmael, who wrote that he had sent his wife to the General Hospital to be operated on for an internal cancer.

After three weeks of preparation, Mrs. Ishmael was placed upon the operating table, the letter states. The physician in charge undertook the operation with a local anaesthetic and in the midst of the ordeal discovered that the proper instruments for the operation had not been provided.

While nurses were searching for and sterilizing the instruments the effects of the anaesthetic wore off leaving the woman in great pain, according to her husband.

Meanwhile the surgeon delivered a lecture on the procedure to attending physicians, one of whom left in anger after a nurse had fainted from witnessing the operation, the letter states.

Finally it became necessary to give the patient chloroform to continue the surgery, which eventually was abandoned without the physician ever removing the cancer, Ishmael asserts. Since then, he says, hospital authorities have sought to get the woman to submit to another operation.

MAN and his MEAT

Excerpt from an article by C. Houston Goudiss, Author of "Eating Vitamins," "Food Friends We Neglect," etc.:

A meal without meat
Means nothing to eat.

No one is asked to accept as true this bit of doggerel of uncertain origin, concerning that form of food which shares with bread and butter the world-prize for popularity. Yet the truth of this statement cannot be better evidenced than by the fact that in the eyes, or rather dreams, of millions of struggling foreigners who look to the setting sun as leading the way to a promised land, America is the place "where you eat meat every day!"

Such a statement would have advertised America equally well in Babylon 6,000 years ago, or in Rome at the beginning of the Christian era. For no matter how far back we delve into human history, we find man eating meat, and in every known land in every known age, a large part of man's time was devoted to seeking and securing flesh foods.

Whether or not meat was his first food, it soon became first among his foods. His present-day appetite for it is no sudden fancy, but a logical continuation of what seems to have been an intuitive choice for countless thousands of years. It is probable that next to the drinking of water and the use of bread, our oldest inheritance of habit is the eating of meat.

Man ate meat because he liked it, and it liked him. It was a mutual matter, apparently. Through all the years he has kept on eating meat, and today, that part of him which forms the United States of America maintains its position as the greatest meat-eating nation by spending billions of dollars a year for beef, pork and mutton.

Mrs. Hedman's Plea for Probation in Forgery Connection Granted

Mrs. Frances Clayton [illegible], 26-year-old housewife, was saved from going to San Quentin penitentiary by her 4-year-old daughter Joan.

Mrs. Hedman appeared before Superior Judge Wood for sentence on her application for probation after pleading guilty to two charges of forgery of checks.

Because of the fact that the court was convinced the judge that the woman had forged checks on two local Los Angeles department stores to buy food for her babies, and because of the infancy of Joan, Judge Wood suspended a sentence to San Quentin prison and released the woman on five years' probation with the further order that she spend the first six months of that time in the Minnie Barton Home.

Prize Beauty Taps Keys in Hollywood

Fay Lanphier at Her Typewriter

FAY LANPHIER, once the reigning beauty of America, was discovered yesterday in Hollywood punching a typewriter and a time clock and awaiting a "break" in motion pictures. For the past week the girl who was once glorified as an "American Venus" has been working as a stenographer at the Paramount Famous Lasky studio.

Shortly following her coronation as Miss America at Atlantic City in 1925, Miss Lanphier got a chance in motion pictures, but it was not extended and she left Hollywood, later getting married and more recently engaging in the beauty-parlor business.

"I became a stenographer at the studio because I am close to picture making and confident that soon something will happen," she said yesterday. "My break will come. In the meantime I like this work. It keeps me occupied and I am making friends. I am determined, this time, to make a success of my screen career."

Incidentally it was at the Paramount studio that Miss Lanphier made her screen debut about five years ago in "The American Venus." She said yesterday that casting directors all have granted her interviews and have seemed interested, but the answer is always the same: "Tomorrow, perhaps." She is determined, however, to stand by until that tomorrow.

In 1925 Miss Lanphier was chosen as Miss California, and then was chosen as Miss America when she went to Atlantic City. She was one of the most publicized beauty-contest winners ever brought forward and her name and picture were printed everywhere.

It was only last year her marital venture went on the rocks when she was awarded a divorce in Reno from S. M. Spiegel, Jr., of Chicago.

The body was taken to the Pyle Mortuary, South Gate.

It was brought out that Griffith has paid $2597 in taxes and a penalty of $1298, making a total of $3895, in addition to the fine.

Henry King, motion-picture director, was fined $400. It was stated to the court that he had paid to the government $7062.89 additional taxes for 1927 and a penalty of $3531.45.

PRETTY BLOND DRIVES AUTO FOR MEN BANDITS

One good-looking, well-dressed blond woman member of a bandit gang is being hunted by Los Angeles police. She made her initial appearance early yesterday morning when she aided two male companions in the robbery of W. H. Taylor in a gasoline service station at 928 South Boyle avenue.

She drove the automobile used by the pair and sat at the wheel with the motor running, while her companions menaced Taylor with revolvers and robbed him of $15. When the robbery was completed she drove the car away.

Taylor described her as being about 22 years of age, remarkably good looking, with a decided blond complexion and dressed in black dress and hat.

In another robbery which occurred about the same time two bandits engaged in an argument as to what was proper language to use before a female victim. Miss Alice Pryor of 1121 El Serrano street and Robert M. Payne of 4789 Alhambra Boulevard were the victims. As the pair were robbing Payne of $35, one of them made a profane remark to Miss Pryor.

"Hey," cried his companion, "that ain't no way to talk to a lady."

"Oh, yeah?" said bandit No. 1, "whatayuh want me to do, kiss her, or something?"

"Well," said bandit No. 2 decisively, "I'm telling you to be more polite when we're stickin' up frails, that's all."

Miss Pryor said she wore considerable jewelry but that the bandits did not bother with it.

VERDICT IN AUTO-TRAIN CRASH SPLIT

Coroner's Jury Divided Over Blame in Deaths of Woman and Baby

A split verdict was returned yesterday afternoon by a Coroner's jury at an inquest into the deaths last Thursday morning of Mrs. Julia Alice Crosby Funk, 27 years of age, of 3640 Atlantic avenue, Long Beach, and her son, Robert Irving Funk, 2, killed instantly when an automobile driven by Mrs. Funk was struck by a Pacific Electric car at Watts.

Four of the jurors returned a verdict of accidental deaths, exonerating the train crew of all blame, and the remaining two jurors, while deciding that the deaths were accidental, failed to absolve the train crew of blame.

The accident occurred at One Hundred and Tenth street when the automobile was driven onto the tracks in front of the approaching train, witnesses testified. Oil from the wrecked machine and a broken air line on the car as the result of the collision were declared by witnesses to be the reasons why the car was not brought to a stop for approximately 400 feet after the crash.

Five Asserted Gang Members Held for Trial

The dismissal was granted at the request of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Thomas, who said that his office had been unable to connect her with the gang.

Plunder recovered from the gang, according to Thomas, consisted principally of fifteen radios, which he asserts were stolen from various radio stores. The men held are Russell Stern, Gruby C. Bail was fixed at $1000 for Wagner and $3000 each for the other four defendants.

FILIPINO STILL HELD IN KILLING

Janitor Being Investigated on Story of Keys

Property of Missing Man Found on Person

Prisoner Tells of Innocent Find in Hotel Room

Alberto Bariatos, 32 years of age, Filipino janitor, still was being held in County Jail last night on a charge of suspicion of murder while Sheriff's office investigators continued their inquiry into the unexplained disappearance last December of Eddie Brown, 47 years of age, Puente ranch hand.

Bariatos was arrested by police last Wednesday and turned over to the Sheriff's office for investigation when a metal tag and chain for holding keys, which is believed to have been in possession of Brown when he disappeared, was found on his person. Whether the key chain and tag, bearing the number of a safety-deposit box in a local bank, is one given to Brown by his former employer, Jack F. Wilson of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, for whom he worked on the latter's ranch, was being investigated yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Croushorn and Cloud. A number of keys on the chain also were being traced by the officers.

Bariatos, according to the officers, stated that he found the key holder in a Los Angeles apartment-house about a year ago.

Brown disappeared on December 17, last, leaving his automobile and personal effects at a Puente hotel where he had been living.

Announcement That She Will Run Grocery Made Following Hearing

A grocery store went along with a decree of divorce to Mrs. Maria V. De Leon yesterday, when she was granted a legal separation from her husband, John C. De Leon, by Superior Judge Edmonds. As a result of the court's action she will go into business for herself, she announced at the end of the hearing.

Through a property settlement which was approved by the court, Mrs. De Leon was given one of three grocery stores owned by De Leon, Los Angeles groceryman.

Mrs. De Leon obtained her decree on the grounds of cruelty. She asserted De Leon threatened her life with a revolver and beat her on several occasions. She was also given the custody of two minor children.

The De Leons were married in Juarez, Mex., on December 9, 1920, and separated on October 27, 1929.

Mass Meeting in Hospital Drive Set for Tonight

A mass meeting on behalf of the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital building fund campaign will be held this evening in the Polke Schule Auditorium, 420 North Soto street. Dr. George Saylin, one of the leaders in charge of the Hollenbeck Heights solicitation, will preside. Among the speakers will be Rabbi S. M. Neches, Judge Elias V. Rosenranz, I. Irving Lipsitch and Lester W. Roth.

ROSA ROSANOVA.

Mme. Rosa Rosanova, artist, and Louis Robinson, violinist, will appear.

The meeting is to acquaint the East Side residents with the progress made to date and to enlist their financial aid in order that the quota of their section may be subscribed 100 per cent. It is the object of the campaign committee to complete the active solicitation work not later than the 15th inst. With approximately 65 per cent of the $1,000,000 fund already subscribed, the committee feels that they will be able to attain their objective on schedule time.

Diamond Bandit Suspect Named in Complaint

Robbery of $15,000 worth of diamonds is charged in a complaint issued yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Bonner Richardson, naming James Kenyon who is said to be held under arrest in San Diego. The complaint accuses Kenyon and an accomplice, named only as John Doe, of holding up and robbing Peter Borisoff, a jeweler, in his store at 224 South Western avenue, February 27, last.

Borisoff reported that the two bandits forced him at guns' points to walk into a rear room while they stole $15,000 worth of diamonds. Detective Lieutenants Bain and Moran of the Wilshire division reported the arrest of Kenyon and obtained the complaint which recommends bail of $35,000.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the opening of Flemish Village Lane from Serrano avenue to an alley east of Western avenue and for the improvement of streets in the Webb-street and Radford-street district. The hearing of protests against the improvement of Croft avenue from Rosewood avenue to Beverly Boulevard was continued until May 6, while the hearing of protests against the establishment of setback lines in Sixty-first street between Menlo and Vermont avenues was continued until the 17th inst.

Peach delight—Cut sponge cake into squares, cover them with sliced peaches and top with whipped cream or thin custard.

To make a wood floor like new, scrub it with water in which equal quantities of fuller's earth, soft soap and soda have been dissolved. The wood will look new and white.

When serving sliced oranges, sprinkle a little cocoanut over them for a change; another variation is to add sliced bananas and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

It is well to know that the slogan of the Children's Hospital Salvage Department is this: "Nothing is too large or too small, too old or too new" to send them; so let's get up a bundle of clothing and discarded articles and send them the very first thing this coming week! 712 Maple Ave. is the address. To clean tennis shoes, and give them a suede effect, rub dry powdered whiting on the shoes with a piece of flannel. White canvas shoes, if much soiled, should be scrubbed, before the whiting is put on, with soap and water applied with a hard brush; then remove all soap, dry in the sun and apply the whiting. The shoes should be first stuffed with paper or put on shoe trees to hold their shape and prevent shrinking.

When rubber overshoes or boots become hard from wetting, rub them with castor oil as warm as the hand can bear; rub it on with a sponge and work it well in with the fingers.

What a comfort it is to know that as we grow older, science provides ways and means for us to enjoy pleasures and luxuries which in years past were denied elderly people. The following letter is only one of hundreds being received by the Joannes Corporation:

Gentlemen:

I want to write you about Ben-Hur Drip Coffee, and its good qualities. I am 70 years old and my husband is 71. We were always very fond of coffee but for the past few years we had had to stop using it. If we drank it for breakfast it seemed to give us indigestion. If we drank it for dinner at night we could not sleep. So we finally had to give it up entirely, and it was mighty hard for us to enjoy our breakfast without a good cup of coffee.

Upon hearing Marion Herbert, a Home Economics and cooking expert, tell of the wonderful experience she had personally had with the use of Ben-Hur Drip Coffee, I decided to try it for myself. I purchased a pound of Ben-Hur Drip Coffee and one of your Healthful Coffee Makers, and now daddy and I have our coffee when we want it and drink as much as we want.

We have no more indigestion, sleepless nights, nor acid condition. From now on I am certainly a booster for Ben-Hur Drip Coffee. I find it a better, more economical coffee than any on the market, and I have tried them all.

My readers will be tremendously interested in learning that Mathews Paint Company's three stores all carry artists' colors in the most alluring new shades which are at the moment the vogue in decorating. There are vivid unusual blues, red tones and indeed just every color known. Mathews is the home of artists' supplies and it is well to know that you may get so many useful materials for home decorating from them. Then they have beautiful frames and moldings in one department and it is well to know that they will soon have in modernistic frames which there will be a great demand for.

Mathews Paint Company's addresses you will want for future purposes so here they are: 1245 South Hill at Pico; 1359 North Vine, Hollywood, and 740 East Greene, Pasadena.

When you want any upholstering done be sure to call up H. E. Simank of 725 West Ninth (TUcker 2462) for he does excellent work at reasonable prices. Mr. Simank carries, too, a large line of foreign as well as domestic fabrics for you to choose your coverings from.

Even your silver-mounted brush may be replaced and repaired so that it can't be told from new. The Peerless Platers of 239½ South Spring (upstairs) do such work beautifully and reasonably. They are expert silversmiths doing the very finest of replating of all kinds.

Before staining floors, be sure that all oil or polishing cream is first removed with soda and water; otherwise the stain will be rough and sticky and will not dry.

Now that Lent is safely launched we have St. Patrick's Day to consider for coming suggestions. With this thought uppermost in mind, let's look to our food repast and the attendant color scheme! Do you know that Guasti Mint Wine Jelly lends itself admirably to this idea? With its lovely green—to say nothing of its super-delicious flavor—you will certainly be unable to do without it for garnishing all dishes served on the famous Saint's day of Celebration.

Guasti Mint Wine Jelly is flavored with the rare and enticing mellowness of famous old vintages, and did you know it is prepared from pure California wines, cane sugar and pure fruit pectin?

For breakfast on St. Patrick's Day to dinner and long into the evening as well as far as your special party and bridge-supper Guasti Mint Wine Jelly has a place in your consideration.

I would suggest that you order a number of jars now so as to be prepared for the approaching feast day. All the better stores will be able to supply you with the desired amount.

Ex-Prisoners Found Jobs by Sheriff's Aide

Jobs for sixty-three ex-prisoners were found by the Sheriff's contact office during February, R. E. Frith, contact officer, announced yesterday, bringing to 1719 the total number of men placed since June 15, 1927. The office handled 240 ex-prisoners during the month, 156 of whom were found to have jobs awaiting them, and twenty-one of whom still are without employment.

Loans made to ex-prisoners in February totaled 110, reducing the cash on hand for this purpose to $913.14.

Steady Business Gains Forecast

Steady improvement will continue to mark business conditions throughout the country, according to G. E. Nagel, president of Silverwood's, who has just returned from a visit to the Chicago offices of Hart, Schaffner & Marx, clothing manufacturers. The prediction, Nagel says, is based on a survey recently completed by the clothing company.

Nagel returned with plans to introduce a course of training in the clothing business for new employees. The classes will concern correctness of style, color harmony, and the scientific testing of fabrics for color fastness and textile strength.

Williams would have parking limited to forty-five minutes from 2 a.m. to 4 p.m., with no parking allowed between 7 a.m. and 9 a.m. or between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Board Sessions Call McCormick to Washington

United States District Judge McCormick, a member of President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission, left last night for Washington, where he will attend the next meeting of the commission.

Judge McCormick hopes to reach the capital in time to attend the meeting of the commission with subcommittees on Tuesday, but will be there in time for a general meeting on Wednesday.

It was stated by Judge McCormick that he expects to complete his duties in Washington in order to resume his court calendar here by April 1, next.

Wife Jealous, Says Director

Mrs. Dora E. Kraft was so jealous of the screen actresses whom her husband, William James Kraft, director, had to work with, that she continually berated him, and finally forced a separation, he asserts in his complaint filed yesterday.

Mrs. Kraft was so extravagant that she ran up $5000 in bills before her husband could do anything about it, and in addition to this, she accused him of working late hours so he wouldn't have to associate with her, he charges. She also squandered foolishly $3000 of his savings, he asserts.

Today's Bible Text

Who shall lay anything to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justifieth. —Romans viii, 33.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
Man named Straight confesses to holding up and robbing a Berkeley bank. Probably heard it so often he didn't comprehend its meaning.

ONE-TRACK MINDS
The fellow who declares loudly that "the schools is gittin' too fancy an' they learnt us just as much in the little red schoolhouse," is the one who wears those loud things in the haberdasher's window that you wondered about.

WEDDING KISSES
When the bride and groom kiss at the end of the ceremony, it is a good deal like the handclasp of two prize fighters just before the bout begins. However, both are old customs and nobody objects to them.

CONSIDERATE
At the very time that Europe is becoming too crowded for comfort and the five great powers are in conference over ways and means of stopping so many killings in war, along comes the automobile and takes care of the surplus. Isn't nature wonderful?

EVERYTHING BUT PRICE
All one hears nowadays about oil and gasoline is that there is too much of it. We know a lot of fellows who could use a few gallons once in a while if they would let the old law of supply and demand get to work. There is something that could be cut besides production and manufacture.

SHOCK ABSORBERS
The brayings of the Democratic mule didn't make the atmosphere of the Senate "shake and tremble" very long when leaders sought to take advantage of Mr. Hoover's anniversary in office to fire a broadside at the Republican Chief Executive. The facts of achievement served to nullify the effects of the anti-administration bombardment at its outset.

SPRING GARDENING
If some one would invent a game in which a row of new potatoes could be hoed by a mashie in the fewest number of strokes before they were sunk in the pot, one of our biggest problems would be solved. The trouble is there are too many just digging up divots with nothing but mutilated landscape to show for it.

ABOLISHING PARKING
Two years ago Chicago banned all parking in the extensive Loop district of that city. The merchants protested against the order. Now they say they are satisfied, as it has not reduced the volume of business in the least, but on the contrary it has gained considerably. New York now proposes a much more sweeping edict against parking. Police Commissioner Whalen has asked the City Council to abolish it in the southern part of the city, from the Battery to Fifty-ninth street.

The Commissioner proposes to apply the regulation gradually in order that more garages may be built to accommodate cars in the great business section that would be affected. He says that all new skyscrapers now being planned should have floors devoted to parking, as is now done in Philadelphia and San Francisco. The new Sutter Building in the Bay City, twenty-eight stories high, has sixteen parking floors, reached by a motor ramp extending from the street and is built to accommodate nearly 500 cars.

About 90,000 cars are parked every day in New York below Fifty-ninth street, about 60,000 in the street and the rest in garage hotels and common garages. New York has tried limited parking, but Commissioner Whalen says its enforcement takes up too much time of the police and is ineffective anyway.

Although downtown Los Angeles has not yet reached the point of density of New York traffic, it has nearly done so, and the no-parking plans of New York and Chicago are of interest here. So far we have but few very large garages, though there is one on Spring street that accommodates 1000 cars and is said to be the largest on the Coast, equal in capacity to the great Book Tower garage in Detroit.

CALIFORNIA LAND SHOW
The California Land Show, which gets under way at Washington and Hill streets today, is intended to bring to popular attention the possibilities of an industry which last year had a production of $750,000,000. There are other California industries, but agriculture is the basic one, as genuinely important as all the others put together. What it lacks in spectacular appeal is made up in other ways—and spectacular appeal is not lacking when the facts are gathered together and graphically illustrated, as they will be in this exhibition.

This land show is a nonprofit affair, sponsored by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the Los Angeles Realty Board and the California Real Estate Association. It will have exhibits from all the south and central counties of the State, as the district around San Francisco is co-operating actively.

California is unique in the bewildering variety of products obtained from her fertile acres, and those who consider that they are not interested in such a prosaic thing as agriculture will have a surprise coming when they visit this show. The California that may be seen and appreciated there is not the California that the tourist customarily sees—it would take months of travel and intensive search to seek out all the information that may be gathered there in an hour or two. Agricultural California staggers the imagination, but it is possible to comprehend something of its vastness and of its resources as yet undeveloped from the swift bird's-eye view that this show will give.

There are opportunities for hundreds of thousands, millions more, upon the lands of California. Confirmed city dwellers may get, at this land show, an understanding of what keeps the cities going, which alone is well worth their while. Those with a taste for country life will get still more out of it, for it may point out for them a different way of living, possible independence and possible wealth. This does not mean that every man can make a living from ten acres. But it does mean that there are comparative misfits in the cities by the thousands, who would be far healthier, wealthier and happier in some agricultural occupation, particularly tilling their own acres. The man who sits under his own vine and fig tree has compensations not to be expressed in dollars and cents—a platitude, perhaps, but not less true because it has been repeated so many times.

So that the California Land Show has a genuine interest for everybody and those who see it will be rewarded, at least with an increased respect for what the State has to offer and an increased knowledge of what a wonderland California really is.

EAST AND WEST AT GRIPS
Mahatma Gandhi in British India is attempting a campaign against an organized government the like of which is unknown in the history of revolutionary movements. In brief, he is marshaling the philosophy of the East against the ethics of the West, matching the passive resistance of 300,000,000 philosophically all-enduring orientals against the active administration of a handful of trained, resourceful, but possibly too self-confident officials.

Gandhi's scheme is well defined and apparently carefully planned. It is framed entirely on the idealism of Buddha. It disclaims all appeal to violence. It calls for incredible self-sacrifice on the part of the revolters. It presumes the suffering, stolid apathy of the massed herd will in time wear out the teeth and energy of the lone wolf. It believes that non-co-operation and civic disobedience, even though they entail for a while misery and hardship on millions of Hindu nationalists, will eventually force the British overlords to abandon a rulership which for them must spell financial ruin.

In making his calculations the ascetic Gandhi reckons without a whole company of hosts. He proceeds on the dubious assumption that the many millions who must sacrifice their homes and goods and civic rights and unresistingly acknowledge themselves outlaws are built on the same heroic mold as himself. Possibly many of them are, but it is safe to assume that the majority are not. A quiet and orderly defiance of the law sounds just about as convincing as "peaceful picketing" in the heat of a strike dispute. Human nature may differ east of Suez, but not to such an extent as this.

In the next place the Nationalist leader has no solid race or nation behind him. The 300,000,000 inhabitants of the peninsula are by caste, by religious fanaticism, by different racial origins, by the handicap of 200 languages hopelessly disunited. The people he would lead in this peaceful campaign to throw off British control include 68,000,000 fighting Mohammedans, who, if they love the Christians little, love the Hindus still less. The rajas, maharajas and Indian princes emphatically disapprove Gandhi's policy of separation from Great Britain.

From the invasion of Alexander to Clive's victory at Plassey India has been the arena of countless invasions, in none of which have the Hindus been able to put up any effective resistance. Since 1707 under British administration the lot of the natives, bad as it is today in many respects, is vastly better than it was before the formation of the British East India Company.

Gandhi may carry his last movement far enough to cripple British interests in India, but it will be at a terrible expense in suffering for the unfortunate natives. Moreover, India is filled with Red emissaries from Russia who in case of serious trouble would quickly turn Gandhi's peaceful revolution into an orgy of blood and destruction.

The collapse of British rule in India at the present time would be a world-wide catastrophe. Gandhi and his philosophy would crumble in the cataclysm. A new and dangerous field would be thrown wide open for planting the Red seed of Russian Communism. All Christian civilization would suffer in the repercussion. That the British authorities in India are taking the situation calmly and treating the Mahatma with urbane tolerance is a hopeful sign that the threatened revolution is not so serious as some of the Hindu Nationalist leaders would make it appear.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.
By Lee Shippey

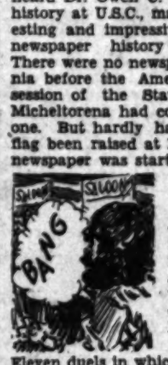
WE USUALLY think of pioneers as those who came to California sixty years or more ago. But we have other pioneers here. Mrs. William Harvey Brown, who lives at 1245 West Santa Barbara street, is making plans to go to South Africa within a few weeks to attend the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of Rhodesia. Her daughter Eleanor, who was born there, will go with her.

Mrs. Brown was a daughter of Chancellor Frank Snow of Kansas University, and her husband was a student there. In 1889 he went to South Africa for the Smithsonian Institution, arriving there just as the South African pioneers were setting out for Rhodesia. He joined them and received a land grant as a pioneer. A few years later he returned to marry Miss Snow and take her back to Rhodesia, where they lived until his death about fifteen years ago.

It all reminds us how rapidly the world is being settled and civilized. Forty years ago Rhodesia wasn't on the map—and even Southern California didn't amount to much.

Our Recent Past

While we were thinking of that, we heard Dr. Owen C. Coy, professor of history at U.S.C., make a most interesting and impressive speech on the newspaper history of California. There were no newspapers in California before the Americans took possession of the State, though Gov. Micheltorena had considered starting one. But hardly had the American flag been raised at Monterey when a newspaper was started, in 1846.



"Journalists"

In those days editors had to be fightin' men. Our first editor stood six feet eight, wore a coonskin cap and was handy with his shootin' irons. Eleven duels in which newspaper men participated took place in the next few years.

In a few years, it seems to us, that will be almost unbelievable history. We attended the annual newspaper day at the University of Southern California the other day and were almost lost in a sea of femininity. Several hundred high school journalism students were there and when the Cromble Allen trophy for the best high school newspaper was awarded to the Hollywood High School News it was a young lady editor who received it. In all the schools of journalism we have seen lately there is a majority of girl students.

Blessed by Ill Health

Most of us are inclined to look on ill health as the saddest of things, but there are many thousands of people in Southern California to whom it has proved a great blessing.

Had they had good health they would have stayed put in some cramping position back East. But poor health has made them travel and see the world, broaden their mental horizon, develop resources they didn't know they had, grow to greater achievement than they otherwise would have known—and come to live in "God's country," in the enjoyment of all they have gained plus health regained. Inability to spend their powers recklessly has made them conserve them so that in middle age they have not only accomplished more, but have more reserve force than most of us have.

This may sound to eastern readers like California hokum. But if there is anyone who has lived here long enough to get acquainted who cannot look about his own neighborhood and see a number of people who prove it true we'll eat our red necktie.

Case in Point

Over in Brea, Orange county, the other night we were introduced to a man whose name we caught as Oldfield and who looked so husky we assumed his first name was Barney. But instead it was Rev. Dr. Oldfield—who had been sent out here to die a few years ago. In that one respect he certainly has failed to make good, for we never saw a healthier specimen and the way he cleaned up the splendid turkey dinner the Brea Eastern Star had provided would have made Jack Dempsey envious. Yet that, we soon learned, was only one of the doctor's minor accomplishments.

Unusual Club

We had gone to Brea as a guest of The Times Masonic Club, which was meeting with the Orange County Masonic Club, an organization which meets one month in one Orange county town, the next month in another, so that in the course of a year its members get in close touch with all parts of their county. We wonder if any other Southern California county has any sort of organization which operates on such a wise and pleasant plan.

At that gathering, by the way, we got a good joke on our friend, Dr. Fuller Swift. Dr. Swift was making a speech when a late-comer arrived. After listening for some minutes to the Swift-flowing oratory, the newcomer whispered to a neighbor:

"'From Darkness to Light'," answered the other.

"You misunderstood me. I didn't ask how long he was going to talk. I asked his subject."

MERELY PITUITARY
Every murderer exhibits oversecretion of the thyroid gland. Every forger shows undersecretion of the pituitary gland. Every social misfit reveals malsecretion of some gland, says Ralph Reynolds of San Francisco, to a group of doctors and criminologists. His investigations were made at San Quentin. We have been blaming the crime wave on the parents, preachers and police. And now it seems the glands are the guilty parties.

WHERE WILL WE USE IT?
Oxford University is worried for fear that conversation will become a lost art. Clubs are being formed among students to foster it. But when the students graduate where will the practice come in, what with radios, bridge games, dinner orchestras and society entertainers. The modern hostess, remembering the conversational seances of her childhood, keeps her guests from being bored.

ARREST THAT POTATO
By James J. Montague

The "careless potato," sang blithe Thomas Moore,
Had little esteem for its worth;
It was wholly content with the leafage it wore
And the warmth of the nourishing earth.
"The bean or the pea might more loftily tower,
But it cared not a button for them;
Defiance it waved with its beautiful flower
While the dirt was hoed up to its stem."

And now we discover the reason, forsooth,
Why this plant with the musical name
Is prone to be blatant and rude and uncouth
And devoid of all feeling of shame.
It adopted this habit of devil-may-care
When by harrow or hoe it was goaded,
And flaunted its flowers aloft in the air
Because it was constantly loaded.

It never was shy or refined or restrained,
Its eyes had a sinister leer,
For always its earth-hidden tubers contained
The makings of whisky and beer.
These bulbous appendages, deep in the ground
With their seemingly cellulose cells,
A researching science has recently found
Are nothing but alcohol wells.

THE SCHOOL OF SPEECH
BY DEAN RAY K. IMMEL

The teaching of the arts of speech at the University of Southern California dates back as far as the university itself. A class in elocution was organized as a part of the first program of classes offered at the University of Southern California in the fall of 1880, Miss M. D. McChain giving the instruction and serving as assistant in English when necessary. Tuition for this class in elocution was in addition to the regular tuition of $12 a term in the academy and $15 a term in the college.

There was considerable interest in literary and speaking activities, for the Union Literary Society was organized in the fall of 1880. It was composed of both men and women and probably of both academy and college students. However, it was felt that the name "Union" was too commonplace and the name was changed to "Platonian" in 1881, the membership being composed as in the first year. We read that in June, 1882, the annual commencement exercises of the society "were of very literary merit, consisting of essays, declamations and original orations, all of which were delivered in excellent style." There was also, in June, 1882, a prize declamation contest, in which twelve students competed for the highest honor, this contest being held at the suggestion of Rev. A. M. Hough "in order to stimulate the students in the art of public address."

In the fall of 1882 the faculty decreed that the Platonian society should be divided, men and women being placed in separate societies. Accordingly the women organized the Athena Society and the men reorganized the old Platonian Society and renamed it Aristotelian. These two societies have had a continuous existence since that year. When the central part of the building now called Old College was completed, in 1886, two large rooms on the third floor were given over to these societies and the activities in the field of speech have centered on that floor from that year to the present time.

In 1895 a school of oratory was organized, as a separate branch of the university system and Maude E. Willis was appointed principal. This is the same Maude E. Willis who was later to become a platform reader of national reputation. Of the newly organized school of oratory Leslie Gay says: "This was the successor of the classes in elocution which hitherto had been conducted in connection with the regular work of the college of liberal arts. A course of study was outlined, covering a period of two years, and the Delsarte System of Physical Culture and Expression was taught throughout the course."

In the fall of 1898 Lee Emerson Bassett succeeded to the principalship. Prof. Bassett has been for many years professor of English in charge of the speech division at Stanford University. He remained at the University of Southern California only one year and was succeeded by Jesse Martin Roberts in the fall of 1899. In that year "the courses in oratory, which included the physical culture work, were broadened and strengthened and the entire department was put on a higher plane."

The next significant event occurred in the fall of 1903, when Miss Beulah Wright was appointed head of the school of oratory and given the title of dean. She was a young woman of exceptional ability, character and personal charm. For fifteen years she guided the destinies of the school of oratory. Several of the courses which she built up are still being given as she gave them. She organized the work in public speaking and debating in the law school. Her debating teams debated Columbia and Northwestern universities, as well as the universities of Wisconsin and Pennsylvania and gave good account of themselves.

During many years the work of physical education fell within the scope of the school of speech. Miss Wright not only taught classes in speech, but she coached the girls' basketball teams and for a time had charge of the work in physical education for the entire university.

In 1906 Miss Elizabeth Yoder was invited to join the staff in speech. She remained a member of the staff for twenty-one years, resigning in the spring of 1929 to organize a school for girls in Florence, Italy. With the exception of Miss Wright, Miss Yoder probably exerted a greater influence upon the fortunes of the school than any other person. In 1918 Miss Wright resigned her position to marry Willard U. Comstock and Miss Yoder became dean, a position which she filled until the fall of 1924, in which year she resigned as dean, but continued teaching full time until her resignation from the faculty in 1929.

In the fall of 1922 an important change was made in the financing of the school of speech. Up to that time the principal or dean had assumed all financial responsibility, collecting tuition, paying teachers and purchasing supplies. In that year the university took over the school and the dean received a stated salary, thus putting the school on the same academic basis as other units of the university.

On the resignation of Miss Wright in 1918 the work was divided. Miss Yoder continued the work in reading and dramatics and Miss Gertrude Comstock continued the public speaking and debate work in the law school and in the college of liberal arts. Mr. Anthony Blanks, now on the faculty of the University of California, followed Miss Comstock in charge of work in public speaking.

In 1924 Ray K. Immel came from the faculty of the University of Michigan to the deanship of the school and again all of the work in speech, of whatever nature, was organized under a single head; it so remains today. University debating and oratorical contests, class and university plays and all class work in public speaking and debate, reading and dramatics, speech science, English phonetics and speech pathology and correction are all under the jurisdiction of the school of speech.

During the fifty years of university history the faculty in speech has grown from one member in 1880 to nine full-time members and one half-time member in 1929-30. Registrations in speech classes in 1929-30 number well above 1000. As late as 1924 there was one active candidate for the degree of master of arts in speech; in 1929-30 there are over thirty.

Several valuable gifts have aided materially in stimulating the work in speech at the university. In 1922 a gift of about $60,000 came from Anna M. Robbins, intended for an endowment, the income from which should be used to further public speaking and debating at the university. This makes possible an exceptional opportunity for participation in platform competition. In April, 1923, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Currier established a foundation in honor of their son, Dale Currier, who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War. The income is used to promote speech training. Judge William M. Bowen annually provides six beautiful cups as awards for excellence in sincere and effective speaking. Undergraduates only are eligible to compete for these trophies. Mr. E. Neal Ames, Los Angeles attorney and alumnus and former debater, annually awards a beautiful cup to the best freshman debater. In 1929, Mrs. Sarah Taft Teschke presented to the school of speech, in behalf of Zeta Phi Eta Sorority, a large and very beautiful silver cup. The name of the speech senior having the highest scholastic average for the four years of university work is to be engraved on it each year, the cup to remain the permanent possession of the school of speech. These and other evidences of interest in the work of the school have stimulated the class and extra-curricular work very materially.

The school of speech enjoys very close and cordial relations with the motion-picture companies, especially through the medium of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. In the spring of 1927 Mr. W. R. MacDonald, instructor in the school and play director for the university, spent several months in close observation of the work done in the picture studios. Relations established through this contact have proved valuable to the university. In the spring of 1928, the first course in photoplay was given at this university, Mr. MacDonald having charge. Lecturers came from various studios to contribute their knowledge and experience.

In December, 1928, Dean Immel and Mr. MacDonald, with the aid of material in the form of films and sound records furnished by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, gave the first program of lectures and demonstrations ever given before the National Association of Teachers of Speech. The program was given at a Chicago theater in connection with the convention of the national association, and was attended by hundreds of teachers from all parts of the United States. The association authorized Dean Immel and Mr. MacDonald to prepare a plan for the awarding of a medal for the best work in voice, diction and interpretation in the talking pictures.

Speech education has been revolutionized in recent years. The old order stressed platform effectiveness almost exclusively. The new order stresses the "why." This is the era of speech research and investigation. In more than one school the older values have all but been lost sight of in enthusiasm for the new ideals. It has been the studied aim of the local school not to lose the point of view of platform proficiency while adopting the spirit of research and scholarly approach. The aim constantly kept in view is the personal improvement of the individual student.

The school of speech believes that it is a mistake to educate the vocal cords without the assurance that the student has something worth while about which to become vocal. All candidates for the degree in speech must elect two units of subjects from the college of letters, arts and sciences for every one unit that they elect in speech. This insures attention to the cultural and factual side of life. Hence the requirement that the student shall make contacts with natural science, modern languages, psychology, history, English and other subjects. Only by well-rounded education may the speaker justify his speaking.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

THE FIREMEN WORK QUIETLY
[New York World]

In Washington, when a fire broke out near the house of Mr. Taft, a policeman reminded the firemen of the proximity of the distinguished sick man, and they put it out without any noise whatever. It was a piece of thoughtfulness that all of us will applaud, but it was also a novelty that most of us will think about. If firemen could go about their work quietly in this instance, is there any reason why they cannot do so in every instance? Is it really necessary that they screech their siren on the way to every little blaze, so that they make life almost intolerable on the streets which they usually choose for their route? One doubts. The justification for this uproar is that they must go at breakneck speed, and give some signal that will notify traffic to get out of the way. But we have learned much about traffic in recent years; we know that one outrider on a motorcycle can clear a path better than any siren, and with much less commotion. The truth, in all likelihood, is that the commotion of the firemen has become traditional with us, and is accepted without any disposition to inquire whether it might not be dispensed with.

WONDERS OF THE ZOO
[St. Louis Post-Dispatch]

The rhinoceros is commonly supposed to be so hardy that neither disease nor bullets can kill it. Nevertheless, a young rhinoceros for which St. Louis paid $7000 recently turned up its toes and died as if it might have been a rabbit.

This week much the same thing happened to a wolverine. In the days when we used to read W. A. Fraser's stories of the Canadian woods we gained the impression that beside a wolverine, which can dexterously take the bait out of a trap without springing it, a cat is a clumsy creature that has difficulty in keeping out of its own way. Yet this wolverine at the zoo climbed into a tree, which is its custom, slipped and broke its neck.

SOME MODEST REFORMERS
[Kansas City Star]

The Los Angeles Institute of Family Relations, designed to promote happy marriages, has started out with a fair promise of success. "We do not expect," says the heredity and eugenics specialist in charge, "to solve all the problems of mankind." This modest pronouncement commends the agency to thoughtful persons. It seems quite probable that, with a frank understanding of the limitations of human nature, something worth while could be done not only to improve the marriage relation, but human nature itself. When the latter is attended to, most marriages will turn out properly.

COMMUNISTS ENJOY THE HOLIDAY
[San Francisco Chronicle]

The Communists who attacked police stations in Germany to celebrate an anniversary certainly have a funny idea of a good time. Five of them were killed, many were wounded and there were wholesale arrests.

The occasion was the tenth anniversary of the deaths of Rosa Luxemburg and Carl Liebknecht in the German revolution of 1919. The Communists evidently thought it a proper occasion to make a few more martyrs and they succeeded.

It would hardly be our way of enjoying an afternoon, but of course there is no accounting for tastes.

GLORIA TO SING IN OPERETTA

Comedian Given Feature Role in R.-K.-O. Musical; Warners Secure Youthful Star for "Fame;" Laura La Plante May Sign Contract

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

So great a success has Gloria Swanson made with her singing in pictures, that she is planning to appear in a series of operettas, according to information received yesterday.

GLORIA SWANSON

The first of these is to be produced soon, and Paul Stein will direct. The operetta is to be an original, but the nature of it and the names of the composers who will write it are not yet ready for announcement.

At present Stein is directing "Bride 66" for United Artists, the operetta in which Jeannette MacDonald, Robert Chisholm, Joe E. Brown, Zazu Pitts, Harry Gribbon and others are being featured.

NED SPARKS PLAYS R.-K.-O. COMIC LEAD

When "The Fall Guy" gets under way, it will have in the principal comedy role no less clever an actor than Ned Sparks.

NED SPARKS

The present role will be Sparks's first assignment under his new contract with R.-K.-O., which is looking about for the best available material for this popular comedian, who has so many screen and stage successes to his credit.

Warners Sign Youthful Star

Replete with glory in the way of New York stage triumphs, that youthful and brilliant player, Junior Durkin, has arrived in Hollywood and has been assigned an important part in "Fame," in which Belle Bennett is to be starred.

Young Durkin, who is but 14 years of age, took New York by storm when he played in "Courage," and it is more than likely that Warners will sign him on a long-term contract.

Laura La Plante's Plans

Since severing her connection with Universal, Laura La Plante's plans are uncertain. However, it is understood that she is to sign either with R.-K.-O. or with First National. Her husband, William Seiter, is under contract to the latter company.

LAURA LA PLANTE

But probably before doing any more screen work Miss La Plante and Seiter will take a trip, quite likely to Europe, as soon as Seiter gets a vacation long enough to provide for the journey.

Columbia Signs Leads

"Soldiers and Women," from the New York stage play, is to get under way within a day or two.

In the meantime Columbia has signed Grant Withers for the male lead, and Helen Johnson and Aileen Pringle for the two feminine leads.

Other important roles will be filled by Walter McGrail and Emmett Corrigan.

Edward Sloman is to direct, and the picture will be a special with musical features and some color photography.

Actress May Sign Contract

There is a strong likelihood, we hear, that Wynne Gibson will sign a long-term contract with R.-K.-O., that organization holding such an option on her services.

WYNNE GIBSON

In the meantime Miss Gibson has been given a featured role in "The Fall Guy."

Miss Gibson played the leading feminine role in M.-G.-M.'s picture, "The Song Writer," being brought west for the role from New York, where she appeared in several notable stage productions.

George Marion In It

George Marion, who recently appeared in one of the outstanding roles of the year as Greta Garbo's father in "Anna Christie," has been rewarded with another fine role. He was yesterday chosen for the part of Pop Riker in "The Big House," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's drama of penitentiary life.

BILLIE DOVE A SOUTHERN BELLE NOW

"Other Tomorrow," Star's Latest, Seen at Warner's Hollywood

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

Billie Dove, leaving her husband flat in "The Other Tomorrow" at Warner's Hollywood, drives her car into a raging thunderstorm with the window on her side open, and the windshield wiper turned off. If she had taken a little extra precaution she would not have run blindly into a two-foot puddle and stalled there; she would not have sought refuge in Jim Carter's house; her husband would not have found out about it, and Sheriff Weaver would not have shot him dead just as he was about to do the same thing to Jim Carter. In fact, a whole lot of unpleasantness might have been avoided, and I for one wish it had.

I am a little hazy about the virtues of "The Other Tomorrow." Miss Dove, it seems, is as beautiful as ever, but she is not the best of the talking actresses by several score. The vehicle in which she finds herself is attributed to Octavus Roy Cohen; there are possible echoes of this southern gentleman's sentiments in a deal of going-on about "the Larrison honor," and in the presence of cotton-picking darkies who never, apparently, are too weary for a rousing spiritual or two. Otherwise, the setting might as well have been Rutledge, Vt., if Rutledge, Vt., will pardon me.

The picture commences with the marriage of Miss Dove, a southern belle, to Norton Larrison, played by Kenneth Thomson. A couple of old male gossips (the Greek chorus idea) let us in on the secret that Miss Dove has jilted her life-long beau, Jim Carter (Grant Withers,) to marry Larrison. (Later on the gossip idea is expanded so as to keep us posted on practically everything that happens.) After a year, the honeymooners return in time to attend the "yearly church festival." Here they encounter Jim Carter, and the triangle is established all over again.

From then on it is just trouble from morn until night. Larrison's jealousy of Carter increases until he cannot, as the saying goes, see straight. So he invades Carter's drawing-room and tries to force a fight. Carter controls himself by a mighty effort, but it costs him his pipestem, which he crushes between his hands. Larrison leaves. "That was my favorite pipe," says Carter, moodily.

Well, you can see that such a state of affairs would have to end sometime—if for no other reason than that pipes cost money. This brings us to the climax already outlined above. Then there is a title, "The Other Tomorrow," and we see Jim and Miss Dove setting forth adown life's pathway together.

Other features of the program are Herman Timberg in "The Love Boat," Johnny Arthur and Nancy Drexel in "Paper-Hanging," and the Vitaphone Varieties.

Wanderings of Lonely Troupe Photographed

BY ELENA BOLAND

The harshness of nature and the hardships of men are two of the points brought out in an expedition, "Through the Death Deserts of Asia."

All that is seen of this Swedish exploration, which lasted from the year 1927 through the year 1929, is a brief hour of interesting high lights at the Filmarte. Backed by the government of Sweden, Sven Hedin and his lonely little troupe of followers have photographed their long struggles through the barren wastes of Tibet and Mongolia.

The picture compares to a prolonged and extraordinarily interesting news reel. It has not the quality which "Chang" and "Grass" possessed. Excitement is missing, but interest never.

The camera has picked up sketches of oriental village life. It shows the bystanders along the streets; it was fortunate to catch the eye of the Prince of Mongolia, who with his Princess watches the strange twistings of native wrestlers.

By camel the expedition leaves civilization to brave a void of sand, strewn with the bones and carcasses of men and beasts. Into the solitary camps comes a wandering band of actors who smile and giggle as the cameraman focuses on their swaying pantomime.

In a mountain fastness is the isolated monastery of the Llamas. The festival of the god Maidare is held. Out of a sea of nothingness, apparently, flocks a multitude of carnivalers. All the strange rites are photographed and from the most effective portion of the film.

The cruel beauty of winter snowstorms, the endless walls of snow-covered mountains and the tiny dot, which is the expedition, crawling slowly toward its destination create a feeling of immensity which is one secret of the picture's charm.

No matter how many times one has seen Charles Chaplin's "Shoulder Arms," it can be enjoyed all over again. It was interesting to notice that so old a revival could bring about more spontaneous laughter than the average modern comedy.

FILM OF OLD WEST TO START TONIGHT

"Song of the West," a film of covered wagon days, opens an engagement at Warner Brothers Downtown Theater tonight with a gala midnight premiere. Several stars and executives of the motion-picture industry will be in attendance, it has been announced.

ACTOR TO START

Psychological Drama Appears

Noel Madison

Enacts the role of a sardonic poet in "Rope's End," which the Vine-street Theater will present starting tomorrow night.

FILM INNOVATION REVEALED

Enter the "dress rehearsal" film—a movieland innovation. Enter also a full-length feature photographed in slightly less than three days!

The company to accomplish both these startling departures is the Gloria Swanson unit, working for United Artists release, at the Pathe studios. Joseph P. Kennedy, in general charge of the Swanson productions, announced the dual event yesterday.

Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock work was started on Miss Swanson's starring film, "What a Widow," with Owen Moore and Ian Keith among those in the cast, in addition to the star. Last evening the final scene was photographed. The entire film will have a studio preview this evening.

Of course, as Mr. Kennedy explains, this is not the production that will be seen by the public. The film actually is a "dress rehearsal" of the action of the picture. Furthermore it is a dress rehearsal for the most part in costume, and with the settings, in many instances, that will be used.

"We made no preliminary announcement of our plan to take a dress rehearsal film of 'What a Widow,'" said Mr. Kennedy yesterday. "Personally, I wanted to be sure that the experiment would prove successful. We are so well satisfied with the results now that I feel safe in releasing the information of our undertaking. We are most happy with the possibilities of this method of taking a picture, and feel sure now that it will not only save something of the ultimate cost of the film—though that is not the main idea—but will also enable us to secure a better production.

"What we have secured is a rough draft of the entire picture. Instead of rehearsing and rehearsing without making any permanent record of what we did, we put it on the celluloid. It enables us to check up on the entire action. The actor can see his own performance and correct the details of his portrayal. We can determine the timing of laughs in a comedy of this sort to the very best advantage. And what is most important, we can get an advance glimpse of what the film as a whole will look like, and make the necessary improvements.

"The results of the lighting and the action are really much better than you might anticipate, although we make no special effort to reach perfection. It is even possible that, as we learn to apply this system, we may be able to use some of the sequences from the 'dress rehearsal' film, and find them better because of their spontaneity. At all events, it is a visual map for whatever we do in the final picture, and will, I believe, shorten the time of actual shooting to an economical advantage."

Mr. Kennedy estimated that it may only take ten days to photograph the Gloria Swanson picture with its plan entirely laid out visually. He declared that the cost of the dress rehearsal film would probably not exceed by more than $10,000 or $12,000 the carrying on of ordinary rehearsals with the full cast.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

JUST by way of varying things, the Civic Repertory Group is considering the production of a new play, a dramatization of G. B. Stern's modern and delightful novel, "The Back Seat." It would follow in three weeks, or on the 31st inst., "The Romantic Young Lady," which starts Monday evening with Estelle Brody in the name role.

Although Miss Stern's novel has been widely read and discussed, it has never been seen in play form anywhere. However, "The Matriarch," adapted from another novel of this English writer, is now enjoying a successful first run in Chicago, following which it goes to New York in the fall.

This play would precede the production on April 21, next of "The Imaginary Invalid," starring that fine old actor, Rudolph Schildkraut. His English interpretation of this Molière drama, which he has enacted in French and German many times, will be awaited with interest.

Cleve Moore in "June Moon"

Cleve Moore and Nancy Dover step into principal roles at St. Louis tomorrow evening, in "June Moon" in the company which arrives here at the Belasco in April.

Cleve, brother of Colleen Moore, and Miss Dover, formerly leading lady for Harry Langdon, were chosen for the parts by Sam H. Harris, New York producer of the Ring-Lardner-George S. Kaufman comedy, on his recent trip to the Coast.

"Gone Hollywood" Closes

"Gone Hollywood," the Roger Gray extravaganza, will close its engagement at the Biltmore tonight. Gray intends rewriting the show and reorganizing the company, after which he plans to take the production to San Francisco and over the northwestern route toward New York.

May Robson in Town

Beaming of countenance, May Robson has arrived in Los Angeles after eight weeks of trouping in Honolulu to prepare for her appearance at the Hollywood Playhouse in "Helena's Boys" on the 15th inst. "Salt Water," the rollicking Frank Craven show, thus will have to end its run after next week's performances.

Hodgson Gets Two Breaks

When Leyland Hodgson, the British actor, arrives in Los Angeles with the Lenore Ulric production of "East of Suez" on the 17th inst., he is apt to find his name adorning two theater billboards at the same time. Hodgson has a part in the picture, "The Case of Sergeant Grischa," now at the Orpheum. He plays one of the principal supporting roles in "East of Suez."

Two Openings Tomorrow

There are two stage openings tomorrow. One is "Your Uncle Dudley" with Taylor Holmes at the President in the afternoon, and the other is "Rope's End" at the Vine-street Theater in the evening.

The two plays represent the opposite extremes. "Your Uncle Dudley" is a merry, rollicking comedy by the authors of "Tommy." Holmes is seen in the role of a genial, middle-aged bachelor, who has more friends and less credit than any other citizen in the small town in which he lives.

"Rope's End" is a grim psychological drama by Patrick Hamilton, an English playwright. It deals in murder and the ways of super-intellectuals. Noel Madison, a British actor, has the leading role.

CROOK PLAY PRESENTED IN GERMAN

BY JACOB COOPER

There are degrees of characterization which may run from the so-called true-to-life to a point of pure caricature. In American plays, with American players, the effect of caricature seems much sooner reached than in foreign plays with foreign players. This seemed evident in the Gerhart Hauptmann comedy, "Der Biberpelz," which was presented last night at the Windsor Square Theater by the Neuhaus German players.

As presented, this four-act dig at the dignity of petty officialdom offered a picture of rural European life, and carried an assortment of highly etched characters which are foreign to American life and temperament. Even at that, the fine dividing hair which leads into caricature was somewhat overstepped.

The program informs one that this play was the forerunner of an avalanche of many "crook" plays, but the object of its satire is by no means original. Every European country has produced its literature aiming subtle blows at puffed-up petty officials—from Gogol of Russia to Hamsun of Norway.

Using as a pivot the more or less mysterious theft of, first, a fur coat, and then a load of kindling wood, we are given pictures of a pompous country District Attorney, his sleepy bailiff, and immaculate secretary. The performance of Lothar Mayring as the former stamped him as a fine character actor, aptly cast. Paul Weigel as the bailiff, reminiscent of the sleepy fat boy in Dickens's "Pickwick Papers," (without the fat) gave a highly amusing and finely convincing portrayal.

In keeping with the locale, an adherance to dialect was aimed at by those cast in the lower class roles. Else Janssen, as a washwoman, seemed highly adept at this, and besides giving an understanding interpretation to her difficult role, provided a good many of the laughs in her idiomatic speeches. Costea Mooth, as the irate Krueger who suffered the thefts, showed his versatility in a part quite different from those in which we have been used to seeing him.

The balance of the cast helped keep the spirit of the thing up exceptionally well, although here and there an awkward moment or pause appeared which the otherwise fine acting helped one to forget.

MAJOR RECITALS PROVE POPULAR

Lyric Club Presents Program Rich in Contrasts; Olga Steeb Pleases

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Two important musical events drew large audiences to the Biltmore and Philharmonic Auditorium last evening. Olga Steeb played a scholastic program of Bach and Mozart for the benefit of the Mu Phi Epsilon fund for students, and the Woman's Lyric Club gave the second concert of the season, singing a widely varied program with Fred Scott and Gertrude Warren Barry as attracting soloists.

Olga Steeb is a satisfying pianist in anything she elects to play. Her Bach-Mozart concert last night suited her personality and the university audience which was in attendance, especially well. Miss Steeb loves the eternal rightness of precisely fixed measures. Her fleet fingers encompass Bach with a ringing sound. Her Mozart is delicate, naive, almost childlike in its charming simplicity.

Mu Phi Epsilon is to be congratulated on another successful annual concert.

The Lyric Club was particularly gay and festive in its singing last night. Spring was in the air and the club sang to celebrate it. Mr. Poulin chose an outstanding concert list for this concert. A Strauss Serenade, "O, Likeness Dim and Faded" by Donaudy in a beautiful arrangement by Deems Taylor. "Mista" by Respighi and the Entrance of the Gods from Wagner's "Rheingold" were new diversions and much appreciated. Mrs. Hennion Robinson's support at the piano was, as always, indispensable.

Mr. Fred Scott, who came in from a sound-picture studio just long enough to sing numbers on this program, was warmly received. Because of his sudden rise from a motion-picture chorus his appearance aroused especial interest. Gertrude Warren Barry, a contralto with an excellent voice, gave much pleasure to her audience in the singing of "Eros" and "In the Boat" by Grieg and the ever-popular Habanera from "Carmen."

Children and Ponies Share Horse Show Honors

Girls of St. Louis Wins Fifth Blue Ribbon

Exhibition Will Close With Performances Today

Juvenile riders and ponies yesterday shared honors with the larger horses and adult riders at the matinee of the Los Angeles National Horse Show in Sports Auditorium. Miss Maybelle Bayly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bayly, won the blue ribbon with her pinto, Billie, in the display of juvenile ponies. The matinee was attended as the thirteen events were presented. The show will close with an equal exhibition today at a matinee and evening performance.

HORSE WINS AGAIN

In the eight events the biggest part of the show was present and the ring was at a premium with hundreds unable to gain admittance. The big feature of the day was the $2000 championship class for single heavy harness horses. This was won by Carnation Rhythm from the Carnation Farm [illegible] of St. Louis, the entry of W. P. Roth in the three-gaited class event, again won first place yesterday afternoon. The horse appeared in five events and took the first prize each time he appeared in the ring. Some of the features on the matinee program today will be a class of hunters, to be ridden by boys and girls under 18 years of age. Tonight the grand championship of the American Saddle-Horse Association for futurity will be decided, with winners picked from the horses from events already held. There will also be a championship stake for five-gaited saddle horses. Chief of Staff and Carnation Chief will be in the ring again as the favored entrants in the class.

PROTESTED LIQUOR FINE SUSPENDED

Elderly Resident Scores Police for Raid on Home and Beer Seizure

Found guilty of possession of several bottles of beer, seized by Police Officers Carr, Miller and Williams in a raid on her $10-a-month home at 1850 East Forty-third street, Mrs. Etta Livingston, 78 years of age, was given a suspended sentence yesterday by Municipal Judge Sheldon. The jury was unable to agree as to whether the woman sold the officers beer and the count will be set for retrial later.

Mrs. Livingston, on the stand, excoriated the arresting officers, declaring they entered her home without a search warrant and, seizing the beer, left a dollar bill on the table in payment, which she refused to touch, telling them she was not bootlegging.

Judge Sheldon suspended a $500 fine on condition that Mrs. Livingston's daughter take her to her home and care for her.

Salvation Army Fresh-Air Camp Benefits Told

LONG BEACH, March 7.—Work of the fresh air camp for mothers and children maintained at Redondo Beach by the Salvation Army was made the topic of the main address of the day at the convention of advisory boards of the Orange Belt division of the army, held here today at the Breakers Hotel. The speaker was Brig. James C. Bell, commanding officer of the Los Angeles and South Coast division of the organization. This fresh-air camp is supported by the two divisions, with Brig. Bell in charge.

Outstanding cases were cited by the brigadier of those who have been cared for at the camp. Among those mentioned was one woman whose name was a household word on Broadway nearly half a century ago, but who, in her old age, has found herself without funds, awaiting the settlement of an estate, and who has found the Salvation Army her real friend.

"Three months in the year this camp is devoted to mothers and children who are taken from the downtown districts of the metropolis and given an outing," Brig. Bell said. "But during the other nine months it is used for a convalescent home, where those who are sick receive every treatment, and are speedily restored to health by the healing sea air."

Five hundred and twenty-one convalescents were cared for at the camp last year, and in addition 50,000 meals and 17,000 night's lodgings were given to the people who could not afford to pay for them. This work is sponsored by the Community Welfare Federation of Los

EINSTEIN IDEAS VERIFIED HERE

Southland Savants Validate Theories of German

Michelson, Adams and St. John Supply Proof

Germ of "New" Doctrine Found in Pythagoras

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, March 7.—The Einstein theory is understandable by any youth who has completed a four-year science course in a university and there is no truth in the assertion, falsely attributed to Einstein, that there are only twelve minds extant capable of comprehending the theory.

This was the declaration tonight of Dr. Eric T. Bell, professor of mathematics at the California Institute of Technology, who delivered the weekly public science lecture in the Norman Bridge Laboratory of Physics.

HE DIDN'T SAY IT

"Einstein never has said that not more than twelve living scientists could comprehend his theories, but it is true that there are less than a dozen men capable of contributing to Einstein's work," asserted the mathematician.

"Without the verifications of Southern California scientists, however, Einstein's theory would be no better than a wild hypothesis.

"The result of Einstein's special theory of relativity that it is impossible to think physically about space and time independently, and his general theory which made possible the discovery of natural laws that are independent of the observer caused the scientist to make three predictions which California scientists have helped verify.

DISCREPANCY FORMED

"The first prediction removed an outstanding discrepancy in the motion of the planet Mercury, which had puzzled astronomers for nearly a century.

"The second predicted that a ray of light passing near a massive body would be deflected by an amount which could be calculated exactly, and the third foretold an unexpected shifting of the lines in the spectrum toward the red end when that light issues from the sun or other massive body.

"That these purely physical consequences, the last two wholly unsuspected, should be the product of a simple principle expressed mathematically is one of the most remarkable facts in the history of science and in 2000 years of mathematical evolution.

PROVES THEORY

"Dr. Charles St. John of the Mt. Wilson Observatory proved after years of exacting work that the red shift in the spectrum exists in the amount predicted by Einstein. Dr. Walter S. Adams, director of the Mt. Wilson Observatory, in one of the most beautiful co-ordinations of physics and astronomy ever made, clinched this verification by studying the light from the companion star to Sirius that has a density 50,000 times that of water.

"The famous experiment by which Dr. Albert A. Michelson proved in 1887 that there is no such thing as an ether drift was given a new dress by Dr. R. J. Kennedy of the California Institute.

"From Northern California came what is regarded as the conclusive verification of the deflection of light passing near the sun or other body, by President W. W. Campbell of the University of California and his associates."

BACK TO PYTHAGORAS

Dr. Bell traced the roots of the Einstein theory back to 500 B.C., when Pythagoras proved his theorem about the square on the longest side of a right triangle. The next important step was the perception that space is curved and not flat.

"The Nineteenth Century physicists filled space with dozens of contradictory media, each of which they called the ether. Michelson proved that ether, in this sense, does not exist, but it was not until 1905 that young Einstein had the courage to pitch the ether overboard and see what he could do without it."

Court Delays Getting Worse, Jurists Learn

Delay between the time of the filing of a civil suit and the inception of the suit has increased one month in the last two years because of increased congestion in the calendar, it was declared yesterday at a joint meeting of the Judicial Council and the State Bar Advisory Committee.

Superior Judge Hollzer pointed out that in 1928 about three months was the penalty exacted by congestion. Now, however, he asserted, four months pass, on an average, between filings of suits and trials.

Speeding up of court procedure was one of the main topics considered at the meeting. Other subjects discussed included admissions before trial, summary judgment, findings, revision of appellate practice, regulating trial calendars by rule, regulating procedure of Municipal Court by rule and simplifying the method of determining population of judicial townships.

Report on Code Expected Today

Progress in the direction of revision and recodification of California laws is expected to be disclosed at a meeting of the California Code Commission today in the Governor's office in the Associated Realty Building, with Thomas C. Ridgway acting as chairman.

James H. Deering of Deering's General Laws, and E. S. Green of Green's California Digest, both widely known for authorship of law books and compilations, are expected to present contrary views on code revision. Deering favors revision according to subjects and Green would retain a system of codification such as is now in use.

SLAYER OF WIFE TAKEN TO PRISON

Bolton Leaves to Begin Serving Life Sentence in San Quentin

John Dewey Bolton, Jr., 26 years of age, convicted wife murderer, was taken north last night to begin serving a life sentence in San Quentin penitentiary. Seven other convicted felons also were transported to the prison. The party is scheduled to arrive there some time this morning.

Bolton was found guilty of fatally shooting his bride of a few months, Lucille, 20, a dancer, last November while in an automobile on the highway near Topanga Canyon.

Application of Bolton for a writ of probable cause, permitting him to remain in the County Jail pending a decision on an appeal, was denied yesterday by the District Court of Appeal.

Bolton had requested a stay of execution in the Superior Court. His petition was denied, the court holding that it had no jurisdiction. Bolton then carried his fight to the Appellate Court.

The appellant declared that he had made a change in his counsel and that it was necessary for him to remain in Los Angeles to confer with his attorneys on details of his appeal.

The high temperature yesterday was 68 deg. and the low, 50 deg. with the maximum amount of sunshine.

BELL CAMPAIGN TO BE VIGOROUS

Defense Association Outlines City-wide Plans

Mayor and Council Asked to Set Election May 20

Effort Made to Spare Cost of Special Balloting

Outlining a strenuous city-wide campaign in the referendum election which will be held on the Bell cement-quarry permits, the Home Zone Defense Association at a meeting last night at 130 South Broadway made arrangements to push the campaign to the limit. At the same time it was announced that a petition has been placed before the Mayor and City Council agreeing that if the Council sets the Bell ordinance election for May 20, at which time the citizens will vote on the water bonds, a mandamus proceedings will not be instituted.

"Here is a chance to save the taxpayers some money," said Thorwald Siegfried, attorney for the association, last night. "We now are away above the necessary number of signatures, and can easily obtain the 37,000 necessary to call a special election. However, if we are given immediate action at the polls the mandatory petition will not be filed.

PETITIONS READY

"This association is about to file referendary petitions upon the Bell cement rock quarry, crushing and grinding ordinances permitting delivery of crushed rock, dynamite and powder in trucks over Beverly Boulevard and streets of the city," the petition reads.

"We note that you are calling an election on the water-bond issue for May 20, 1930. While we are in a position to obtain and file a sufficient number of signatures to require you to call a special election on this issue, still if you will agree to permit the question to be presented to the people when the water bond election is held, we will refrain from filing such a large number of signatures as to put the city to the expense of an election on this issue.

"CITY IN TURMOIL"

"The necessity of obtaining such an agreement from you or of filing the larger petition requiring a special election is that the whole city is in a turmoil over this rock-quarry outrage and our citizens and property owners are being badly hurt. If we are required to wait for a decision in 1931 most of us would suffer a tremendous loss. This thing must be disposed of by the people at once."

The petition was signed by E. F. Leonard, Arthur A. Weber, George W. Ley, C. M. Conant and Thorwald Siegfried.

REALTY MAN ROBBED BY DRUNKEN BANDITS

Two drunken young bandits yesterday afternoon held up A. K. Johnson, real-estate dealer, in his office at 3618 South Hoover street. Intimidating Johnson with their pistols, they robbed him of a diamond ring valued at $225 and $10 in cash, and drove off in a car.

NORTHCOTT REPLY FILED

High Court Gets State's Argument Why Conviction of Boys' Slayer Should Stand

Denying the contentions of Gordon Stewart Northcott, appealing from a Superior Court conviction of first-degree murder on three counts, the State yesterday filed with the Supreme Court an answer to the convicted youth's opening brief.

Northcott's principal contention that he had been denied the constitutional guarantee of competent legal representation was met with the reply that the defendant had refused the counsel of attorneys appointed to represent him and had insisted upon conducting his own case.

Atty.-Gen. Webb and Deputies Richer and Flynn, for the State, asserted there had been no error in the denial to permit the addition of the plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity," that there had been no error in denying the appellant's motion for a sanity trial that there had been no error in denying a motion for a continuance, nor in denying Northcott's challenge to the special venire.

Court errors also were denied.

Woman Given $1600 Damages

One black eye and a bruised ankle are worth $1600, in the opinion of a jury that yesterday awarded this amount to Mrs. Florence Threlkeld in her suit against R. S. Minamato, Japanese groceryman at Hawthorne, for asserted injuries she received in a fistic encounter with the merchant on March 31, 1929.

The suit was heard by Superior Judge Edmonds.

Minamato demanded she pay a bill contracted by her former husband, and when she refused, he attacked her, she said.

MRS. SARAH E. HAHN FUNERAL CONDUCTED

Funeral rites for Mrs. Sarah E. Hahn, pioneer resident of Los Angeles, were conducted yesterday at the W. A. Brown chapel, 1815 South Flower street, followed by interment in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mrs. Hahn, who was 63 years of age, had resided in Los Angeles since 1874. Her home was at 1049 North Normandie avenue. She leaves her husband, Edward Hahn, and a son Arthur Hahn.

Do you realize what improvements have taken place in Long Distance Telephone Service?

Have you noticed how much faster inter-city connections are now made? How much clearer voices sound? How much more easily other people hear you?

Have you noticed how seldom you are requested to hang up and wait for the connection to be made? In 97% of the cases, inter-city calls are now completed while the calling person remains at the instrument.

In the past two years, we have cut in half the average time for making inter-city connections, and the reduction is continuing.

Do you know that both time and money are saved by telephoning "station-to-station"?—which means asking for connection with a certain number, instead of specifying a particular person.

The "person-to-person" method of placing inter-city calls is still used when you are not reasonably sure that the called person is conveniently available. But the quicker, more economical "station-to-station" method is increasingly popular.

Lower rates prevail for calls to certain points in the evening. The front pages of your telephone directory contain much practical information about inter-city service.

Regatta Broadcast Planned by Don Lee Station

Tug With Short-Wave Outfit to Follow Racers

Army Band Radio Concert Slated for Today

The Times Forum, KHJ, 1:30 p.m.: Miss Peggy Hamilton, fashion authority. World-wide news at 12:30; 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Featuring the Southern California national midwinter regatta, KHJ, the Don Lee station, will attempt the daily broadcast of the event from the 13th to 19th inst., inclusive. The white-winged wave skimmers will be followed daily by a tug equipped with a short-wave transmitter, and a running-fire description of the races, from start to finish, will be broadcast on the Don Lee chain of California.

The announcers will wear water wings, according to Dick Creedon, feature director of KHJ. "We do not doubt but that some of our radio spielers will have need of them," continued Mr. Creedon.

UNUSUAL INTEREST

Many will recall the successful broadcast of the channel swim between Catalina and the mainland and it is believed that this broadcast of the regatta will prove as exciting. Unusual interest is being shown in this national event, and the Atlantic Coast is sending some of its saltiest sons to the Pacific to wrestle wind and wave for yachting supremacy. The King of Spain Trophy is one of the prizes at stake.

The regatta is to be held under the auspices of the Civic Regatta Association. Six bulletins daily will be heard over the Don Lee chain during the event—1:05 p.m., 1:25 p.m., 3 p.m., 3:20 p.m., 4:25 and 4:45 p.m.

KHJ, at 8 p.m., will start the morning off with militant and concert airs, when the Army Band will be heard from the War College at Washington. At 4 p.m., the principal motives from Verdi's opera "Rigoletto" will form the feature of the Bernhard Levitow concert to be heard over the C.B.S. network. At 3:30 p.m. Vincent Richards, tennis star, will speak as guest of Ted Husing, during the Sportslants period. Husing will give a weekly summary of sports events with comment. At 7 o'clock tonight, Jeannette MacDonald, a principal in "The Vagabond King," will sing during the Paramount hour. Most of the Paramount hour entertainment, will originate in the New York studios of the Columbia Broadcasting System. At 9 tonight Charlie Wellman's "Chasin' the Blues" is guaranteed to be something bigger, better and hotter than ever before. It is said it will be the feature of the day.

EDUCATORS TO SPEAK

KFI, at 9:45 a.m., will present on national network a talk by President Edwards of the Rhode Island State College. Dean A. R. Mann of the college of agriculture, Cornell University, also will talk on "Where Science and Practice Meet in Agriculture." At 6 p.m., Walter Damrosch and orchestra will play Beethoven's Fifth Symphony. An additional feature on this program will be a talk by Floyd Gibbons, author, about the lights of Hollywood.

KECA, at 8 o'clock tonight, will broadcast the second game of the Pacific Coast championship basketball series between U.S.C. and Washington.

KFWB, at 2:15 p.m., will broadcast the first of twenty-two exhibition games played before the opening of the Pacific Coast Baseball League season.

KNX, at 2:30 p.m., will play a recording of the opera "Manon," by Massenet.

Johnny Downs, "The All-American Boy," and once leading juvenile of Hal Roach's "Our Gang," will be heard over KFI and the National Broadcasting Company network at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

Soccer Teams Will Hook Up

City League soccer football clubs tangle in four games tomorrow afternoon, all of which will have an important bearing on the tight battle for the second place in league standings. The powerful Hollywood Sheiks have again clinched first-place honors, but exceptional interest is being shown in the bitter fight for the runner-up position. The Magyars, Vikings, L.A.A.C., and Pasadena A.C.C., all are in the second-place money now.

In tomorrow's games all the above teams aside from the Mercuries, will be seen in action. The downtown clubmen leave tonight for San Francisco where tomorrow they meet the Rovers in a quarter-final State cup tie game. Pasadena A.C. C., a fast-coming team, meets Richfield in the opening Loyola Field game tomorrow at 1 o'clock, and should win. The second local game pits Hollywood against the Sons of St. George.

At Tournament Park, Pasadena, the Magyars battle the Scottish Highlanders in the 1 o'clock opener and the Vikings face the Spanish-Americans in the afterpiece.

Campbell May Box Emanuel

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7. (AP) Frankie Campbell, hard-punching San Francisco heavyweight, will meet either Les Kennedy or Armand Emanuel in a ten-round bout at Los Angeles the 25th inst., his handler, Tom Maloney, announced here today.

Efforts to match Campbell and Kennedy have been under way for several months as they have been winning regularly in Los Angeles rings and each has a large following in that section. The bout, featuring either Kennedy or Emanuel, will be held in the Olympic Auditorium, Maloney having come to terms today by telephone with Wad Wadhams, matchmaker.

Forty Enter Legion Race

Racing fans are getting ready for a big time tomorrow afternoon at the American Legion Speedway when dirt-track pilots from all sections of the country will compete in the 100-lap sweepstakes and four sprint races which will comprise the most elaborate program Dr. Fred Loring and his Legionnaires have attempted this year. Forty cars and drivers have been enrolled, according to Roy Tuttle of the A.A.A.

There has been so much activity in the racing colony here during the past week that even the drivers and car owners, themselves, have had trouble keeping track of developments.

Walt May, local youngster and winner two weeks ago, made such an impression on Bill White, the Hollywood financier, that White has given May one of his $12,000 Miller Specials to throttle tomorrow. The other member of the White team is "Shorty" Cantion of Detroit.

Phil Pardee, the former Poly High football playyr and a promising speed king, has taken over the Redlands Special, owned by Eddie Meyer and has been receiving lessons in "big league" driving from Louie Meyer, the champion, who is Eddie's brother.

BEAR BOXERS TO BATTLE WOLVES

BERKELEY, March 7. (Exclusive) Fresh from their decisive victory over Stanford University, ten University of California boxers will entrain tonight with Coach Stanley Jones for University of Nevada. The Wolves evidently are strong this season to judge from their defeat of both Stanford and the California Aggies. Although Jones has not named the entire delegation of flatic artists, those men who will in all probability make the trip include the following: Capt. Dwight Gribbon, Jim McDonald, Wilbur Kindig, Red Hargraves, George Garner, B. F. Robinson, George Sherwood, John Jan and Earl Stevens.

JUGO-SLAVIAN MINISTER FINDS STATE LIKE HOME

Here on his first visit to California, Dr. Leonidas Pitamic, Jugo-Slavian Minister to the United States, who arrived last night from San Francisco, said that he is finding the scenic vistas of the State inexpressibly charming, especially since they are reminiscent of the southern portion of his own country.

Not only is the scenery of this State similar to that of Southern Jugo-Slavia, he said, but the two regions have much the same sort of climate and the resemblance is furthered by the fact that among the chief crops of Southern Jugo-Slavia are citrus fruits and figs. On that account, he added, he is observing agricultural methods in this State in the course of his present visit.

Although members of the local Jugo-Slavian colony have said they will ask Dr. Pitamic to recommend the establishment of a Jugo-Slavian consulate in this city, he said his visit was not made for the purpose of determining the advisability of that step. He said he merely wished to see California and to meet the great number of citizens of Jugo-Slavian extraction in the State, among whom are numerous families which have been here more than half a century. As to the consulate, he said his official position forbade his speaking about the subject.

The minister, who was formerly professor of constitutional law, international law and the philosophy of law at the State University of Jugo-Slavia at Lubiana, and three times was a substitute delegate to League of Nations assemblies, is looking forward with keen interest, he said, to meeting President Von KleinSmid of the University of Southern California today at a celebration of the birthday of Masaryk, first President of the Czecho-Slovak republic, at the Friday Morning Club.

In addition to attending this event, an active program has been outlined for him. For the rest of the day he will be the guest of the Chamber of Commerce, which will conduct him to various points of interest in the city, and tonight he will be the guest of honor of the Jugo-Slavian colony at a reception at Serbian Hall.

Tomorrow he will attend services at St. Anthony's Church, whose parishioners number many of his countrymen, and then he will go to San Pedro to inspect the fishing industry there, for 90 per cent of the fishing fleet is owned by Jugo-Slavians and they also own the two largest canneries there. Then he will be taken to Catalina where, he said, he hopes to have a swim in the Pacific.

On Monday he will be taken on a tour of the citrus country and he intends to leave for Washington either that night or the next day. In connection with his tour of the Southland's agricultural region, he said that he has been agreeably surprised to note the success a great number of Jugo-Slavians are having as ranchers in the Santa Clara Valley, which he had toured on his way to this city.

Funeral Service for C.H. Morse Will be Monday

ALTADENA, March 7.—Funeral services for Charles H. Morse, vice-president of the Pasadena Board of Education, who died here last night at his home, 3391 North Marengo avenue, following a long illness, will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in the Ives and Warren Company chapel, Pasadena. Knights Templar will conduct the services for their fellow-member.

Morse was a graduate of the Massachusetts State Normal School and studied electrical engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. After serving as city electrician of Cambridge, Mass., he served for more than thirty years as consulting engineer for a New England public service corporation.

He was a member of the First Congregational Church of East Derry, N. H., and was a past commander of the Cambridge Commandery of Knights Templar. Morse was 69 years of age and had resided in this community for nineteen years.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Kate B. Morse, he leaves two children, Barnard A. Morse, California Institute of Technology student, and Mary Morse, a student at Pasadena Junior College. His mother, who is 97 years of age, resides in East Derry, N. H., where Mr. Morse was born.

BUCCANEERS HAVE CHANCE TO SCORE

Brunson and Dr. Harry H. Wilson will carry the brunt of the Buccaneers' attack, while Uplifters look to T. Lyell Puckett and Lionel Pedley to keep their score total up to the desired level.

THE VERSATILE PARSNIP

During the months when fresh vegetables are scarce, a dish of buttered parsnips served hot and steaming often makes an appreciated change. Parsnips do not appeal to everyone, being liked by some and exceedingly disliked by others, but everyone can learn to like them.

This vegetable has found itself put into many strange uses in the course of its historical career. Starting out in Asia and Europe as a wild plant, we find it was well cultivated by the time of the Romans, the variety and the size of the root being greatly enhanced. This vegetable was thought of so highly that it was pictured on the frescoes of historical Pompeii.

It seems as though when human beings ran out of other things they bent the parsnip to their will and used it as a perpetual substitute. It has, for instance, in time of stress been used for flour, although parsnip bread might seem strange to us. In Europe it is often used instead of hay for feeding cattle. The roots have been dried, ground and baked and used as a coffee substitute. In Europe the roots of this versatile plant obligingly furnish a wine which is said to be very good. A liquor can be made which is somewhat similar to Madeira. Can you think of any other vegetable which serves as a bread, cattle food, wine, coffee, liquor or just plain buttered parsnips?

When the parsnip was a very common food for the poorer peasant of Europe, it found its way into the folklore in the statement, "That doesn't butter any parsnips."

People who are suffering from acidosis and underweight are usually starving for potassium. It is an element vitally needed to bring about certain improvement and changes in the body. Besides potash, the vegetable contains good amounts of lime and magnesium, two other valuable elements.

Small parsnips may be used raw in salads, being first washed and scraped with a vegetable brush and then grated. When parsnips are cooked in water, care should be taken not to use too much liquid or some of the valuable mineral elements might be wasted. Here are a few recipes for parsnips which you might find interesting:

Parsnip patties: Boil four or five parsnips and when tender cut in small pieces and mash them. Add a tablespoonful of Melba toast crumbs and one beaten egg. Form into small cakes, place in a baking pan and brown in the oven, turning over as they are browned on one side.

Baked parsnips: Peel, quarter and steam the parsnips after which they should be arranged in a buttered baking pan, seasoned and baked until brown.

Parsnips baked with bacon: Boil some small parsnips, place in a baking dish and over the top lay strips of bacon. The dish is ready when the bacon becomes crisp.

ROCKING IS UNNATURAL METHOD OF PRODUCING SLEEP

Rocking baby to sleep is one of many traditional customs endeared by time. Mothers enjoy it. The tiny little souls seem so helpless and dependent that they enjoy wrapping them in their competent arms and singing them to sleep. If only the mother were to be considered we would encourage it, for we can well understand that rocking is a pleasure to her.

But, first of all, we must consider the baby. Being rocked is an unnatural method of falling asleep. There are many of us who can't sleep on a train no matter how many nights we have to endure it. Many of us can't sleep in a motor car even though we have nothing to do with the driving and our eyes are burning for lack of sleep. We are used to quiet, to absence of motion, and being jounced about stimulates instead of lulls us. Yet we consider we are doing baby a big favor when we start in rocking him until he finally falls asleep from exhaustion or dizziness.

Mothers account for the habit by saying: "Baby was ill and we started it then." How would any of us enjoy being rocked if we were ill? I doubt if baby likes it any better, but he can't voice his protest. Once having started the habit of rocking or pushing the cab or walking the floor, the baby begins to associate these activities with slumber and he can't fall asleep without them. Why should we associate movement with anything as natural as sleep, and which from every standpoint demands reasonable quiet and lack of motion?

We hope that no young mother will allow herself to be persuaded that any baby ever needs to be rocked. No matter how young, he cuddles down and sleeps peacefully if put in his own bed in a quiet room, with fresh air circulating. Having established this good habit, baby will go to sleep ever after by simply being put down.

We have always felt that it is the overly concientious mother who cultivates poor sleeping habits in her baby. She starts by furnishing him an artificial stimulus, and then follows this up by flying through the night, simply because they do not have so much attention. If a small baby cries out, it may be only necessary to change his position, offer him a swallow or two of warm water and leave him alone. In a few minutes he will settle down to three or four hours more of slumber. If he is changed, chilled, thoroughly awakened and fed several times at night, he acquires the habit of waking for these attentions.

If the baby sleeps in his own bed, as he always should, and far enough away from the mother so she is not able to hear every slight whimper, she will be amazed to discover that he is sleeping all night. Ask any mother who has successfully accomplished this seeming miracle and she'll tell you that less attention inspires better sleeping habits.

FARMER BROWN'S BOY FINDS A PRIZE

Who knows just how to use his eyes
Will seldom lack for a surprise.
—Farmer Brown's Boy.

Farmer Brown's Boy, with Bowser the Hound and Flip the Terrier, was out for a walk. He had gone through the Old Orchard to the edge of the Green Forest and then had turned to follow the edge of the Green Forest, keeping just outside of it. Now, right along the edge of the Green Forest grew bushes of various kinds, some of them quite tall. In places there were bramble tangles. In other places young trees thrust their way up through the bushes. You know it was really the Green Forest trying to work its way out onto the Green Meadows.

The eyes of Farmer Brown's Boy are sharp. Not only are they sharp, but he has learned how to use them. He knows how to see things. He knows what to look for and where to look. So there is not a great deal that he misses. He knew that in those bushes he might find the cocoons of certain big moths. So as he went along he kept a sharp eye out for these cocoons. On a young wild cherry tree he found a number. They looked like rolled, dried leaves.

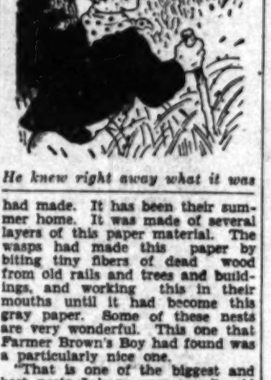
So it was that presently ahead of him he noticed a big, gray object in one of the bushes. It seemed to be just a little higher than his head. It was just the color of the old fence rails. He knew right away what it was. He remembered that last summer he had seen it there when he was looking for bird nests, but that it had been very small then. He had not been over that way—that is, not at that particular place—since last summer, and so he had forgotten all about this thing.

"My goodness!" exclaimed Farmer Brown's Boy. "Those bald-faced hornets certainly did build a big nest. I must have a look at that."

Now, hornets are really wasps, you know, and this nest toward which Farmer Brown's Boy was hurrying was like a great, gray globe made of a sort of gray paper, which the wasps themselves had made. It has been their summer home. It was made of several layers of this paper material. The wasps had made this paper by biting tiny fibers of dead wood from old rails and trees and buildings, and working this in their mouths until it had become this gray paper. Some of these nests are very wonderful. This one that Farmer Brown's Boy had found was a particularly nice one.

"That is one of the biggest and best nests I have ever seen," said Farmer Borwn's Boy talking to Bowser the Hound and Flip. "There must have been a lot of hornets in it last summer. Yes, siree, there must have been a lot of them! But they are not there now. Most of them die when cold weather comes and those that do not die hide away in cracks and crevices and in buildings to spend the winter. Then when spring comes each one starts a new colony. That's what makes it safe to take one of these big paper castles into the house. This one is a dandy and I'm going to take it home."

Farmer Brown's Boy got out his knife and opened it. Then he cut the branch to which this big, gray nest was fastened. And as he cut it something happened.



He knew right away what it was

The Howard Blanchard trophy will be at stake for the second time this afternoon on the Clover Field course at Santa Monica, when junior tennis players in the bay district play their opening matches in the semiannual tournament.

Jay Cohn, national boys' singles and doubles champion, will defend the trophy he won last October. F. Lee Smith has received a number of entries for the tourney, and the event promises to produce some fine matches.

Matches through the semifinals will be played today, with the finals scheduled for tomorrow. As an added attraction, girls' teams representing Santa Monica and Long Beach will play tomorrow. Four singles and two doubles matches will be played in addition to the final match for the Blanchard trophy. Today's schedule:

11 a.m.—Jay Cohn vs. Spud Myers; Don Dana vs. Jack Creamer; Stanley Martin vs. Fred Dodge; Leonard Patterson vs. Bill McLean; Bill Fassett vs. Jimmie Ware.

Local alumni of Delta Kappa Epsilon last night had their annual banquet in the University Club, with representatives of nearly 100 colleges attending. Gurney E. Newlin was toastmaster, and Fred Bixby of Long Beach was speaker of the evening, the occasion being the eighty-sixth anniversary of the fraternity's founding.

New officers were elected as follows: Harold Janss, president; H. C. Pugh, vice-president; Edward T. Parker, secretary-treasurer, and S. C. Haver, Jr., Harold G. Ferguson, Caroll Magenheimer and Tom Ellsworth, directors.

Three Cases of Usury Dropped

Dismissal of charges against Arthur I. Katz, Phillip Grossman and Simon Lifpitz, three of the so-called Julian usury defendants, was ordered by Municipal Judge Pope yesterday. The dismissal was in conformity with the State Supreme Court decision in the case of the People vs. Harris, which forbade further action against the defendant on the ground that he had not been granted a speedy trial.

The remaining Julian usury cases, according to Judge Pope, will be dismissed as they come before him for trial.

LION BALL SQUAD PLAYS DENTISTS

This afternoon the Loyola University baseball team, coached by Frank Shellenback, will meet the U.S.C. dental college on the Loyola Venice Boulevard diamond. Frank Kelly, Shellenback's star pitcher, will face the Trojans with Johnny Moore scheduled to be on the receiving end. Shellenback's team has met with unusual success during the past month, having played in the neighborhood of twenty games and losing only two. Today is Frank's last day with the Lions, he being compelled to leave for San Diego to start practice with the Hollywood Stars. Joe Donahoe, basketball coach, will take over the duties then.

MERCURY SOCCER MEN OFF TONIGHT

The advance guard of L.A.A.C. soccer players leaves tonight for San Francisco where on Sunday the Mercuries meet the Rovers in the quarter-final round of the California Cup tie series. Joe Koelmel, goalie, and Ernie Howarth, forward, leave tonight. The balance of the team follows tomorrow accompanied by Manager Kozma. Hollywood, the other team from Southern California in the State running, meets the Olympic Club the 23rd inst.

CENSUS ORDER CHANGED

Under last-minute instructions from the Census Bureau at Washington all persons who wish to be considered for the enumerator positions should return their completed application papers to the census supervisor of the district in which they live, instead of to the director of the census at Washington as was required under previous instructions. Announcement to this effect was made last night.

AMBITIOUS PORT PROGRAM AFOOT

Joint Sanitation and Health Drive Projected

Co-operation of Four Harbor Bureaus Proposed

New Ordinance to Make Plan Obligatory Sought

BY WALDO DRAKE

A joint program to make Los Angeles Harbor the cleanest, healthiest and most sanitary port in the world is being formulated by the Harbor Department, the Department of Health, the Department of Building and Safety and the Fire Department.

Dan C. Powell, Health Department supervisor for the port area, as originator of the plan, will have general charge of preliminary work. Upon completion of the joint plan the City Council will be asked to pass a new ordinance, obligating all city departments interested in harbor administration to observe its provisions in all future construction, maintenance and operation.

"No rat or epidemic of any sort will have the slightest chance of gaining a foothold in the harbor area with adoption of this program," said Mr. Powell. "Success of the plan will be easy at this time, with the port in midst of its development period, but if we permit its growth to go on in haphazard fashion it will soon be beyond our control.

"The first and most important point is that we must insist on all future structures being built with concrete, rat-proof foundations and floors and that all sewage be handled in modern fashion. All of the flimsy shacks and houseboats along out-of-the-way channels now occupied by squatters must be torn down and there must be a uniform practice in handling bulk edibles, such as copra, fruit and vegetables, and disposal of fish refuse."

Port Manager Burt Edwards explained that the Harbor Department already has under way a comprehensive program of its own for port sanitation and complete rat-proofing of port facilities, which will coincide with that outlined by Mr. Powell.

WESTBOUND TRAFFIC INTERCOASTAL GAINING

Intercoastal westbound commerce is on the upward trend, according to Thomas G. Widemyre, coast representative of the Westbound Intercoastal Steamship Conference, who arrived from San Francisco yesterday for a three-day conference with local shipping men.

"The number of bills of lading are increasing materially and shipments are increasing accordingly," he said, adding that he found surprisingly few difficulties or problems among shipping men or shippers at Los Angeles. He will return north today.

Site for a base at Los Angeles Harbor is being sought of the Harbor Department by Capt. W. H. Rhodes, district superintendent of the Lighthouse Service, down yesterday from San Francisco. He would base one ship, possibly a new one, and maintain half a dozen mechanics here. Sites suggested are Berth 56 in the outer harbor and a strip near the Harbor Department's supply yards in Wilmington. Capt. Rhodes will inspect work on new lights at Long Beach Harbor before he returns north.

Comprehensive studies on a bridge, a tube or better ferry service between San Pedro and Terminal Island will be examined by an intercommunity committee at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce Building at 3:30 p.m. the 11th inst. The committee, appointed last October by the Harbor Commission, comprises Chairman Leslie C. Mott, president of the San Pedro chamber; Shannon Crandall, former president of Los Angeles chamber; Paul Eubank, Wilmington chamber; George Nicholson, port engineer, and Murray Butler of the City Engineer's staff.

Lassco's flagship City of Los Angeles will take 150 cabin passengers out to Honolulu at noon today, together with 3000 tons of California freight, including citrus fruits, machinery, automobiles and building products.

Notables among her passengers include E. D. Stair, publisher of the Detroit Free Press, with his son; Ralf Walker, president of Walker's Fifth Street Store, with Mrs. Walker and party of six friends; A. J. Bean, financial editor of the Boston Post, with Mrs. Bean; K. B. Miller, Pittsfield (Mass.) newspaper publisher, with his wife and sister-in-law, and Emil Strauss of New York, with Mrs. Strauss.

The Lassco cabin liner Calawaii, with 338 passengers, will arrive from Honolulu tomorrow, bringing also a cargo of island products, including bagasse, koa logs, canned pineapples and honey.

David Arnott, chief surveyor of the American Bureau of Shipping, from New York, visited the port yesterday with Frank Evers, American Bureau representative at San Francisco. On a tour of the port and local shipyards they were the guests of Harry J. Summers, principal surveyor in Southern California for the American Bureau of Shipping.
